POLES ORGANIZING BANDS OF LITHUANIANS IN VILNA

But Premier Waldemaras, on Way to Ask League's Aid, Says He Fears No Refugee Uprising

(Copyright, 1927, by Chicago Tribune)

BERLIN, Dec. 3. (Exclusive)—Marshal Josef Pilsudski's official newspaper admits today that the Poles are organizing Lithuanian bands in Vilna. It published on the front page a photograph of the Lithuanian captain, Majus, leader of the Tauragienis revolt, who, according to Marshal Pilsudski's organ, "is to head the Lithuanian emigrants assembled in Vilna."

Capt. Majus was wounded recently and has been hiding in a farm house until he became well enough to flee to Poland. The Lithuanian refugee chiefs, J. Plechaitis and M. Poplauskas, will work with him in Vilna.

However, the Polish Foreign Office has taken up the cudgels for the refugees. "We do not fear the bands of refugees or an uprising," Premier Waldemaras said today.

ROUGH GOING IN AIR BALKS FLIGHT TEST

Bay City Distance Flies Forced to Jetison Fuel to Save Themselves

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 3. (AP)—A rough air currents over the sea and bay adjacent to San Francisco today forced the two biplanes of Capt. Charles E. Smith and Lieut. George W. Ford, United States pilots, to quit their endurance flight after they started from Mills Field, two hours and nineteen minutes after they started from Mills Field. They had hoped to stay aloft 24 hours.

The flyers reported that wind conditions they encountered were dangerous out over the ocean that they feared their plane, carrying 100 gallons of gasoline, would go into a spin. They experienced difficulty controlling the craft, they declared, while about forty miles off the Golden Gate, near the Farallones Islands, an oncoming fog bank of gasoline lightened the load and returned to their field.

THAW ON WAY TO HOLLYWOOD

Slayer of Stanford White Brings Two Beautiful Girls to Play in Moving Picture for Which He Will Be "Angel" and Producer

CHICAGO, Dec. 3. (Exclusive)—Harry K. Thaw, millionaire slayer of Stanford White, arrived in Chicago today with two beautiful girls. He came in the role of a moving-picture magnate.

The girls are Anita Rivers and Susan Hughes, selected after exhaustive contests. Thaw said, and who are to star in the pictures of Kenilworth Productions, of which Thaw is the financial backer.

Also in the party, which stopped at the Drake Hotel for several hours before leaving for Hollywood, were Miss Rivers' mother, Mrs. Maude Rivers of New York, and her brother, 5 years of age.

Thaw will order if back if it is adventures into Lithuania.

"Your President Wilson created the League of Nations to prevent war and protect small nations," Premier Waldemaras continued. "That is why I am going to Geneva."

The dictator, his watery blue eyes in strong contrast with the force of his speech, went on to say in a matter-of-fact manner:

"It will be difficult to find a solution for the Polish-Lithuanian dispute. The Polish-Lithuanian agreement immediately. Only partial, small, step-by-step progress is possible, but we Lithuanians are optimistic and patient."

In particular, there was a miner of the Yukon, Tom Leamore, who, along with this George Dupuy, banker, Butler, and Father Lavigne, neared himself, beheld the Keratosaurus in his rage, and photographed him when he kicked an avalanche of rocks down the cliff.

Pig-headed, Leamore confided the print to Father Lavigne alone. "To interest some rich and serious European sportsman, I have insisted that those Dawson crooks shall set eyes on it!"

ster," and his Franco-English combination actually decided with a San Francisco banker named Butler that an ostensible shooting trip would quickly extend to the McQueston River in the Yukon, where the Klavak Indians waited around the post of Armstrong Creek until the good Jesuit Father Lavigne should give the word "They come!"

SEEN WHILE RAGING

Here came the first Alaskan story to Europe.

In particular, there was a miner of the Yukon, Tom Leamore, who, along with this George Dupuy, banker, Butler, and Father Lavigne, neared himself, beheld the Keratosaurus in his rage, and photographed him when he kicked an avalanche of rocks down the cliff.

Pig-headed, Leamore confided the print to Father Lavigne alone. "To interest some rich and serious European sportsman, I have insisted that those Dawson crooks shall set eyes on it!"

CARRIED CARIBOU

So, the Duke of Westminster's friends had equally the account of how the monster was seen again, with a caribou in its mouth. In the letter heretofore quoted at the outset, from the trustworthy Jesuit missionary to George Dupuy, after the latter's return to Paris. If the great story is believable, it seems to have finally inclosed the photograph of Leamore!

Letter, photograph and good faith of Dupuy were never doubted in Paris. Three times, the sporting correspondent of the Auto visited the Klondike, and his tale was as follows:

"Butler, the San Francisco banker, buying gold claims in Dawson, met Dupuy at McQueston Post. For a week's hunting. It was July. Taking coffee on the porch of Father Lavigne's, Butler came hurrying to them, much agitated:

"Do you know that there are prehistoric giant flesh-eating lizards alive up here?" were his first words. Dupuy did not laugh, because he saw Father Lavigne listen with sober interest.

"Last night, Grant, myself and the Indians went after three moose," he said. "Suddenly, the male moose let out a bellow, and off they went at breakneck speed. What could it be? At the moose-in, we saw the prodigy! Fresh in the mud was the print of a gigantic body. The belly made a gully four feet deep, fifty feet long, and perhaps twenty feet wide. Four vast feet, nearly two yards across, had made a lot of prints. Horrifying, above all, was a pile of greenish, wine-colored manure, smothered in three cubic yards wide! It was the excrement of no possible living animal—and not produced by the digestion of vegetable matter!"

"Next morning, the priest, Dupuy, Butler and Leamore, went to the tracks, accompanied by the Indians.

MONSTER ARRIVES

"At noon, we had given up expecting anything, when down came suddenly an avalanche of rocks, amid such roaring and snorting that made the earth tremble—and we saw it! A Keratosaurus with the coils is an Apocalyptic sight! The prehistoric thing, black, bulkier than six elephants, anyhow, hunched down the ravine beyond us, sweeping rocks aside like pebbles.

"We stood petrified. The Keratosaurus of the Arctic Circle! babbling Father Lavigne, in full daylight, has seen the Eldest Tower? So, I have seen the monster of Jurassic times! From its hairy belly hung clouds of mud as big as 10-year-old children!"

"No use to shoot lead at such a fellow," said Leamore, as he is asserted to have taken the "nap shot."

BRUTE DISAPPEARS

"To kill it would require high explosive shells," said Leamore, when this story got to Russia and was confirmed by Siberian native hunters. The monster disappeared from Alaska. The Duke of Westminster's combination never got at it.

Appearing soon after in Siberia, it would seem to travel back and forth across Behring.

Today, the Russians believe that the thing takes refuge in its real home—in the hitherto-unknown Siberia. Range of "counties" is just discovered by Orlovsky, official explorer sent into Unknown Siberia by the Soviets.

The Cherski Range, greater in area than the Caucasus, lies between East Siberia and the Pacific Coast adjoining Alaska. And the Keratosaurus is again reported by Siberian natives, just as the Cherski Mountains are discovered!

ORNATE FUNERALS SCORED SMITH DRAWS WOMEN'S FIRE

BOSTON, Dec. 3. (P)—Ornate funerals have come under the disapproval of Cardinal O'Connell, Roman Catholic archbishop of Boston. Gaudy caskets, large floral offerings and other trappings of modern funeral practice are too often linked with neglected prayers and graves, the cardinal holds in a letter published in the current issue of the Pilot, official organ of the archdiocese. It is to be read at all masses tomorrow.

"Some of our Catholic people spend great sums, often entirely out of proportion to their incomes, on elaborate caskets and the profusion of flowers and then bury their deceased only to be quickly forgotten while the flowers decay and with them the remembrance of their dead," the letter says.

"This conduct is un-Christian and a great departure from the simple customs, both of old Christian times and out of the Christian countries of our day."

The Catholic church grants a great privilege to her children in permitting them to be interred in consecrated ground and it is a crying shame for Catholics to bury their relatives in this blessed soil and then forget all about them."

The letter reveals that the cardinal has directed all priests and superintendents of cemeteries to see to it that no monuments or stones be erected in the future on graves for which there has been no provision for perpetual care.

NEW YORK LEAGUE RAPS HIS STATE DRY-LAW STAND
Enactment of Measure for Enforcement Demanded
Delegates Pass Resolution by Overwhelming Vote

ALBANY (N. Y., Dec. 3. (P)—Gov. Smith's declaration that a State prohibition enforcement statute is not necessary was denounced today by the New York State League of Women Voters, which, by an overwhelming vote, adopted a resolution calling for enactment of a State enforcement law.

Only a scant few of the 300 delegates to the league's annual convention rallied behind Mrs. Casper Whitney of Westchester county, who led the opposition to the resolution.

In an address before the convention last night, the Governor, while denying that he favored nullification of the prohibition law, frankly admitted his dislike for it and expressed his belief that a State enforcement law is not necessary.

Both wedded twice before, W. Carroll, aged 91, and Mrs. J. Taylor, aged 75, were married recently in North Fitzroy, Australia.

TREMENDOUS DEFICIT EXPECTED IN MEXICO

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 3. — (P) A deficit of 48,000,000 pesos (roughly $24,000,000) for 1927 is forecast today in the Department of Treasury announcement. The Mexican government, the announcement said, has fulfilled its international obligations, but was compelled to negotiate a loan of $2,000,000 with bankers to cover the debt service in the first semester.

Friends of both Smith and Vare were busy today considering both the methods of procedure and the strengthening of their lines.

There were various rumors about possible reprisals against some other Senators-elect, but those direct-

Paralysis Takes Death Toll in Oregon

Now Believed to be on Wane in State

Closed in Wasco and Meetings Banned

STOCKTON, Dec. 3.—The epidemic of infantile paralysis is believed on the wane in Oregon, new cases are being reported only in small numbers, and the disease has taken a heavy toll of life.

The death toll from the epidemic in Wasco, Sherman county, where Ray Jones, 18 years old, died yesterday. A San Francisco newspaper has been placed in the city and Wasco schools are closed.

The epidemic has been reported in one more week because of new cases of the disease, it was reported that Coquille, near by, had in the quarantine today. HISTORIANS SEEK GRAVE OF EMPEROR

Officially Decided Chokei Was Ninety-eighth Ruler of Japan

TOKIO, Dec. 3.—It is officially decided that the much-disputed Emperor Chokei was the ninety-eighth emperor of Japan, but the exact burial place of the ruler is still somewhat of a mystery and a staff of forty leading historians and archaeologists has been directed by the imperial household department to search for the tomb of the ancient sovereign.

The difficulty is not in locating his mausoleum, but in deciding which of several is the right one. A thorough investigation will be ordered shortly of all mausoleums near Kyoto in the spot suggested as the authentic burial site.

The inclusion of the Emperor Chokei in the list of reigning heads had been doubtful for more than 500 years, owing to the lack of accurate records. It was for that reason that the name was not included until last year. Exhaustive research was conducted for many years before the commission finally agreed that Emperor Chokei was the first son of the Emperor Go-Murakami and was born in 1144. He reigned for fifteen years and abdicated at 41 years of age in favor of his son.

Emperor Chokei also was noted as a poet.

BOY SCOUTS AID SHRINER WORK

San Francisco Master Forms Only Hospital Troop Surgery Supplies Members With Straight Bodies

Crippled Youths Trained to Be Good Citizens

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 3.—At fourteen Shriner hospitals throughout the United States surgical skill is being used to straighten the limbs of crippled boys in the hospital troop. The members of the San Francisco hospital troop are giving the little inmates of the San Francisco charitable institution new physiques, the Boy Scout order is providing them with training designed to develop in them the greatest possibilities of useful citizenship.

Recognition of the Scoutmaster as an ally of the physician and the nurse is due to Frank Marich, Olympic Club athlete, who for fifteen years has been prominent in football, swimming, diving and who once excelled as a bicyclist.

Marich explored the hearts of the crippled boys in the institution and ascertained that they best almost as strongly to become Boy Scouts as they did to get well and return to mother and dad. So he organized the only hospital Boy Scout troop in existence, with a national charter.

The owners of twisted little bodies enter into Scout training with boundless enthusiasm. Between operations, often while reclining with arms, legs or spines in rigid casts, they study their Scout lessons. When physically able they practice what they have learned about building camp fires, tying knots, rendering first aid, using the knife and the ax and saluting the flag. At times they are permitted to whistle or build fires on a tile floor.

STATE PARK BOND VOTES TO BE URGED

Campaign Decided Upon at Meeting of Council Sponsoring Measures

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 3.—A vigorous campaign in support of the $5,000,000 state park bond issue authorized by the Legislature and to come before California voters for ratification next November is to be made by the State Parks Council.

Such action was decided upon yesterday at a meeting of the Council at which support was pledged to the newly appointed State Parks Commissioner, consisting of William E. Colby of San Francisco, President Ray Lyman Wilbur of Stanford University, W. F. Chandler, Fresno; Henry W. O'Malley, Los Angeles; and Frederick R. Burnham, Los Angeles.

The commission will conduct a survey of California state parks and will supervise the expenditure of the $5,000,000 if the voters approve the bond issue for acquisition of additional park lands. The proceeds of the bonds must be matched with an equal amount from private contributions and other outside sources.

The new park commission will have charge of five state parks and ten State monuments and of any additional ones established.

The State Parks Council, which sponsored the measure establishing a park commission and providing for a survey of parks and for the bond issue, is headed by Duncan McDuffie of San Francisco.

LOYD GEORGE STRIKES BACK

Ex-Premier Gives Answer to His Assaults

Silence Broken on Origin of Campaign Fund

"Traffic in Honors" Charges Denied in Statement

LONDON, Dec. 3.—Recent denunciations of Lloyd George, asserting among other things that he "trafficked in honors," have led the wartime Premier to break his silence on the origin and management of the campaign fund which came to be known as the Lloyd George fund.

In a statement to the press Lloyd George says that the fund was collected by the whips of the National Liberal party in exactly the same way as every other political fund for more than a century. Referring to the assertions concerning honors, he says that the honor lists during his Premiership were prepared in the usual way by the chief whips and he did not know who might have subscribed to the fund.

Not one penny of the fund has been touched for his private use, he asserted. He declares that the amount of the fund has been fantastically exaggerated. Most of it, he says, had been derived through the appreciation of certain newspaper properties in which almost all of it was invested until recently. The fact that these papers should have prospered has excited the envy of journalists, he said, and he has been accused of having sold his services during seventeen years in office.

Chile President Weds in Office

SANTIAGO (Chile) Dec. 3.—(AP)—Gen. Ibáñez, President of Chile, was married today to Benita Orsola Letelier Velasco, daughter of Ricardo Letelier, in the first wedding of an executive in office in the history of the country.

Great crowds thronged the streets to watch the procession after the ceremony. Pope Pius sent a benediction to the President through Cardinal Caspari, Papal Secretary of State.

New Crime Rule Will Face Test

REDDING, Dec. 3.—(AP)—The initial test of the State Crime Commission's program to speed up criminal process was foreseen today after L. J. Kennedy, counsel for Charles Hallerman, charged with the murder of Earl Whitlow at Santa Ana, Cal., on November 16, last, entered a demurrer to information filed by Dist. Atty. A. A. From, against Hallerman.

Kennedy contends the information should contain a statement of the facts surrounding and leading up to the crime, and not merely the brief statement of the offense as the new law provides.

RECIPE EXPERTS TEST ALTITUDES

Baking Mixtures

Professor Directs Research

Special Room Provides Way to Vary Elevations

PORT COLLINS (Colo.) Dec. 3. (P)—Just why cake, cookies, bread and other flour mixtures require different proportions of ingredients when baked in high altitudes than when baked nearer sea level has puzzled housewives and bakers for many years.

Cakes that failed because they were mixed by low altitude recipes have brought many frowns and perhaps an occasional tear to mountain housewives.

To solve this puzzle a series of experiments is being completed by experts at Colorado Agricultural College experiment station here. An altitude baking room in the form of a large metal tank installed in one of the laboratories is being used in the experiments. It is equipped with a rotary blower, driven by a variable speed motor by means of which pressure may be produced in the tank corresponding to the atmospheric pressure at elevations ranging from 1000 feet below to 15,000 feet above sea level.

The tank, which is seven feet in diameter and nine feet high, contains an electric range, ice box, and cupboards with sufficient space to allow the worker to carry on baking tests while an attendant outside controls the pressure in the altitude room.

Preliminary baking tests have been

MANITOBA WOMEN TO DRINK BEER IN PRIVATE GARDENS

WINNIPEG (Man.) Dec. 3. (Exclusive)—Women of Manitoba have not been enfranchised to the point where the government will allow them to drink beer in public and as a consequence private beer parlors for ladies will be the vogue when the government measure to permit sale of beer by the glass becomes law.

The government announcement that beer will be sold by the glass has caused an influx of old-time bartenders, to whom the polishing of a newly washed glass was a work of art to be preferred to any other occupation. Hotel keepers have attempted to cope with the rush of applicants by compelling them to sign waiting lists, the first coming getting the pick of the jobs.

The government decision to segregate the women, for drinking purposes, has caused considerable debate as to the style in which the female drinking quarters should be equipped. Some want the drinks served by barmaids in natty uniforms. Others are figuring on elaborate layouts with easy chairs, bridge tables and beauty-parlor features.

The male drinkers have suggested that they be served by the snooty barmaid, whose prototype made English "pubs" famous. They have suggested that the ladies' quarters be fitted with a brass rail, reminiscent of the old days.

The government regulations, pertaining to the about to be inaugurated beer parlors, stipulates that there must be no bar. The sale of beer by the glass will be contingent upon the proprietor providing his patrons with tables around which they may pass a convivial hour.

carried on at elevations of 11,797, 7700 and 5000 feet above sea level, allowing for only one variable—the altitude. The same tests were repeated at sea level by the workers.

At the present time, Mrs. Marjorie Peterson, one of the investigators, says it is impossible to forecast the exact results but she hopes to have definite recipes and conclusions to announce by next spring.

Miss Inga M. K. Allison, professor of home economics at Colorado Agricultural College, is in charge of the experiments and Mrs. Peterson is the specialist who is carrying on the work, with the aid of Miss Alice Gardner, a recent graduate of the college, as assistant.

GILES QUILTS

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 3. (P)—Declaring he was "run down" and "all in," Capt. Frederick Giles, who planned a San Francisco-to-New Zealand flight in the Hess biplane Wanderer, announced late today that he would abandon further attempts to make the flight.

KANSAS OFFERS ALIMONY HAVEN

State Refuge for Spouses
Fleeing From Debt

Governor Refuses to Grant
Extradition Writs

Exception Made in Cases of Dependent Children

TOPEKA (Kan.) Dec. 3. (P)—Wife-deserting husbands may find a refuge in Kansas as long as Gov. Ben S. Paulen is chief executive of the State. A wife who cannot hold a man's love and keep him at home is not entitled to the services of a Sheriff to take him back, the Kansas Governor believes and so he refuses to grant writs of extradition on that charge.

"Of course the man who willfully deserts dependent children is a criminal and deserves to be treated as such," the Governor says. "But investigation has disclosed that most requests for extradition of men on charge of wife desertion are attempts either to compel the payment of alimony or to make possible a reconciliation between the couple. Alimony is only a civil debt. I am a banker and believe all financial obligations should be met, but I don't believe in sending anyone to prison for debt," he continued.

"As for requesting a writ of extradition to enable some woman to make up with her husband, well, that's asking too much. This State keeps out of family quarrels."

Gov. Paulen's policy has the approval of the Attorney General, William A. Smith, who, as the State's chief prosecutor, will not ask the Governor to issue a regulation for the extradition of a wandering Kansas manifestor.

Capt. Beam expects to reach Havana about January 1 after conferences at San Antonio with the two junior officers, who will follow him later to the Cuban capital.

MONKEY FARMS MAKE MONEY

Riviera Establishments Get Trade of Medical Men in Market for Apes

MENTON (France) Dec. 3. (P)—Raising monkeys for the medical market now is an established business on the French and Italian Rivières. In addition to Dr. Serge Voronoff's model monkey farm near his chateau at Menton-Catavan, there are four other establishments breeding the special kind of African ape most highly valued by the medical profession.

A full-grown animal sells from 3000 to 5000 francs and represents a good profit.

husband from some other State unless the offense is child desertion. Kansas, 400 miles wide, 300 miles long and sparsely populated, refuge of fleeing slaves in Civil War days, thus offers sanctuary to what the chief executive feels is another group of "oppressed" humans.

MUSSOLINI GRANTS
FIRST YULE PARDON

BOLOGNA, Dec. 3. (P)—Premier Mussolini, making the first of a promised measure of executive clemency for political offenders to mark Christmas, has given freedom to a printer on the plea of the latter's mother. The aged woman wrote Mussolini that she was in grave danger of dying without seeing her son again. The printer was imprisoned last August for the clandestine production of anti-Fascist tracts and extradition of a wandering Kansas manifestor.

Declares She Was Pointed to as Author

CHICAGO, Dec. 3. (P)—The Chicago society mystery, a suit filed by Mrs. Frank Townley Brown against Mr. and Mrs. B. O. Dahlberg, unfolded today with the declaration that Mrs. Brown asks $200,000 because she was accused of writing "poison pen" letters about the Dahlbergs.

The letters which Mrs. Brown contends Dahlberg and his wife said she wrote, were of a malicious nature. They were sent to newspapers and leaders in social and civic life.

On one occasion, avers Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Dahlberg said to the former, a guest in her home:

"See this thing on my arm. It was given to me by the Spanish king and it means that if there is anyone I want killed he'll have it done for me. My husband has enough money to put you out of the way without your being missed. We both know you sent three letters and others."

—OUR BIRTHDAY 1897 1927

Thirty Years

FOR over a quarter century Locomobile of America has been "Motorcarist" to its majesty, the American public. A roster of Locomobile owners reads like "Who's Who in America." Yes, Locomobile has always kept faith with its customers, friends and admirers. It has never been swept off its feet by quantity production. It knows, as do you, that to build and to build well one cannot cut time in half and still hope to obtain the same results.

ON our thirtieth birthday we issue the same statement that we have issued every year since the birth of our institution and that statement is briefly: We will continue to build the best cars possible, using the finest materials and the most skilled craftsmanship, at a price well within keeping of the finished product.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2. (AP)—Conceding that President Coolidge does not intend to be "smoked out" for renunciation of his Black Hills investment, the bulk of the Republican National Committeemen who are assembling here for next week's meeting to select a convention city are moving more boldly today into discussion among themselves about the availability for the party's Presidential

NEW STATION TO GO ON AIR HERE

"Interchurch, Educational" Broadcast Promised

Methodists Launch Move: Application Awaited

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 3. (Exclusive)—Bernard Linden, acting District Radio Supervisor, was advised today that an endowment of $1,000,000 has been provided for an "intercollegiate, interchurch, educational, civic and patriotic" broadcast station to be erected in Southern California. According to Linden's advice, the movement was launched by the Methodist Episcopal Church, but will be consummated as non-denominational.

If erected, the station will operate on a reported power supply of 50,000 watts, which will make it one of the most powerful in the world. Linden said no formal application has been made yet for a license or call letters.

Rumanian Party Rejects Offer

BUCHAREST, Dec. 3. (P)—The National Peasants' party tonight rejected all conditions proposed by the liberals for the formation of the national cabinet under the presidency of a nonpolitical personage.

The Peasants' party had been asked to define its attitude toward the return of former Crown Prince Carol, but it took the position that this could not be defined without ascertaining the real sentiment of the people and the army toward the deposed prince.

The refusal tonight leaves the Rumanian political situation deadlocked, as it has been since the death of

STAR DISCOVERIES STARTLE

Astronomers Declare Picture of Complete Sky Might Amaze Scientists

BERKELEY (Cal.) Dec. 3. (P)—The wonderful reflecting telescopes which have become available in the last thirty years and the photographic dry-plate have enabled the astronomers to make astounding discoveries about the stars.

The best eyes, unaided by telescopes, are able to count at most 7000 stars in the entire sky. If time could be taken by trained observers to sweep the largest existing telescopes over the whole sky approximately 100,000,000 stars could be noted.

If with our modern reflecting telescopes we were to make long exposure photographs of the complete sky under good conditions, the photographic plates would record the images of at least 3,000,000,000 stars—3,000,000,000 stars.

RADIATION OF STARLIGHT

Our sun, our star, is believed to be appreciably smaller and radiate less light than does the average star of the 3,000,000,000.

It is possible that the number of "stellar images" recorded with long-exposure photographs secured with the 100-inch reflecting telescope of the Mt. Wilson Observatory might even be as large as 30,000,000,000.

I am speaking only of stars within our own galaxy system; the system whose most conspicuous feature is the Milky Way, which all who for a time dwell away from the glare of electric lights have seen and admired.

The stars in our own stellar system do not exist at greater and greater distances indefinitely, but are contained within a volume of space which is somewhat the shape of a relatively very thin watch, or double convex lens. An observer on the earth, situated near the central plane of this lenslike figure, and at some distance from its center, viewing the Milky Way, is looking out through the greatest dimensions of our stellar system in the direction of the edge of the lens figure.

The actual dimensions of our stellar system are still uncertain. According to Shapley, a ray of light, traveling 186,000 miles per second, would require about 900,000 years to travel from a star on one edge of the system, through the center, to a star on the opposite edge of the system. Perhaps a more conservative estimate would be 200,000 light years.

The thickness of the system, using the same time scale, is perhaps one-fifth as great; that is, from 14,000 to 20,000 light years.

The two most interesting of Hubble's group of great spiral nebulae, known as Messier 31 and Messier 33, proved to be slightly more than 900,000 light years away. Knowing the angular diameters of these two objects, it is easy to say that the diameter of Messier 31 is about 48,000 light years, and of Messier 33, 15,000 light years. These are minimum values.

STARS LARGER THAN SUN

Astronomers now hold confidently to the belief that each of these objects contains tens of millions of stars, stars larger on the average than our sun.

It is but a brief step to the general conclusion that the lens of thousands of spiral nebulae are great stellar systems situated at different and enormous distances from us. There appears to be no reason to doubt that many of these objects already recorded upon our photographic plates lie at such stupendous distances that their light rays which are now reaching us left their sources 30,000,000, or 50,000,000 or 100,000,000 years ago.

Our knowledge of the spiral nebula appears to be in harmony with the hypothesis that our stellar system is a spiral nebula and that we are living in a spiral nebula.

BEET GROWERS PROTEST QUOTA

Mountain States Group Wants Mexicans

Declares Proposed Change Works Hardship

Congress Urged to Protect Labor Supply

DENVER, Dec. 3. (Exclusive)—Members of the Mountain States Beet Growers' Marketing Association are vigorously opposing projected changes in the present immigration laws, expected to be introduced at the coming session of Congress, further restricting the immigration of labor from Mexico. Such amendments would virtually prohibit any farm laborers from coming in, the organization believes, adding vastly to the present hardship.

A resolution on the subject, recently passed by the association and sent to Representatives in Congress, reads in part as follows:

NO SOCIAL PROBLEM

"Although we solicit labor annually from distant States, each year we meet new difficulties in hiring a sufficient number of suitable farm workers. During the last five years approximately 50,000 Mexicans have immigrated into the United States per year. This labor has been quickly absorbed and yet the supply of farm labor has been short. In the sugar-beet-raising districts, this Mexican labor has done its work acceptably and their presence has created no social problems of any moment. A large percentage of the workers return to Mexico on completion of the harvest. If their return is prevented, as now proposed, the farm labor shortage would be greatly increased.

"For these reasons this association opposes any legislation placing additional restriction on Mexican immigration. There is an association of agricultural interests which lately convened at El Paso, Tex., having for its purpose the protection in

WORLD WAGE SURVEY MADE

Educator Says American's Higher Income Due Primarily to Better Training

CHICAGO, Dec. 3. (Exclusive)—Wages and salaries in the principal nations of Europe average in purchasing power only a little more than one-third of what they are in the United States, according to R. E. Weeks, president, of Scanton, Pa., speaking at the annual meeting of the National Home Study Council at the Stevens Hotel.

"Taking the purchasing power of the average American at 100, only England and Denmark are half as much rewarded for their labor as are workers in the United States," said Mr. Weeks. "Compared with America at 100, purchasing power of the European countries' earnings are: England, 55; Denmark, 53; Holland, 46; Sweden, 40; France, 38; Germany, 34; Belgium, 32; Italy, 27, and Austria, 26."

"It is indisputable that education in the United States has contributed the major force in making this condition a fact, and correspondingly courses in education, particularly in the vocational field have assisted immeasurably to this result. The figures do not mean that the workers of Europe are starving. They simply exemplify that the American worker is restricted legislation. It also took steps to organize other like associations in various parts of the country to carry on campaign against the proposed restrictions.

NEW RULES FOR PRISON ROAD CAMP

Steps Taken to Prevent Hero Worship and to Cut Cost of Maintenance

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 3. (P)—Bert B. Meek, Director of Public Works, today announced a new set of rules and regulations for the conduct of prison road camps where San Quentin and Folsom convicts work on the highways for a nominal wage.

The first new point Meek announced is that henceforth all news from the prison camps will relate specifically to camp work, and will not give account of any personal activity of the prisoners. This step is taken, Meek says, because the "spotlight" of notoriety interferes with camp discipline and "imbues an attitude of hero-worship on the part of the prisoners toward themselves and also on the part of the public toward them."

Secondly, the Public Works Director, who drafted the original highway labor law, is endeavoring to increase the amount of money that can be saved by the state. The work of the convicts on the road, he points out, is one of the most effective means of rehabilitating them and restoring them to useful status, as a ready supply of money to tide them over a period of unemployment when they first leave the prisons or camps is the best safeguard against the temptation to return to a life of crime.

Under the law the convicts are allowed not to exceed $2.50 a day, from which is deducted all camp maintenance expenses. The Highway Commission has set $2.10 as the maximum wage, and after the expense has been taken out, this in past years has averaged a little less than 30 cents. Meek is endeavoring to decrease the administration expense so that this saving can be increased.

Wedding-Bound Pair Arrested

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 3. (Exclusive)—Arrest and detention instead of a honeymoon was the lot of a prospective bride, 13 years of age, and groom, 22, today. They were Enrique Alba of this city, and Mercedes Castro of Blockton, and they are the victims of the recently enacted marriage license application law.

On November 28, Alba, who gave his age as 22 and Miss Castro, who said she was 18, made application. Several days later, Grant Munson, marriage license clerk, was notified by juvenile authorities that the girl was only 13 and a runaway from Blockton. He was told to hold the couple and turn them over to police should they call for a license. They appeared today and were arrested.

Gibraltar Feat Lures Swimmer

GIBRALTAR, Dec. 3. (Exclusive)—Much interest is being shown here in the plans of Miss Mercedes Gleitze, the London typist who swam the English channel, to cross from North Africa to Spain, a feat which has never been accomplished although the distance is only eight miles.

Miss Gleitze is planning to make the attempt in December. Because of cross currents and swirling eddies it is estimated that Miss Gleitze will have to swim nearly thirty miles before making the goal.

CIGARETTE SETS FIRE IN ST. FRANCIS HOTEL

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 3. (Exclusive)—One hundred persons, mostly guests, were driven from the St. Francis Hotel lobby into the street shortly after noon when a lighted cigarette stub tossed into a waste paper basket ignited the paper and spread to a heavy plush window curtain. The lobby was filled with smoke, but hand apparatus was sufficient to hold the blaze to one corner of the lobby.

COST OF RIVER POWER TRANSMISSION STUDIED

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 3. (P)—A subcommittee of engineers from California, Nevada and Arizona conferred again here today in an attempt to determine the probable cost of transmitting power from Boulder Canyon on the Colorado River to Los Angeles. The meeting has been in progress here during the last week.

Arizona and Nevada engineers were quoted today as saying that power can be obtained from Boulder Canyon cheaply enough to supply the needs of all three States.

Leaders in Washington to Ward Off Tariff

Powerful Interests Oppose Them, They Say

Lid on Importation Also Held in Offing

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3. (P)—Any attempt to restrict the importation of Philippine sugar entering the United States, or to lay a duty on it, will be stoutly resisted by Filipino leaders at present in Washington.

Powerful interests, these leaders asserted today, have begun a movement designed to obtain action in the forthcoming session of Congress to curtail the amount of Philippine sugar imported or to levy an import duty upon it. Should these attempts fail, an effort will be made by the interests to lower the duty on Cuban sugar entering the United States.

Declaring that the tariff laws now discriminated against Philippine industry in favor of American industry, Manuel Quason, President of the Philippine Senate, said that such attempt to regulate Philippine sugar will be "an outrage."

SAECO-VANZETTI ECHO

BOSTON, Dec. 3. (P)—Powerful support of Pittsburgh was today given today of making an address on the Common without a permit in connection with a gathering of Saeco-Vanzetti sympathizers last summer. The jury reported a disagreement on a charge of rioting. Sentence was deferred.

Every mother realizes, after giving her children "California Fig Syrup" that this is their ideal laxative, because they love its pleasant taste and it thoroughly cleanses the tender little stomach, liver and bowels without griping.

When croup, irritable, feverish, or breath is bad, stomach sour, look at the tongue, mother! If coated, give a teaspoonful of this harmless, "Fruity Laxative," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. When the little system is full of cold, throat sore, has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, indigestion, colic—remember, a good "inside cleansing" should always be the first treatment given.

Millions of mothers keep "California Fig Syrup" handy; they know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Fig Syrup," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups printed on the label.

An Orthophonic Victrola gives so much and costs so little

CONSIDER the Victrola as an investment in pleasure . . . not for a single day or week, but for all this year and next year and next . . . in fact, from now on! Think of it as a source of entertainment without limit—a bottomless well of music from which you may draw and drink to your heart's content. On this basis, the cost is trifling.

Look at it this way and you will see the necessity for insisting on an Orthophonic Victrola (or an Electrola, the instrument that amplifies the music electrically). You will be on your guard should anybody try to interest you in "something just as good."

Only with a Victor instrument can you hear the great artists as they want you to hear them—in the true tones of the original performance.

Victor instruments—the recognized leaders in the field of musical reproduction—cost no more than imitations. In no other way can you get so much pleasure for so little money. Insist on Victor NOW and avoid possible regrets later. Look for the Victor name and trade-mark. Be sure—and safe! Order now for Christmas delivery.

RETREAT OF INSURGENTS PREVENTED

Mexican Generals Cut Off in Attempt to Cross Over Into Guatemala

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 3. (AP)—Military Commandante Gen. Juan Aguayo, who has arrived at Puerto Mexico, reports that measures have been taken to prevent the escape of Gen. Almada, Medina and Lucero, who, with a handful of followers connected with the recent Gomez-Serrano revolt, are attempting to reach the Tabasco Mountains.

In the hope of crossing into Guatemala, the rebel group is comprised of eleven men, with burros. A military cordon has been thrown around the region between Comstock and the Tonala River, closing all avenues of escape.

These rebels have enjoyed incredible luck, several times passing less than half a mile from the pursuing Federal columns. Once some Federal soldiers met them on the road, but did not suspect that the burros carried the men for whose capture large contingents have been mobilized.

The relentless pursuit is near an end, a native guide captured by the Federalists reports. He says the fugitives are greatly fatigued and are unable to rest for a single moment in their flight for life. They can hardly keep awake even on horseback.

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 3. (Exclusive)—Francisco J. Bertoni, one of several former generals who joined the late Gen. Arnulfo Gomez in his revolt against the government early in October, was captured in the State of Vera Cruz and executed following a summary court-martial at Minatitlan, according to an official war office communiqué.

War Claim of 1812 Just Paid by Government

TORONTO (Ont.) Dec. 3. (AP)—Settlement of litigation which began 116 years ago was made today with the award of $23,944.38 by the United States government for distribution among the heirs of James Crooks.

The award represented a claim of $2999.25, plus interest for 116 years, for the sinking of the schooner Lord Nelson on the Great Lakes in the War of 1812. Shares in the award are claimed by 128 persons.

Thirteen days after the outbreak of the War of 1812 the Lord Nelson was seized by the American government. Shortly afterward she was sunk while flying the American flag. At the close of the war James Crooks, owner of the vessel, lodged his claim for damages, but repeated delays deferred settlement.

LA FOLLETTE'S CROWD BEATEN

Wisconsin State Committee Conservatives Control

Coolidge Administration Given Indorsement

MADISON (Wis.) Dec. 3. (Exclusive)—For the first time in twenty years conservative Republicans controlled the meeting of the State Republican Central Committee here today and aprang a surprise by indorsing Coolidge and electing conservatives as national committeemen and committeewomen over La Follette.

Manitowish, was elected national committeeman over the Progressive choice, Herman L. Ekern, by a vote of 19 to 18. Mrs. Harry Thomas, Sheboygan, was chosen national committeewoman over the Progressive choice, Mrs. Rose Meyer, Sauk City, by a vote of 20 to 18.

Mrs. Thomas was elected on the first ballot and the first vote given Ekern 16, Frank Kloda, 8, and a new policy may have been considered and adopted with relation to the flood situation.

Disclosure that the $2,000,000 in unallotted river and harbor funds was diverted to leave repair work recalls that the War Department was in a quandary as to how to handle the situation.

ARMY MENTIONED BRIEFLY

The War Secretary discussed the flood situation along the Mississippi at considerable length, but since his report was prepared before the administration project for control of flood waters was matured, it shows no new light on that problem.

Considerable space also was devoted to the Inland Waterways Corporation, the Philippine Islands and other civil aspects of the War Department; but the military side of its work was mentioned only briefly, being left to the report of Maj.-Gen. Sumner, chief of staff.

For the Army itself, Secretary Davis said the major need is a "continued stabilization of policy as to strength, organization and location."

"The insufficiency of our provision for the building up and maintenance of the authorized war reserve of material for two field armies, 1,000,000 men, is a matter of deep concern to this department," he said. "Stagnation in promotion and inadequacy of housing also remain as important questions for solution."

STABILIZATION NEEDED

"However, to my opinion, the all-important present need of the War Department so far as its military activities are concerned is a continued stabilization of policy. The effectiveness of the Army, the morale of the personnel and the productivity of its units for many years after the World War suffered from uncertainties as to strength, organization and location. Under such conditions progress could not be otherwise than slow and somewhat unsatisfactory."

In noting the death of Maj.-Gen. Leonard Wood, Governor-General of the Philippines, Secretary Davis said that never in their history had the government of the islands been "in so satisfactory and promising condition" as today.

"The Philippines of today," he added, "are Gen. Wood's most fitting monument. As we review the record, progress, we must ever retain a mental image of the personality, the patriotism and the untiring zeal of the great administrator. Without such background we can not expect to grasp intelligently the full significance of the gradual but sure development of a great people."

OUTLOOK BRIGHT

"Never have the people of the islands been more prosperous. Never has the outlook for the future been more bright. This happy situation is the result of the policies pursued by the United States in its governance of the Philippines, reinforced and maintained by a sterling administration of the islands during the past six years."

Mr. Davis rehearsed at length the statistics showing development of commerce and transportation through the Mississippi-Warrior barge service and said the time is at hand for a declaration by Congress as to the future of the Inland Waterways Corporation but made no recommendation as to what government policy should be. Instead, the War Secretary outlined six possible methods of meeting the demand for greater service.

They ranged from continued operation as at present, with gradual increase of equipment out of earnings, to large increase of capitalization and wide expansion of service included in the suggestions of possible policy to the sale to a "national public group of citizens" under proper safeguards and in accordance with the original intention, but Secretary Davis did not commit himself to any of the suggestions he makes.

WINELESS CHOIR CHANGES TUNE

Disgusted Spaghetti Eaters From Florence Decide to Go on With Tour

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 3. (AP)—Members of the Florentine Choir who threatened to abandon their tour of American because of the absence of Chianti wine and because the spaghetti "always is cooked too soft," have been induced to continue their tour, at least as far as San Francisco, Frank Healy, concert manager here, said today. The choir is expected here the 11th inst.

Although there are forty-four members of the Florentine Choir, only twenty-two were cast for only thirty-six. There were twenty-two present at the meeting and the rest of the choir was expected to arrive in San Francisco the 11th inst.

A resolution asking that the National Republican Convention go on record for modification of the Volstead Act was introduced by Ben Fustmann, Milwaukee, but a motion to table it carried without a roll call.

POSTAL PROFIT UP TO CONGRESS

House Member Would Stop All Free Service

Cites Cost to Government of $100,000,000 Yearly

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3. (AP)—Another effort will be made this winter to have Congress' resign affairs of the Postoffice Department so that the future annual fiscal statements may be printed in black ink instead of red.

The move will be led by Representative Clyde Kelly of Pennsylvania, ranking Republican on the House Postoffice Committee, who says that if it were not for the free service Congress requires the department to extend, it would show a balance instead of a deficit each year.

The Pennsylvania believes the department is operated on an excellent business basis and contends that the so-called free service should be charged directly against the Treasury and specifically appropriated for.

He includes in the free service list such activities as the government frank and penalty mail as an annual cost of $16,000,000; rural free delivery mail at a net cost of $70,000,000; free-in-county privileges to country newspapers, $11,000,000; free to blind service, $100,000; special rates to American ship companies on foreign mail, $3,000,000; and favored rates to religious, scientific and fraternal publications, $17,000,000.

COMPANIONATE DIVORCE GIVEN

Couple to Have Separate Quarters and Wife Gets Salary

CLEVELAND, Dec. 3. (AP)—Now comes the companionate divorce. Judge Ewing granted a decree in the case of Mr. and Mrs. Florian L. Hummer, but they will have separate quarters in the same house with their three children. Mrs. Hummer will have a half-interest in the house and will receive salary of $20 a week as housekeeper. He will pay all the household bills.

These activities, conducted at a loss for the public good, Kelly says, cost the department approximately $100,000,000 a year.

WASHINGTON (D. C.) Dec. 3. (Exclusive)—The university of the future should leave the task of preparation to the high school and the college, Dr. Hubert Work, Secretary of the Interior, said in a recent address.

MEXICO PLANS IMMIGRANT BAN

Wholesale Entry Given as Reason for New Law

Measure Expected to Affect Asiatics Adversely

Special Efforts to Be Made to Interest Tourists

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 3. (Exclusive)—An immigration law under study for some time by the Secretariat of Interior will be put in effect within a few days by decree of President Plutarco Calles.

The purpose of the new order is to restrict wholesale immigration which tends to lower living standards, labor conditions and in general attract an undesirable element. The power of determining who shall enter the country will rest in the hands of the President who has facilities for prohibiting all immigration deemed inadvisable.

Asiatics whose presence has been a competition with Mexican business will probably be affected adversely, discouraged persons, agitators and unscrupulous women will also be restricted under the provisions. Special efforts will be made to facilitate the coming of tourists to Mexico, and to bring desirable foreigners into the country for residence.

GEORGIA UPSET BY TECH GRIDS

"Mudlin' Wrecks" Wipe Up Tenbark With Rivals
Building Sinks in Defeat on Sea of Mud, 12 to 0
Mudlin and Thomson Shine as Under Dogs Win

BY ALAN J. GOULD
ATLANTA, Dec. 3. (AP)—Instead of the "mudlin" wreck that they sing, Georgia Tech's football team today turned out to be a wrecking crew. With a few spectacular thrusts it demolished the championship hopes of the hitherto unbeaten University of Georgia eleven to the decisive tune of 12 to 0, while a record-breaking Southern crowd of 38,000 watched one of the biggest upsets of the year.

In a slashing, bitterly fought battle through the muddy morasses of the "mudlin" wreck, Tech's wreckers knocked the "dope" into a cocked hat and put an abrupt end to Georgia's hopes of triumph and simultaneous vindication to the top of the Southern Conference heap.

Back worked an attack that Georgia by complete surprise, one two touchdowns in a sensational fashion and erected a defensive barrier that blocked all counter attack of the mighty Bulldogs to turn the tide.

Tech's twin terrors in the passing drive that overcame the hopes of a muddy gridiron and overthrew the vaunted Georgia were Warner Mizell and "Mudlin" Thomson, a pair of underdogs who displayed an utter disregard of conditions, betting odds or the heralded fame of their opponents.

Mizell's brilliant kicking kept Georgia Tech out of the game, while putting Georgia "in the hole" and it was this halfback's way right arm that hurled the team to a 43-yard touchdown on a 43-yard drive that brought the crowd to its feet in the second quarter.

Followed by a flock of interferences, Mizell kicked the wet and slippery ball out of the air and Mizell's 35 yards to cross Georgia's line with the points that were sufficient to settle the contest there and then.

Thomson kept from the starting line and supposedly handicapped by an injured back and shoulder, he threw a 35-yard pass to Mizell's concluding onslaught and carried over the second touchdown.

Georgia's defense, which had been the pride of the Georgia football fan, was completely overthrown by the Tech attack. The Georgia defense, which had been the pride of the Georgia football fan, was completely overthrown by the Tech attack.

SAN MATEO BEAR CATS WIN '70 GAME FROM BERKELEY

BERKELEY, Dec. 3. (Exclusive)—The San Mateo Bear Cats claimed their first victory over the Berkeley Yellowjackets in the annual "70" game today, 13-6.

A break in the game decided the issue today. Threatening to score early in the fourth quarter, the Yellowjackets had advanced to the San Mateo 50-yard line when Ambrose, halfback, fumbled. Berkeley's defense, which had been the pride of the Berkeley football fan, was completely overthrown by the San Mateo attack.

The game was a hard-fought battle, with both teams showing great determination. The San Mateo Bear Cats, led by Coach [Name], emerged victorious in a game that was expected to be a close contest.

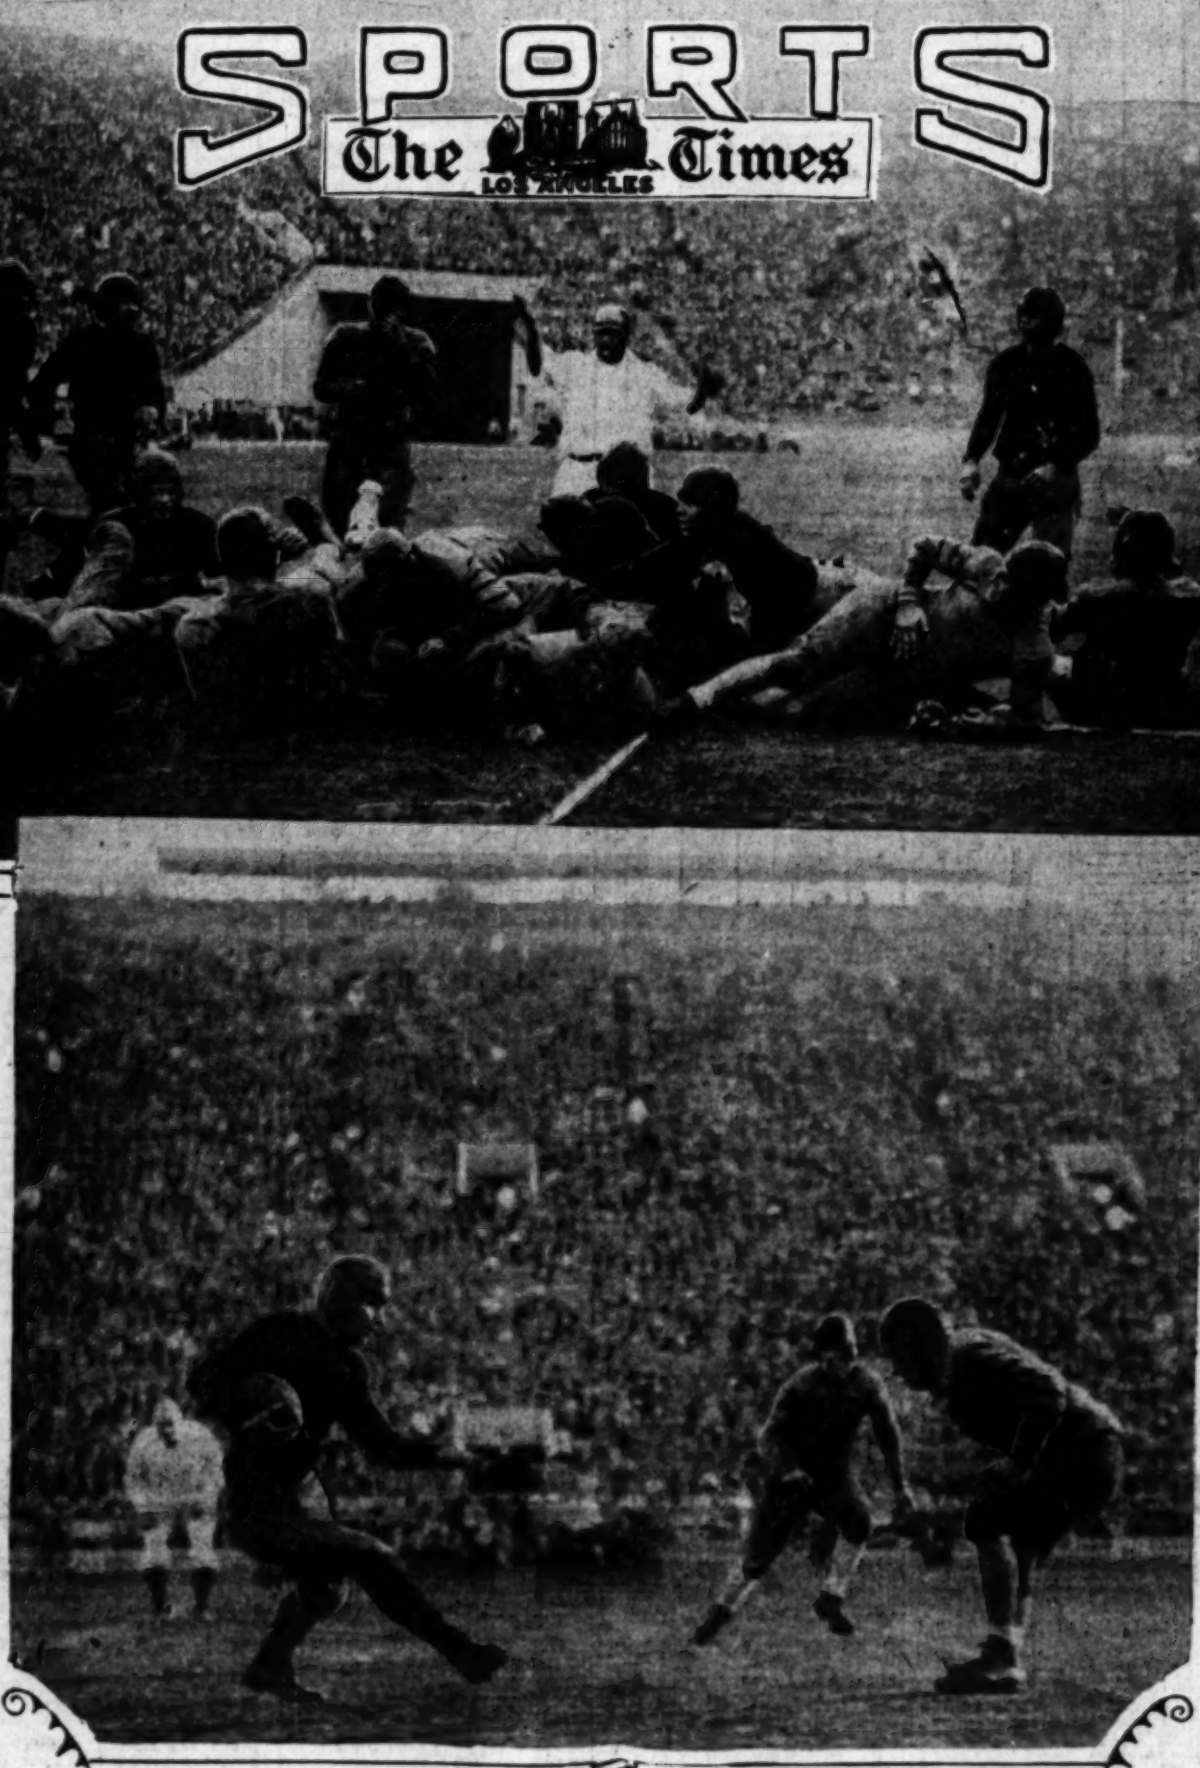

HAWAIIAN GRID TEAM BEATEN BY PASADENA

HONOLULU (T. H.) Dec. 3. (AP)—Pasadena Junior College, the first Hawaiian football team to invade the mainland this year, defeated the Hawaiian College of Honolulu, the championship team here today, 13-6, in a hard-fought game.

A crowd of about 10,000 witnessed the contest, which was played in perfect weather. The Pasadena team, coached by [Name], showed great skill and determination, leading to their victory over the Hawaiian team.

JESSE HIBBS IS ELECTED CAPTAIN OF 1928 TROJANS

San Mateo, Trojans' all-American tackle, was elected to captain of the 1928 Southern California varsity in the dressing-rooms yesterday afternoon following the Trojans' 33-13 triumph over Washington. Hibbs, who played for the Trojans at Lake Forest Academy in Illinois, Hibbs completed his second season as a Trojan leader in yesterday's game.

SIX TROJANS END GRIDIRON CAREERS; DRURY ACCORDED OVATION BY 60,000 FANS

Leaving the field late in the third quarter of yesterday's sensational game with Washington, Capt. Morley Drury of the Trojans was accorded the greatest ovation of his career. More than 60,000 fans rose in their seats and cheered Southern California's 11-American halfback as he crossed the field and disappeared into the tunnel below.

For Drury, with his devastating dashes, had played the greatest offensive game ever seen in the Coliseum and it was a fitting climax to the Long Beach boy's marvelous intercollegiate career.

Twenty minutes later, attired in his civilian clothes, Drury stood in the doorway of the Trojan dressing-room, greeting his mates with a slap on the back as they filed past him. Howard Jones, coach of the mighty Trojans, had thrown his arms about Drury and slapped him on the back.

BIG TEN GRID SCHEDULE IS COMPLETED AT TWO-DAY MEET

CHICAGO, Dec. 3. (AP)—The Western Conference football schedule for 1928 was rounded out today as the coaches, athletic directors, faculty representatives and others identified with Big Ten athletics finished a two-day meeting.

There was no hitch over dates between Big Ten teams, as all conference games were arranged last May. But the coaches sought competition outside the conference that would prove attractive in filling the open dates.

SCHOMMER IS SO "SEEK"

CHICAGO, Dec. 3. (AP)—John Schommer, who umpired the Notre Dame-Southern California game at Soldier Field a week ago, told a meeting of football coaches last night that coaches in general have a lack of appreciation of the crises officials must face in big games.

"To me the entire situation is becoming sickening," Schommer said. "Championships have been decided often in the Western Conference on hasty decisions that must be given one way or another. The coach that wins never says a word, but the one who loses immediately takes up the cry. I would like to see coaches decide some of these decisions."

"BETTER TEAM WON," SAYS HUSKY COACH AFTER GAME

"The better team won. And that's just about all there is to say," Coach Enoch Bagshaw, Washington coach, summed up yesterday's game at the Coliseum which Southern California won from the Huskies, 33 to 13.

When asked about Louis Tetreau's injury, Bagshaw said "It was a tough break to lose Tetreau on the opening kick-off, and it goes without saying, that his loss affected the rest of the team. However, it's just one of those things that happen in the breaks of the game. You have got to expect to have them go against you as well as for you, but it seems to me that they have mostly gone against us this season."

Drury is a remarkable player. He certainly was of all-American caliber against us today.

"I believe that Southern California has the strongest team in the Coast Conference. The Trojans certainly appeared more powerful against Washington than did either Stanford or California. Howard Jones has a great eleven and is to be lauded on his coaching ability to turn out such a team."

"I'm sorry we were not able to give the Trojans a much stiffer battle, but I really think that we would have done it much more interesting but for Tetreau's untimely injury."

CHICAGO CUBS TO PAY CUYLER LARGE SALARY

CHICAGO, Dec. 3. (AP)—Hazen (Kiki) Cuyler, star outfielder of the Pittsburgh Pirates, who was traded to the Chicago Cubs for infielder "Sparky" Adams and Outfielder Pete Scott, today came to terms with President William L. Veeck and signed a contract for 1928. The salary was not announced, but was understood to be one of the largest on the club.

Cuyler was said to have drawn more than $10,000 with the Pirates last year.

Cuyler arrived here today from his home in Flint, Mich., and was very enthusiastic about becoming a member of the Cubs. He said he was glad to get away from Pittsburgh, and will give the Cubs everything he has to give Chicago a winning ball club.

He was in conference with Manager Joe McCarthy, who stopped off here en route to the minor league meeting at Dallas, Tex., William Wrigley, Jr., and President Veeck.

CLARENCE DIRKS WILL LEAD HUSKY GRIDDRERS NEXT YEAR

Clarence Dirks, who finished his second season as a varsity tackle yesterday, was elected captain of the 1928 Washington eleven by the Huskies in a meeting held in the dressing rooms after the game with the Trojans. Dirks is a Californian, having graduated from Palo Alto High. At the same meeting Gene Cook, sub fullback, was voted winner of the Fishery medal, which annually goes to the gridder who the players believe is the greatest inspiration to the team.

DRILLERS CRASH ON TO TITLE

Bakersfield Grids Bowl Over Visalia, 44-0, and Nab Valley Crown

BAKERSFIELD, Dec. 3. (Exclusive)—Coach "Goldy" Griffith's Bakersfield Drillers, out to regain the State championship a hip grid laurels with went to San Mateo last year, crushed Visalia, 44 to 0, here today in a game that gave the local team the San Joaquin Valley sectional C.I.F. title.

He kind a butting forward wall that completely routed the Visalia defense, the Blue Blazes of Bakersfield's backfield bowed down the invaders' hopes of victory. Until, the bright star of the drillers of offense, shone as long as Coach Griffith saw fit to keep him in the game. After that he had been retired to the sidelines, Brown, Tryon and Blackwell. Battered the well-started task of crushing Visalia.

Visalia fought off the Drillers' thrusts for seven minutes, but after Bakersfield had put over one touchdown, the locals were on their way. Touchdowns followed at regular intervals from then on. Visalia's goal line being crossed seven times during the day.

Manfield and Acuff worked hard for Visalia, but they were up against too great odds.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 3. (AP)—The train the 17th inst. A baggage car will be fitted up for blackboard drills. The coaches have decided not to hold practice en route as was done on the last trip of a Pennsylvania team to the Coast. Exercise will be taken whenever a layover permits, but otherwise there will not be any signal drills nor regular workouts. Arrangements have been made for a few days' practice after the arrival of the team in Berkeley.

JONES PRAISES HIS GRID BOYS

"It has been a great season and I'm glad it ended with a victory for us."

The speaker was Howard Harding Jones, coach of the Trojans, champions of the Pacific Coast.

"The boys all played fine football and I am proud of them. I thought Morley Drury played as great a game as I ever saw and that he got wonderful support from his mates."

"It was tough on Washington to lose Tressau, just as the game started. This fellow Carroll is a fine halfback and our players had considerable trouble stopping him."

OBSERVATIONS

BY THE INNOCENT BYSTANDER BILL HENRY

ON THEIR farewell appearance for 1927 the Trojan grid-iron cohorts certainly looked for all the world like heaven's gift to Howard Jones. ...

To a person looking at the score the game may look one-sided but to those who saw the contest with their own eyes it was a battle from start to finish. ...

While we're at it, we like to predict that next year the young man who steps into Morley Drury's shoes will be a real star. ...

We'd like to have seen the Trojans of yesterday playing the Stanford team at the height of its glory. ...

Drury's exhibition yesterday was simply magnificent. He made a lot of difference when he is in the game and he will be missed next year and no mistake. ...

Chuck Carroll of Washington lived up to all the nice things that the boys have been saying about him. ...

CHRISTY FLANAGAN NOT ON ECKERSALL'S FIRST WESTERN FOOTBALL TEAM

FRESHMAN REAL STAR
Presnell of Nebraska, one of the country's leading backs, is awarded the right halfback position. This player is good enough to make any football team in the country. He is of the driving type, who runs so hard he gains ground when opposition is met. He played brilliantly against the strong Pittsburgh eleven, and was a big Nebraska gun in all of the ball carriers passed the scrimmage line.

OTHER GOOD MEN
Miller of Notre Dame was a very good fullback and the same is true of Dan Tolan, who played a similar position for St. Xavier. Brail of Detroit was a good halfback, as was Howard of Nebraska, Merle of Missouri, Cooper of Kansas, Brown of Drake and Holinger of Kansas Aggies.

ALL SET TO CLAIM POT OF GOLD

Harry Pressler, hard-working Professional Golf Association tournament chairman, will preside over the last big gun sweepstakes of the season tomorrow when hard-hitting members of the paid-to-play class stage the final 18-hole bid for dividends in the Herbert Lubin purse over Harry's own San Gabriel layout. Ed Dudley of Hollywood, leading in the drive for the $500 cash award by 15 strokes, is also leading by a safe margin in the point competition for a purse of $250. Willie Hunter, in second place by a very slender margin, must play fine golf tomorrow to stave off the attack of Jack Tarrant, Pressler and several others who have been making late-season bids for money honors.

MIGHTY KICKS AND KICKERS

By Peg Murray

How WATER ECKERSALL OF PRINCETON, DECEMBER 3, KICKED THE GOAL IN THE FIRST HALF AND IN THE SECOND HALF.

A good punter is as valuable to a football team as a good driver is to a car. A punter who can kick a ball into the end zone is a valuable asset to any team.

Water Eckersall of Princeton is a punter who has been making a name for himself. He has kicked two field goals in a single game, a feat that is rare in football.

His kicking is not only accurate but also powerful. He has been able to kick the ball into the end zone from a distance of 40 yards.

Big Coaches Know How to Show Them

By Al Demaree

HARRY KIPKE, OF MICHIGAN, ONE OF THE GREATEST OF MODERN FOOTBALL COACHES, KNOWS HOW TO SHOW THEM.

BY AL DEMAREE
That football coaches know their stuff, regardless of whether their teams are winning or losing, is proved by the fact that almost without exception they were star players when they were in college.

Harry Kipke, one of the greatest of modern football coaches, knows how to show them. He has been coaching for many years and has won many championships.

His coaching is not only effective but also fair. He has been able to bring out the best in his players.

PUBLIC COURTS PLANNED FOR COMING NET EVENTS

Old Grand Stand May be Utilized for Project; Look Forward to Olympic Game Demands

A battery of tennis courts in Exposition Park, not only for general public use but for city, State and national tournaments and as the scene for the Olympic competitions of 1932, will be constructed in front of the now unused grand stand by the Los Angeles Playground and Recreation Department if sanction is granted by the Park Commission and the Sixth District Agricultural Board. The three bodies have interlocking jurisdiction over certain areas in the park.

More than 2000 persons have filed letters and petitions with the City Council and the Playground Commission asking for the construction of a battery of tennis courts in the Exposition Park grounds. The courts would be located in front of the old grand stand, which is now unused.

The courts would be used for public use, as well as for city, State and national tournaments. They would also be used for the Olympic competitions of 1932.

The construction of the courts would cost about $100,000. The funds for the construction would be raised by the sale of bonds.

Three Southland Swimming and Diving Titles on Tap in Mercury Club Meet Friday

LEADING STARS IN WATER RACES

Two Championships for Men on Club Program

Mermaids May Break Record in Sprint Event

Prominent A.A.U. Officials to Attend Affair

Three Southern California A.A.U. swimming and diving titles will be at stake in the aquatic meet to be held at the Los Angeles Athletic Club Friday evening.

Two championships will be held for men, including the long spring board and the 100-yard sprint. The latter is the most important event of the meet, as it is the only one in which the Los Angeles Athletic Club has a champion.

Wayne Buttriss of the Ambassador Swimming and Athletic Club while Mickey Riley and "Dutch" Smith, who placed in the recent outdoor championships, will represent the L.A.A.C. in the diving event.

In the 100-yard sprint affair, five swimmers are entered. Oscar Simmons and Bela Kende are the favorites. The latter is the champion of the Los Angeles Athletic Club.

A record-breaking race is expected in the 100-yard free-style event for women with the Southern California title at stake. Cecily Cunha, Royal Palm star, will be matched against Norma Forbes, the young lady who has been setting so many records around San Diego.

Fred Cady and Dr. W. S. Beasley have programmed several special handicap events for the younger members of the L.A.A.C. women's team. Among the entries are Georgia Coleman, Georgia Murphy, Wilfred Haydon, Edna Rush, Helen Rush, Dorothy Blagden, Bobby Knudsen and "Babe" Walton.

This meet will also bring together some of the best swimmers and divers in the country, among whom will be Dr. Delescu, president of the Metropolitan A.A.U. in New York, and vice-president of the National A.A.U. Dr. Lickley, City Prosecutor, will fill the capacity of head judge of the meet. Other officials are: Henry K. Karamore, Fred Cady, starter; Duke Karamore, Frank Holbrook, Ralph Summerill and Arthur Allen.

ILLINOIS IS FIRST IN RATING

National Football and Silver Trophy "Fighting Illini"

CHICAGO, Dec. 3. (AP)—The annual football championship for 1927 was awarded tonight to the University of Illinois under the rating system devised by Dr. Frank B. Dickinson of the University of Illinois. The status of victory stop a tall column was awarded the "Fighting Illini" at their annual annual ball dinner here tonight.

Scores of ninety-five football teams were compiled by Dr. Dickinson, an eastern group of twenty-two teams regarded for comparison as a "conference."

The Pittsburgh team was ranked behind the Illinois rating. Minnesota third and Notre Dame fourth. The trophy would have been awarded to the Fighting Illini for their defeat by the Army, Dickinson rated the "Fighting Illini" as follows:

1. Illinois
2. Pittsburgh
3. Minnesota
4. Notre Dame
5. Yale
6. Army
7. Michigan
8. Georgia
9. Nebraska
10. Southern California
11. Texas A. & M.

JOHNNY LAMAR WON BOUT AT MAIN STREET

Johnny Lamar won an easy victory over Charlie Wright last night in the ten-round feature event at the Main-street Athletic Club. Lamar, a brawny fighter, fought back a bitterly fought battle with Wright, a former champion, in the semi-wind-up. Emilio Fernandez, a referee's verdict over Lamar in the special event, and then the crowd defeated Dick Chang, a fighter in the second bout on the card. Lamar and Jimmy Smith fought a draw in the curtain.

BOORAY! OLD SANTA CLAUS GOING TO VISIT US AGAIN

Saint Coming in a Week or So and He'll Have Ice Palace in Downtown Los Angeles

Wishes of thousands of children of Los Angeles and California were answered last night when the long awaited direct word from the North Pole that Santa Claus will arrive here in about a week with his famous reindeer and long visit with the children of the Southland. They are coming back—Santa with Dasher and Dancer and the rest of the antlered team!

The Christmas season past disappointment because he did not get around to see them with his reindeer. Santa Claus has favored the get around to see them with his reindeer. For this reason, Santa Claus has written, he is going to change his plans somewhat on his visit with us this year. Instead of taking his reindeer around to the schools and out into the cities and towns he is going to establish his own headquarters somewhere near the downtown district of Los Angeles, where he and his reindeer can remain and be visited by the boys and girls of the Southland.

In this connection he has planned a great treat for the children. He has asked The Times to build at his downtown headquarters an ice palace just exactly like the Ice Palace in which he has his headquarters up at the North Pole. It is to be a marvelous place of sparkling splendor.

The reindeer barn in which Francis and Dasher and the rest of the reindeer live is to be a reproduction of the iceberg that Santa says floats around in back of his palace up north. Santa has sent plans and specifications showing how this ice palace and reindeer barn looks. It is a wonderful place, from the description, and something to delight the children. KRISS KRINGLE TO BE LOCATED SO EVERYBODY CAN SEE HIM

Showing that he must have a heart as big as all outdoors, Santa Claus is going to come down to Los Angeles once more with his reindeer for a long visit with the children of Southern California. Santa is coming in response to many letters and personal appeals of the children. Above, Santa is shown with Francis and Dancer, his favorite members of the famous reindeer team, getting them ready for the long run down to Los Angeles. Below are three Los Angeles children writing letters to Santa Claus asking him to come down and visit them again this year. The children are, left to right, Betty Ruth Tomberlin, 206 South Union avenue; Betty Julia McGowan, 204 South Union avenue; and Betty Gunk, 225 North Belmont avenue. Each child is 8 years of age. They write fine letters, as will be shown later in The Times.

Three-Day Celebration Now Under Way

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent SANTA BARBARA, Dec. 3.—Amid a picturesque California setting, the old mission church was consecrated this morning with all of the pomp, splendor and ecclesiastical ceremony of the Roman Catholic Church. The consecration ceremonies began at 8 o'clock and marked the start of the three-day celebration of the restoration of the historic Franciscan community.

Right Rev. John J. Cantwell, bishop of Los Angeles and San Diego, was the consecrator. He was assisted by Very Rev. Joseph Rhoads, O. F. M., vice-provincial of the Santa Barbara province, as deacon, and Rev. Adrian Schmitt, O. F. M., as subdeacon.

Promptly at 8 o'clock the consecrating bishop and his retinue assembled before the church. Bishop Cantwell, clothed in his pontifical robes and wearing his mitre, began the canonical ritual. The rest of the attending priests presented a kaleidoscopic picture. There were the brown-robed and rufous-figured, black-habited members of other orders; monsignors in the purple of the church and the surpliced chorists.

Just as the sun was peeping over the eastern horizon the ceremonies began and before the church stood scores of the old mission parlor and numerous interested residents of Santa Barbara, attracted by the unusual ceremony, for this is the first California mission ever to be consecrated.

SCENE IN CHURCH

Within the church all was bare, except for the sacred altar and the twelve lighted candles. From the surface of the church floor all of the pews had been removed. As the bishop and his attendants, led by the crucifer and two candle-bearers, began a circuit of the church, sprinkling the outer walls. This circuit was made three times. Then the consecrator approached the portal of the church and, tapping the door with his crozier, commanded the attendant within to "lift up your gates, ye princes and be ye lifted up, ye everlasting doors and the king of glory shall come in."

The deacon standing within asked: "Who is the king of glory?" and the bishop twice answered: "The Lord strong and mighty, the Lord mighty in battle;" and the third time: "The Lord of armies—He is the King of glory."

The Lancer

Harry Carr

NO ONE knows what Dr. Cook will find at the South Pole, but he is pretty sure to come back with an interesting story, anyhow. And we have a greater need for interesting stories than for South Poles.

In the circumstances it doesn't sound very convincing that Dr. Cook has decided to take along Col. Forbes, an ex-convict, to corroborate his story.

CASTLES AND THINGS

This looks like a chance for some of the numerous princesses and duchesses in Hollywood. The city of Munich wants to give away an old castle. The plumbing is out of whack, and the towers are about to fall down; but what is the 60,000 marks repair bill compared with the glory of being still-photographed as the lady of the manor?

WILD LIFE

The descendant of the mighty chief of a tribe of wild Indians has complained to the Los Angeles police that a bandit whacked him over the head and took all his money and jewels away.

He has my sympathy. Life in this or any other large American city is more perilous than in any of the bad towns of the West.

You could manage to keep out of the city cemetery even in Dodge City or Deadwood or Homestead in their wildest days, if you minded your own business and kept a civil tongue in your head. But a man who rented me a garage the other day felt very uneasy because I would have to walk half a block back to the house at night.

Sure enough, "The City of Dreadful Nights."

A NOTHER DUD

The fight between Ace Hukins and this boy Auerbach was just one of those matches that never should have been made. The public deserves better for its money than the spectacle of a near-cham-

Mrs. M. McDonald, Oakland, Calif.

My dear Mrs. McDonald: You most welcome letter received. I am more than glad to let you know what Dr. Wheeler's treatment have done for me. I feel like a new born baby. As I have been suffering for the last 10 years with a nervous breakdown, have tried everything and have spent a fortune in the different parts of the world, but did not get any results up to a few weeks ago. I was not allowed to eat hardly anything and could not sleep all night. Now I cannot get enough to eat. I can also now sleep well and feel very much rested after my sleep. I used to be very depressed and tired all the time, and to show you the good faith I have in Doctor Wheeler's treatment, my husband was also operated upon this morning. He would be up with me all night and the next day he would work hard in the business and that pulled him down completely. But when my husband noticed the wonderful result I got, he decided he would also have the operation before it was too late.

Now if you would like to see my husband or me personally, we would be just delighted. Just name the place convenient for you, because Dr. Wheeler is a God-send for the ill.

Yours very truly,

(Signed) MRS. D. B. WEINTROB.

MEAN MIEN OF HIZZONER BEATS JAIL

Woman Takes One Look at Judge and Signs Papers She Had Refused to Touch

One look at Judge Beecher was enough for Mrs. Caroline Canepa. It accomplished what five days in the County Jail had failed to effect.

"He looks tough," she whispered to E. S. Hahn, attorney for William B. Canepa, her husband. She thereupon promptly signed the papers which conveyed to her husband several thousand Italian lira contained in a safe deposit box in a San Francisco bank.

Mrs. Canepa and the Superior Court have been engaged in a war over those lira for several weeks. When a divorce was granted the Italian funds were ordered turned over to Canepa. But Mrs. Canepa had them in her own safe deposit box, and she would not deliver. After numerous hearings before Judge Gould, Mrs. Canepa steadfastly refusing to turn over the keys to her safe deposit box, she was sent to jail for five days for contempt.

CARS KILL ONE, INJURE SIX

Truck Crushes Life Out of Eight-Year-Old Girl; Three Boys, Three Policemen Other Victims

Traffic accidents in the city resulted yesterday in the fatal injury of an 8-year-old girl, probably fatal injury to a small boy and injuries to two other boys and three policemen.

Beatrice Bandoval, 8 years of age, 117 North Eastern avenue, Belvedere, died from injuries suffered when she was struck by a truck driven by Pion Hernandez, who is reported to authorities to have fled and escaped up and away when Angel Licano, 4136 Rignin street, pursued him and forced him to pull up to the curb. Deputy sheriffs are searching for Hernandez.

Edward Locke, 7, 1081 East Fifty-first street, is in the Children's Hospital with concussion of the brain and a possible skull fracture as a result of being struck yesterday by an automobile driven by E. J. Woods of Eagle Rock. The Locke boy was attempting to cross Central avenue, near Fifty-first street. Woods was not held.

SCOTT RAPS ATTACK ON MARSHALS

Declares Inquiry Started by Men Refused Badges of Membership

The Association of California Fire Marshals has not now and never has had the right to authorize placing of red lights or sirens on the automobiles of its members, Fire Chief Scott, one of the directors of the association, announced in a statement yesterday. His assertion followed a decision of a joint legislative commission to investigate the fire marshals on the charge that they arbitrarily ruled the highways with blaring red lights, speeding cars, screaming sirens and diamond-studded badges.

Chief Scott asserts "one of the chief aims of the organization is to assist law-enforcement departments which have to do with public safety. The unwarranted attacks on the California Fire Marshals' Association," Chief Scott says, "which have recently appeared come from ambitious persons who have heretofore requested in writing to be made marshals, and as the political office they hold, the association promptly refused such demands as it is not organized to counter political favors."

CITY GUARDIANS
READY FOR FRAYFire and Police Champions Start RehearsalsAthletes Groomed to Meet at Coliseum SaturdayHair-Raising Stunts Hinted
as Fiesta Features

Five days only intervene before the Fire-Police Interdepartmental Fiesta next Saturday in the Coliseum. Firemen and policemen of Los Angeles tomorrow will initiate final rehearsals for the affair.

In a special conference yesterday Fire Chief Root and Police Chief Davis approved the program for the four-hour festivities and inspected the championship trophy posted by the Breakfast Club. The fiesta, which is to raise funds for the joint relief associations of the two departments, has the approval of the fire and police commissions, as well as the chiefs.

GRAND ENTRY
Opening the fiesta at 1:35 p.m. Los Angeles' finest, including 70 men picked from each department, will march into the Coliseum in formation in a grand entry with the firemen and police. The firemen will carry a special squad of stair-roping sections for the fiesta.

Under the supervision of W. L. Justin, drillmaster of the police department, a special squad of stair-roping sections will be formed. The squad will be formed by fire trucks in motion on opposite sides of the Coliseum.

WILD WEST STUFF
Directed by Capt. C. Roy Cato, the police firing squad is perfecting a thrilling reproduction of a running battle with bank bandits around the track, bringing into play machine guns and tear bombs, and with Ben King, police dog trained by the Kansas City department, in a principal role.

Hair-raising stunts are promised in stunts with a motorcycle equipped with a wheelie and car, piloted by Motor Officer A. Peterson with Fireman L. L. Myrtun performing daring acrobatic feats.

Picked squads of fifty husky policemen under Capt. Bob Leard and Firemen tomorrow will begin training for the football battle between halves of the championship football game, an event that set the stands wild with hilarity at last year's fiesta.

UNIVERSITY COLLEGE
GAINS IN ATTENDANCE

One thousand six hundred and eight "adult students" have enrolled in the fall quarter of university college, Los Angeles, central-city branch of the University of Southern California. The 1927 fall quarter of university college shows an increase of 22 per cent over the 1926 fall quarter, according to Dean E. W. Tins.

Girl Charges Abandonment
After Promises to Marry;
He Denies Knowing Her

Charging C. L. Langley, reputedly wealthy financier, with breaking an assumed promise to marry her, Eleanor B. Cox, said to be a motion-picture actress, yesterday filed suit in Superior Court for $100,000 damages against Langley.

According to the complaint, Miss Cox and Langley became acquainted in September of this year and Cox proceeded to court the plaintiff and finally induced her to leave her home in Culver City and take up a residence with him in Los Angeles.

Miss Cox asserted Langley represented himself as an unmarried man and promised her marriage. Then on September 30, last, he told her, according to the complaint, that he was married but would go to Reno and get a divorce. Miss Cox asserted that he abandoned her in a delicate condition.

Bandit Attacks
Japanese Pair
in Their Home

A Mexican bandit entered the home of H. Y. Yip, 926 East Tenth street, yesterday, bound up the owner, attacked his wife, and made off with $25 in cash and a gold watch. The intruder seemed to know the pair, asking whether their name was Yip before he began operations.

Upon ascertaining their identity the bandit produced a revolver and held it ready for use until he had tied the hands of his victims and gagged them. The Japanese reported that the robber first beat Mrs. Yip, later procuring the valuables and departing. Detectives are making an extensive search for the man.

INQUEST WAIVED IN POINDEXTER DEATH

No inquest will be held to determine the cause of the death of Paul PoinDEXTER, 2000 North Hollister street, Pasadena, who is asserted by deputy sheriffs to have ended his own life Friday night by firing a shot into his brain, according to Coroner Nance. PoinDEXTER, who was a caretaker for the E. T. Gillette estate, was found moaning in the back yard of his residence with the rifle in his hands, by F. C. Bomer, a neighbor. According to Mrs. PoinDEXTER, her husband had been dependent for several weeks due to ill health and frequently had threatened to commit suicide.

LIGHT OPERA
REHEARSALS
DUE TO OPEN

Work of Preparation for Shriners' Presentations
Will Begin Tomorrow

Rehearsals will commence tomorrow morning for Al Malakiah Temple's ten weeks of light opera, which will open at the Shrine Civic Auditorium on the 26th inst.

Frank M. Ralinger, director for four years of the municipal opera at St. Louis, will direct the opera. He has just about completed the selection of artists, the chorus and others who will make up a company of over 120 persons. The chorus, the sixteen members of the dancing unit and the thirty-six-piece symphony orchestra have all been chosen from among residents of Southern California.

There will be ten different stage successes presented and each play will be given for one week. Every night and with matinees on Wednesday and Saturday.

The advance sale of tickets for the light opera is exceeding expectations. The tickets are being sold at $1.50 for the orchestra and $1.00 for the balcony. The advance sale is now open to the general public.

Craig Funeral
Rites Tomorrow

Funeral services for Robert Houston Craig, who died at his home, 1023 West Twenty-fifth street, Friday morning at 93 years of age, are to be conducted from Brown Brothers undertaking parlors at Ninth and Figueroa streets, at 1:30 p.m. tomorrow. Interment is to be in Forest Lawn Cemetery.

Mr. Craig was born in Jacksonville, Ill., and had lived in this State twenty-seven years. He spent eight years prospecting in the gold fields of Northern California and Oregon, between 1899 and 1907.

Mr. Craig leaves his widow and one daughter, Mrs. Margaret Craig, 8116, two brothers who live in Missouri and other relatives in Los Angeles, Long Beach and Santa Ana.

LETTER OFFERS ALIBI
IN MYSTERY SLAYING

Purporting to offer a perfect alibi for Lewis J. Frederik, accused of the slaying of C. V. Thorne on November 18, last, a fifteen-page letter signed "C. G. Miller" was received by Detective Lieutenant Chodoff yesterday. Miller states that Frederik was with him during the evening of the slaying, and that he knows the prisoner was in his room at the supposed hour of the shooting.

Thorne, an oil-station owner, was shot to death with his own rifle. It was at first thought that he had ended his own life, but this gave place to a hold-up theory and finally the police concluded it might have been murder for revenge. Jealousy on the part of Frederik because of Thorne's asserted attentions to the former's wife first caused him to be suspected.

Peace, it was held, now is more secure in Western Europe than ever before, because manufacturers, business men and economists are exerting powerful influences on the governments of Germany, France and Great Britain.

Peace of this opinion expressed the belief that historical prejudices and old hatreds and intrigues have caused more wars than trade rivalry. The Balkans, where the greatest danger to world peace now is believed to exist, were pointed out as playing a relatively unimportant part in trade and manufacturing circles.

It is the expressed opinion of the institute experts that Germany will be unable to meet the $600,000,000 annual reparation payments to the Allies, and that this in turn will affect the payments by these countries of the interest on American loans.

It was proposed that in order to prevent a further economic disturbance in Europe that the United States devise a plan for accepting the payments on loans made to the Allies in goods and that Germany be permitted to make a large portion of its reparation payments to the Allies in manufactured products or raw materials, which in turn could be turned over to the United States in lieu of cash payments.

PLAN OFFERED
In order to permit the world to absorb these products, without disturbing trade balances, it was suggested that the United States proceed with the building of the canal through Nicaragua, and permit Germany to furnish the machinery and engineering supervision, which is estimated at about three-quarters of the cost of the canal. The cost of the canal has been placed at $1,000,000,000. Under existing conditions, it is said, the canal will not be built for a generation. Italy, it is said, might be permitted to work out its debt payment by furnishing the labor. Employment thus would be furnished to idle Italians who would be returned to their own country on completion of the project.

It is recognized that there would be opposition from many sources to such a plan, but the opinion is expressed that some definite action will have to be taken along similar lines by the United States to help Europe out of its economic dilemma.

The possible necessity for a re-statement of the principles of the Monroe Doctrine to meet new conditions in South America also was advanced at the institute. It is held that the Monroe Doctrine still can be applied to the Central American and Caribbean Sea countries.

Large Parties to Tour World
Two of the largest parties of around-the-world tourists from this city will leave Los Angeles the 27th inst., on the S.S. President Wilson, and the 29th inst., on the S.S. Balgoland, under the direction of the D. F. Robertson Travel Bureau.

Included in the party are: Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Hargrave, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Dunkin, Mr. J. W. Hendrick, Mrs. Lulu C. Clark, Dr. and Mrs. J. L. Thompson, Mrs. Minnie M. Kling, Jennie J. Delegates Conclude Session at Inn in Riverside

Hopes for Peace in World
Declared Bright

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent
RIVERSIDE, Dec. 3.—The second annual Institute of International Relations, which was brought to a close here today after a strenuous week, is declared by the departing delegates to have been the most successful conference of its kind held on the Pacific Coast.

"We have clarified the international problems which confront this country in a manner that none of us anticipated would be possible before the institute opened," declared Dr. Von Klenzendorf, chairman of the institute. "Through all our discussions, even on points where there was a vast difference of opinion, there was a hearty desire to understand the other side of the question, and this has not always characterized such gatherings."

Dr. Von Klenzendorf pointed out that the institute is entirely educational, in that experts in the various subjects taken under consideration come together primarily for a frank exchange of information and views, the effects of the institute will be widespread.

Approval Given for Seven New Street Works

The Public Works Committee of the City Council has recommended the approval of the following improvement projects: Landley avenue between Calvert street and Ventura Boulevard; Roscoe street from Van Nuys Boulevard to Columbus street; Barry avenue and La Grange avenue improvement district; Orlando avenue between Beverly Boulevard and Third street; Santa Cruz street and Cabrillo avenue improvement district; Broadway Terrace between High Tower Drive and a point north, and Burnside avenue between Adams and Westhaven streets.

PROJECT APPROVED
The Public Works Committee yesterday recommended that the street and Twenty-first street improvement district be approved, that the offer of the bond of $200,000 to pay $4000 on the cost of the improvement be accepted, and that park and playground departmental property be excluded and Federal property included in the district.

PROFESSIONAL JURORS
Mrs. Ruth Snyder, the lady who has an engagement with the electric chair next January, may or may not be insane. But the time has arrived that question was at the trial.

The way criminal courts are conducted in these days, the trial has come to be regarded only as a sort of dress rehearsal.

There is a movement in England to abolish the jury system altogether, as it now exists to substitute therefor a permanent panel of professional jurors—educated in the matter of taking evidence, and paid at least $2000 a year.

This would result in a diminishing of the amount of melodrama at murder trials, but it would make the ancient sport of jury bribing more popular even than now.

MUSIC BATH CHARMES

Mrs. Ethel Baldwin was roused from her strange coma by the soft sound of a violin—lured back to earth and consciousness. If this is the way music affects the lady, she should have tried one of the sopranos who let out these blood-curdling screams over the radio. She would have leaped up out of her coma and also out of bed.

The Strawberry Tree
The strawberry tree and the strawberry tree is not a native of England. It is to be seen occasionally in parks and gardens of that land in Ireland it is frequently growing wild, especially in the neighborhood of Killarney. It is a flowering shrub the end of or beginning of October with the flowers are found with the previous year. The fruit is a large berry, closely resembling the berry; hence the name of the tree.

How do you spend your evenings?

WHAT do you do when you get home in the evening? Do the worries of the day stay with you? Does the evening paper only serve to remind you of business problems? That is the time when music is the best relaxation in the world.

The Duo Art brings rest and relaxation—the sort of music Tennyson meant when he wrote: "Music that gentler on the spirit lies than tired eyelids upon tired eyes."

MORE and more busy business men nowadays are realizing that business and golf aren't everything. More and more progressive men and women are coming to see that what you do after you leave the office is just as important as what you do while you are in it.

In other words, people are discovering the difference between living happily and fully, and just living. And in the lives of most of these people music—good music—has an important place.

Hundreds of prominent executives have found in the Duo Art Reproducing Piano an extraordinary road to relaxation after a hard day's work. They simply press a button, and there is Paderewski playing that beautiful minuet of his, or Josef Hofmann playing some favorite composition of Chopin, or Beethoven, or Liszt.

And Hofmann really plays it. Every shade of expression, every precious personal mannerism of his, is there. Not one man in a thousand can tell the difference!

Says Hofmann himself: "I cannot conceive of any better training for the average layman who wants to cultivate an appreciation of the great compositions than repeatedly hearing the Duo Art perform the best of music recorded by the foremost artists."

And Rudolph Ganz says: "The Duo Art will, in years to come, not only be a pleasure-bringer to millions but will have a most beautiful influence upon the artistic musical education of the world."

Fortunately, you don't need to be a captain of industry to own a Duo Art. Now terms have been arranged that put this marvelous invention literally within the reach of every American family. Come in and hear it today. Or write to us for a complimentary copy of an interesting descriptive booklet.

SIGNS POINT TO GREATEST YULE SEASON FOR RADIO

Trade Prepares to Meet Record Demands Indicated by Growing Interest in Broadcast

BY DR. RALPH L. POWER

The spirit of Yuletide already is in the air and wide-awake radio dealers are preparing for the greatest radio Christmas since the early days of crystal sets and "canned music" broadcast. The year about to end has brought several refinements and a few mechanical improvements in receiving sets, the newly created commission has brought a semblance of order out of the air chaos, studios everywhere are engaged in friendly rivalry to produce the best programs, and the interest of radio fans in radio matters has not diminished.

Some enterprising dealer probably will conceal a loud speaker unit atop of the store Christmas tree, with the window or in front of the shop. An intelligent selection of broadcast programs, of chimes or organ music, will blend perfectly with the holiday atmosphere and the spirit of the season. And the use of warm colors, red, orange and amber, used as flood lights, will reflect a cheerful glow over the scene, while the usual array of Christmas decorations will help to carry out the central theme.

FEATURE FOR CHILDREN
In some cities, besides the store tree, a few merchants are planning to install a smaller tree especially for the children and the youth, with various broadcast studio children's hour programs to be invited as well as all the tiny tots who listen in night after night.
Dealers who have more than one store window will find it time to get out the display depicting family parties. In these there will, of course, be a console model receiver prominently displayed and perhaps a fireplace with stockings already hung in anticipation of Kris Kringle's annual visit. The furnishings of the window will be selected with a view of picturing conditions in a modern home, with the library table, shaded reading lamps, colorful rugs and all the other things that go to make the home bright and cheerful.

LETTERS FOR SANTA
A year or so ago a modern radio business man hired a local-looking Santa Claus, who distributed printed letters addressed to old Santa himself. They were so worded that all the children had to do was fill in the list of radio goods they wanted for presents.
The youngsters filled them in and handed them to Mr. Santa personally. Of course, the names and addresses furnished the merchant with an up-to-date mailing list.

Price grouping is becoming more and more recognized as a worthwhile sales angle. Stations of confining the potential customer with a range of sets and prices, some retailers group the sets by price. Those up to $45, for instance, are in one corner of the store; between that figure and $125 in another, and so on up the line.

The Christmas tree window has another attractive angle in that, beneath the tree, may be pastored several sets all wrapped in holiday tissue, with plenty of red ribbon, stickers and neatly labeled cards.

The cards, prominently displayed, bear the legend: "For mother," "To a good boy," "Dad," and other holiday greetings.

REAL RADIO HOLIDAY
A real Christmas is on the horizon. Wide-awake dealers are prepared for it. Radio fans and devotees of good music are ready to sample the wares of radio retailers.
Old models are being replaced with newer sets. Small sets are being bought for the mountain cabin or seaside cottage. Portable units are being used in the new automobile. Grandmother and grandfather will appreciate a nice set with earphones, perhaps, and his brother-in-law will use a tube set in his upstairs room.

"TOLLIES" BY RADIO
The radio audience is to participate in famous Broadway productions, according to Ray Thomas, Southern California Atwater Kent distributor. Contracts have been signed and the first attempt will be made to broadcast parts of current Broadway productions. Six stations on the WPA network are doing the broadcasting.

DEMPSEY ON AIR
The rise of Jack Dempsey is being broadcast in a series of short sketches every Saturday night over station WGN, Chicago. The story of how Dempsey rose from a "road kid" to an idol of sportsmen, and won the championship, only to find the taste of success bitter and lost the championship to find himself in a "road kid" again, is being told in a series of true life presentations. Music accompanies parts of the presentation.

BROADCAST AUDIENCES
It has been estimated that more than 50,000,000 people listened in on such broadcasts as the world series, the Dempsey-Turney fight and the Lindbergh reception at Washington. While it is known that there are 7,000,000 sets in operation the audiences are created by installing speakers in hotel lobbies, radio stores and public places. It is estimated that 30,000,000 people enjoyed the broadcasts either in their own homes or at the homes of friends.

PET OWNERS REFUSED
Broadcasters in Great Britain have been besieged with requests to broadcast descriptions of lost pets. Every animal known to science and quite a few that are unknown seem to be lost. With increasing frequency, pet owners have been obliged to refuse aid. Missing men, women and children still are being sought via radio.

CITY OF SINGERS
Chicago has more aspiring young singers than any other city in America, it is said. During a recent Atwater Kent competition more young men and women living in Chicago made application to participate in the contest than from any other city. While it was impossible to give all of the participants prizes, many of the Chicago aspirants for national honors show rare talent.

CHILE PUTS BROADCAST UNDER CURB

State Control Adopted to Eliminate Annoyances That Peril Industry

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—Practically the same broadcast problem the United States suffered—interference so great that annoyance of listeners soon gave way to disinterest in their sets, with consequent threat of a slump in the radio trade—has occurred in Chile, according to a report by the United States Department of Commerce. However, the Chilean government has enacted legislation providing for the licensing of all stations, with a limitation on their number, besides prescribing wave lengths, power and hours of operation. This, it is reported to the Department of Commerce, has proved highly beneficial, but radio has not yet regained its former popularity. Broadcast programs are largely limited to announcements from the newspaper, political advertising and phonograph music, although one of the motion picture houses in Santiago broadcasts its orchestra. Buenos Aires is regularly heard, and some of Chile's amateur pick up programs from the United States.

RECORD FOR YULE RADIO SALES DUE

Dealers Assert Interest in Broadcast Growing at Tremendous Rate

Saying that the avalanche of Christmas orders flooding radio dealers throughout Los Angeles is due largely to the excellence of the programs being offered radio audiences, dealers are preparing for the busiest Yuletide season in the history of the industry.

The dealers' statements, made through the Radio Trade Association, come as a fitting climax to the successful season of radio broadcast since radio became popular.

Officials of the association said that the chain broadcasting of international happenings, sporting events and speeches of famous personages is doing more for the retail sale of radio than much of the national advertising.

United Artists to Broadcast at Theater Opening

Elaborate arrangements are being made for the new United Artists Theater premiere by station KPLA. The theater will be completed by the architects and subcontractors in a few days. An opening date will be announced soon.

Virtually every celebrity in filmdom will be present at the dual premiere of the theater and Marjorie Pickford's "My Best Girl" her latest film.

Winter Concert Season Appeals to Radio Lovers

The winter concert season on the 630 p.m. hour Sunday nights, sponsored by the Standard Oil Company of California, is meeting with popular favor in the radio audience since it is inaugurated last month.

The programs are presented by a specially selected orchestra which is selected weekly for the program of this company. The music is always carefully selected with the viewpoint of universal appeal.

It will be recalled that the Standard afternoon broadcasts of last year were high spots in radio programs. This year's evening concerts are equally as well arranged and presented.

RADIO GROWTH EXPLAINED

Since radio entered the commercial field it has become one of the foremost industries in the country, say officials of the Radio Trade Association.

The rapid growth of the radio industry is laid to the fact that radio is both educational and recreational and may be enjoyed by the entire family. Approximately one-third of the families in this country are supplied with radio.

MEXICAN FANS FEW

In Mexico radio is said to be confined almost entirely to the larger cities and to a small wealthy class of people. Reception there varies quite perceptibly with changing weather and it is essential that sets be efficient for long-distance reception.

FEW SETS ON CANAL

Use of radio in Panama is restricted in order to prevent interference with the United States government wireless stations on the isthmus. There are reported to be only about 150 receiving sets in use in all the Canal Zone.

KHJ TO HAVE PERMANENT ORCHESTRA

Paul Rubenstein Kepner Named Musical Director for Station

A studio concert orchestra of fourteen pieces has been organized as the first step in building up a staff of musical artists for KHJ, the Don Lee station in Los Angeles. The KHJ Concert Orchestra will be conducted by Paul Rubenstein Kepner, who has been appointed musical director of KHJ.

The preliminary offerings of the new orchestra put over the air in connection with the temporary programs which the station now is giving brought a large volume of response and radio listeners are promised that some unusual entertainment from this organization when this station gives its formal opening program, which will be announced later.

Kepner will have charge of all musical programs for the station and instead of artists coming to the station and putting on the air what they would like best to sing or present, Kepner will tell the artists what they are to sing or play. This arrangement will practically guarantee as much of a balanced program, with a harmonious variety, as it is possible to present from a radio station.

Kepner has not been in the limelight in the West for he is a comparatively recent arrival here. An American by birth, of German and French parentage, Kepner received his early training in Europe and in Vienna and Paris perfected the mastery of his chosen field, music. On the completion of his studies he played extensively throughout Europe, but especially in France. In Paris he was employed by the greatest popularity as a conductor and soloist and was associated with the opera at Tours and Vandoeuvre. Returning to America he has been associated with Victor Herbert's Orchestra, the Philadelphia Orchestra, the Boston Opera Company, the Los Angeles Grand Opera Company and Los Angeles Philharmonic Orchestra, besides other local musical organizations.

He was four years professor of history and technique of wind instruments at Ohio Wesleyan University. He is an authority on conducting and ensemble and has lectured extensively on these subjects in American colleges and conservatories.

BORROWED FROM SEA
Many people have wondered why radio stations have call letters instead of other means of identification. According to the Radio Trade Association the system of designating each station by call letters is a survival of the sea. Many ships could have the same name, and with the advent of wireless and radio it was discovered that ships could, by using a combination of letters, identify themselves easier than by spelling out their names. When broadcast stations became numerous the same method of identification was adopted.

French Radio Sets Cheaper Than American

PARIS, Dec. 3. (AP)—French radio fans pay much less than American fans pay for their equipment.

The average price for a set to pick up a dozen of the principal European stations is about $40, as shown by the recent fourth annual radio exposition in Paris. Some sets enabling listeners to get the stations of England, Germany and Spain were offered at half that price.

Very few foreign-made sets were shown, and then only of the most expensive type. Sets for listeners in the fourteenth district of Paris stations can be purchased for $4 to $8. The cheapest of all, a small crystal set, costs $2, complete with earphones.

OVERCOMING STATIC

An interesting experiment that may be made to reduce static pick-up is told. Ordinary No. 14 electric wire may be buried in a narrow trench several feet below the level of the earth, with the end brought up to the antenna binding post. The wire should be well insulated, especially the end. In that way, says Thomas, static pick-up is reduced to the minimum.

SOUTHERN FIELD SURVEYED

Argentina, Brazil, Chile and Uruguay offer the best markets in South America for American radio apparatus, and a good volume of business may be expected there, according to the electrical equipment division of the Department of Commerce.

Manufacturer Concentrates on Fewer Models

One of the evidences of stabilization in the radio market is the increasing tendency of radio manufacturers to standardize their designs in the form of fewer models. The radio purchaser of the past has found his favorite make crowded in so many different cabinet and console designs, selling at so many different prices—and in many instances incorporating so many different circuits—that a final choice was difficult.

"We believe it all to be confusing and unnecessary," said the local Stewart-Warner distributors. "Therefore, we have standardized on one circuit, which in our judgment is the most efficient, and the standard circuit is incorporated in each of our models. The circuit is built into two chassis, however, one completely shielded and one without shielding."

"Our line this year features but two table cabinets and two consoles, with both the shielded and unshielded chassis available in either type of cabinet. Thus the purchaser of Stewart-Warner radio finds available in four models a type of chassis and cabinet to suit his purpose and his purse."

"Dealers welcome a limited number of models because it is easier to stock and display a complete line. Consumers are benefited because larger quantities production on fewer models results in lower prices."

WINNERS IN TEST AWAY TRIP AWAY

Judges Will Pick Best to Compete in at New York Studio

The 108 boys and girls, winners of the Atwater Kent National Radio Contest, are anxiously awaiting the announcement to learn if they will be among the fortunate ten who will make the trip to New York City.

The ten who will be selected will be the winners of the contest, and they will be given a half the prize money, or $100, and a trip to New York City.

The program will originate from the studio of the New York station, and will be broadcast over the national radio network. While only ten artists will be selected, the program will be a great success.

MAKERS ENTER CAMPAIGN

American radio manufacturers have entered a campaign to drive the makers of radio sets in Canada, where the market is growing rapidly. Canada is a big market for American radio sets, and the makers of radio sets in Canada are being driven out of business.

CLOTHING CHAIN MAY ENTER CITY

Invasion of Retail Field by Roos Bros. Forecast

Expected to Purchase Some Local Going Concern

Report Given Credence by Visit of Officials

Roos Bros. Inc., Pacific Coast chain-store organization retailing men's and boys' clothing and furnishings, may invade Southern California at an early date, it was revealed yesterday from a source close to the company. The company's first store in this territory will probably be located in Los Angeles or Hollywood. This authority states:

Robert A. Roos, president of the company, and Albert E. Schwabacher, president of Schwabacher & Co., bankers for Roos Bros. Inc., have been in Los Angeles for several days. It is understood that they discussed various prospective locations in and near Los Angeles.

MEN'S STORE BOUGHT
The company, it is reported, will acquire one of the leading independent men's stores in this section, rather than enter the field by inaugurating a new store. Roos Bros. Inc., however, owns a site on Flower street in the vicinity of Baker Brothers, but it is believed that this ground was purchased for an investment.

While Mr. Roos could not be reached yesterday for a statement, it was recalled that he was in the city, and the company was reorganized, he said. "It will be the policy of the company to acquire additional management to acquire additional stores in advantageous locations in the various cities on the Pacific Coast," he was quoted as saying.

FOUNDED IN 1885
The Roos brothers' business was founded in 1885 and is today the largest chain-store enterprise on the Pacific Coast specializing in men's clothing and furnishings. During the last year of operation it has averaged an unprofitable year, and expansion of sales during recent years is indicated by the increase from $700,000 in 1926 to more than $1,700,000 in 1927.

Roos Bros. Inc. was incorporated under Delaware laws in May, last, and began business under the name July 1. Originally, the company owned and operated six stores, in Oakland, Berkeley, Palo Alto and Fresno. February 1, a seventh unit will be opened in the Bank of Italy Building at San Jose.

Net profits of the company for the four months ended October 31, last, were $125,000, but before Federal income taxes amounted to $125,000. The company's net income for the year ended December 31, 1926, was $107,313, after Federal income taxes, and represented an increase of $21,701, or 20.24 per cent.

Associated Gas Earnings Gain

Report of Associated Gas and Electric System for the twelve months ended September 30, 1927, shows gross earnings and other income of $32,797,452, an increase of $6,088,418 or 22 per cent over the preceding year. After providing for Federal income taxes and other taxes, the company's net income for the year ended September 30, 1927, was $1,702,780, or 5.2 per cent increase over the preceding year. The company's net income for the year ended September 30, 1926, was $1,625,000, or 5.2 per cent increase over the preceding year.

Cotton Mills to Act on Dividend

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 3.—Although California Cotton Mills directors met yesterday they took no formal action on the resolution of dividends on the common stock inasmuch as the meeting was an adjourned one from the preceding one. The monthly meeting will be held the 23rd inst. and at that time it is contemplated taking some action.

POWER SALES GAIN

New Jersey Public Service Unit Reports Heavy Increase

Sales of energy of Public Service Electric and Gas Company, a subsidiary of Public Service Corporation of New Jersey, aggregated $20,328,692 kilowatts for the quarter ended September 30, last, a new record for any similar period. The company's sales for the nine months ended September 30, 1927, aggregated $66,329,325 kilowatts compared with sales of $65,774,135 kilowatts for the same period last year. TRADING ON BIG BOARD ENORMOUS

Exchange Machinery Unable to Keep Pace With Heavy Turnover

NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—(AP)—Speculation for the advance part of the week's stock trading on the New York stock exchange was hampered by the exchange machinery's inability to keep pace with the tremendous volume of trading. After the industrial averages had been lifted to a new record high for all time in the middle of the week, chief speculative interest shifted to the rail shares, which swept forward under leadership of the high-grade investment issues.

Delays of the stock ticker ran from ten to nearly thirty minutes, the longest delay taking place today when total sales fell just short of 1,800,000 shares, a new Saturday record.

Announcement of the new Ford models helped to stimulate buying enthusiasm, particularly in the case of the new Ford V8. The fuel to the speculation was the development of a new trade development, although optimistic forecasts for 1928 began making their appearance. The foreign exchange market, sterling was again the feature of the London closing, $4.86 for the first time since 1914. Other currencies on the sell side were the franc, the yen, and the Italian lira.

All the leading commodity markets advanced during the week. Wheat advanced 2 1/2 to 3 cents, and cotton closed 7 1/2 to 8 1/2 cents higher. Coffee futures to 8 1/2 to 9 1/2 cents, and sugar quotations held steady.

Call money rates stiffened temporarily owing to the heavy temporary loan to month-end settlements, but time money and commercial paper rates were unchanged.

STOCKHOLDERS AWAIT NEWS IN SOUTH SLOW

Bank of Italy and Bancitaly Shares Gain Forecast
Early Announcements; Rumors Conflict

BY KABLE E. CROWE
Stockholders up and down California who have propped through the tremendous appreciation in the market value of Bank of Italy and Bancitaly Corporation shares are plainly anticipating some more pleasant news before the year is over. The stock market is evidently discounting something of a favorable nature, but what form the announcements will take is still a debatable point among the holders of these shares.

Bank of Italy stockholders, having watched the stock push from a low of 200 3/4 in November to a high yesterday at 241 1/2, are inclined to believe that the publication of earnings since the consolidation will justify the increase in value.

Reports suggest that earnings after all charges are running at the rate of approximately $1,000,000 a year. At this rate, the total for the year would figure around $10,000,000 against annual dividend charges of $4,288,000.

GIANNINI PLANS USUAL FOREIGN BUSINESS TRIP
SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 3.—A. P. Giannini, president of the Bancitaly Corporation, will leave shortly after the first of the year for a trip to Europe on his usual visit across the continent and to Europe from which he obtains views that guide his activities in investing and operating during the remainder of the year.

"I am very bullish over the outlook for the coming year," he stated. "The Federal Reserve Bank has been a wonderful factor in stabilizing business. Prosperity has continued during the present year and with no political disturbances in the future, I am sure we will be able to show next year as well as we have done in the last twelve months."

Giannini placed great confidence in the railroad securities when making his investments in past years and is now witnessing a spectacular advance in this group.

Iron Products Reduces Rate for Common

NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—(AP)—Iron Products Corporation declared a dividend of $1 a share on the common stock, payable January 2 to stockholders of record as of December 15. A dividend of $2 1/2 a share was paid on the common stock on January 1, 1927.

The dividend is the highest since the company's incorporation in 1914. The company's earnings for the year ended December 31, 1927, were $1,000,000, an increase of 25 per cent over the preceding year.

Cotton Market Tone Firmer at Higher Levels

NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—(Exclusive)—The cotton market was more active today and stronger with prices higher. It was a continuation of the gradual speculative position from its well-liquidated and overvalued condition early in the year. The market was characterized by a steady upward movement in the reports of cotton production in the South.

COTTON DEMAND LOANS AND INVESTMENTS UP

Reserve Banks' Steady Gain Shown
Few Buyers Filling Options for December

Offerings from Farms Light; Growers Firm
Traders Waiting Government Crop Estimate

MEMPHIS (Tenn.) Dec. 3.—(Exclusive)—Slow demand for spot cotton in the futures market, although the volume is somewhat increased the past week over that of the previous week, because the reserve banks are filling December commitments early for fear of a further rise in price. In the face of a demand that is greatly reduced and a drop in basis of around 100 points on the staple type, offerings from the country are light, and except for a few buyers who are filling December commitments, the holding movement is slow.

Inquiry has been much less and is not expected to be higher than the preliminary crop estimate. The holding movement is slow, and the government's preliminary crop estimate is slow, and the government's preliminary crop estimate is slow.

With respect to the Bancitaly Corporation, the stockholders are running at a high of 241 1/2, and are inclined to believe that the publication of earnings since the consolidation will justify the increase in value.

Reports suggest that earnings after all charges are running at the rate of approximately $1,000,000 a year. At this rate, the total for the year would figure around $10,000,000 against annual dividend charges of $4,288,000.

EXTRA MAY COME
Perhaps the stock market activity, which is running so far ahead of the market, is due to the fact that the directors may declare a sizeable middle extra.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—(AP)—Increase of total loans and investments of Federal reserve banks to a new high of $21,193,304,000 for October as compared with $20,800,000,000 for September, was the result of a fairly steady growth this year. August, loans and investments were $20,800,000,000, and in September the total was $21,193,304,000.

The increase is regarded as seasonal, and is not expected to be higher than the preliminary crop estimate. The holding movement is slow, and the government's preliminary crop estimate is slow.

Grain Futures Close Week on Higher Ground

CHICAGO, Dec. 2. (Reuter)—A broadening in general speculative interest in the grain markets was reflected in an advance in prices to a new high on the present movement, with May rate and rye at a new high on the crop. Barring was of a general character, with selling against daily and weekly offers a factor in checking the price. Wheat gained $\frac{1}{8}$ ¢ to $\frac{1}{4}$ ¢, with December $\frac{1}{8}$ ¢ to $\frac{1}{4}$ ¢ and May $\frac{1}{8}$ ¢ to $\frac{1}{4}$ ¢. Corn was $\frac{1}{8}$ ¢ to $\frac{1}{4}$ ¢ higher, with December $\frac{1}{8}$ ¢ to $\frac{1}{4}$ ¢ and May $\frac{1}{8}$ ¢ to $\frac{1}{4}$ ¢. Oats were $\frac{1}{8}$ ¢ to $\frac{1}{4}$ ¢ higher and rye $\frac{1}{8}$ ¢ to $\frac{1}{4}$ ¢ lower.

While grain prices were slightly lower earlier in the week, they were again liquidated by sustained demand for the December contract, which has reversed their earlier decline and the highest prices of the week were made toward the close, wheat 74 1/4@74 3/4 higher, corn 34 1/4@34 3/4, oats 24 1/4@24 3/4 and soybeans 44 1/4@44 3/4 higher, than the finish of the previous week. Lard was 7 1/2@7 3/4, tallow 10 1/4@10 3/4 higher, while the rest was 1/2 to 3/4 higher. The market was quiet for the most part, but a few belated weakens in wheat in Liverpool, with the close there the same as on Friday was responsible for sustained selling of futures here. for the week... 2,875 1,424 2,307 582 will be of 12-pound Utah steers topped out at 2.06.
TTLE—Bugs during the past week were moderate and with bread demand prices for their upward swing, attaining new high again last week. A fair run came in from inter-mountain states, mostly from Utah, but bulk of receipts continued to arrive from California and Arizona and were of only mediocre quality. Steer prices showed generally the higher a week ago, while the stock showed gains $4/cw, mostly 50c. Bulls sold readily at prices...

This price also tick in several grades, as did the price range of 10.25 to 6.75 for 7.
Strictly good steers were quoted up to 3.50.
Haf a load of medium to good steers made 10.50, while several loads of part loads of medium steers went from 9.50 to 10.50. Weighted steers were in the supply, practically none weighing 100 pounds being included. Common steers, Mexicans, were sold liberal in the run, from 8.00 to 25, mostly 8.75 to 9.00. The lots of very thin kinds sold down to 7.75.

load of good 800-pound Wyoming hatters sold at $9.06. Several Inuarinas and small loads from 8.75 to $9.00, with a few higher prices and heifers cashed for $3.50, while top cows in load lots made $3.50. The bulk of steers and low good cows, mostly northern, averaged from 7.50 to $9.25, with common and low grades including the majority of Arizona cows. Several loads of Arizona comebacks at the latter price, while a part load of heifers averaging 737 pounds made $3.50. Of the dairy type cows ranged from 8.25 to $9.00, with some of the best of the heavy milking steers, while a few weighty line cows sold up to $3.00. Cattle and low native

Activities of Hosts and Hostesses in Society's Week

Imperial Valley
The charming social events of the week in the Imperial Valley were held at the home of Mrs. Jean Hunsaker, who substituted, for the guest prize, a group of friends at a luncheon Tuesday evening. Mrs. C. H. Hunsaker of New York City was the honor guest. A host of fruits was used as the central decorative motif, attractive cards bearing the names of the guests were placed around the table. Following dinner, a musical program was presented. The brilliant autumn leaves and flowers were used as decorations around the room. The guests of the luncheon were Mr. and Mrs. Hunsaker, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Smith and Miss Louise Anderson.

Redlands
A dinner-dance was one of the big features of the week for the members of the country club. Among those who entertained with dinner were Dr. and Mrs. E. W. Burke and Dr. and Mrs. W. C. Miller. Among the out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Cobb of Santa Barbara, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hamilton of Los Angeles, Maj. Harmin of March Field, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Packer and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Roberts of San Bernardino.

Long Beach
The Virginia Country Club was chosen as the scene of a series of bridge luncheons given by Mrs. John Mumblin and Mrs. M. O. Blitt, the first of which took place on Saturday, November 26. Mrs. Blitt's affair, with twenty-four guests, on Monday Mrs. Blitt and Mrs. Mumblin entertained 100 friends at luncheon with bridge following, and on Wednesday, Mrs. Mumblin's party numbered thirty. Much interest was taken in the final in the bridge scores. Potentillas and the Christmas colors were the inspiration for the decorations at all three functions.

Porterville
Decorated to represent a Spanish garden, with flowers, grasses and fountains, the cafeteria of Porterville Union High School formed an artistic setting for an entertainment staged by the Spanish club of the school. This took the form of a Spanish fiesta. A bullfight, serenades, Spanish word-guessing, cock fight, formal sombrero dance, presentation of a short play, a fencing match and a talk by a Spanish girl of the club on "Mistaken Impressions of Spain," were features of the program. F. S. Copeland and B. E. Jamison staged a wooden sword combat, representing Mexican desperadoes.

State Break Action to Be Held Tuesday
"Shall West Rebel remain with the federation, or shall West Rebel withdraw from the federation?" This is one of the greatest problems that has ever confronted West Rebel and will come up for discussion at a "for members only" meeting held in the auditorium of the clubhouse at 2 p. m. on Tuesday. The club joined the district and State federation in May, 1917. The recreational feature presented, the discussion will be a talk by Mrs. Dena Randolph, Mrs. B. G. Johnson, accompanied by Mrs. B. G. Dixon, and members of the club, will sing Charles Wakefield Cadman's "Love's Sunrise."

SUCCESSFUL MEN ALL IGNORE FEAR
Economic fears constitute 95 per cent of the fears of men. Chief among these fears, according to the personal experience of this writer, are fear of poverty, fear of losing the job, fear of slipping backward.

IS HOKUM BUNK?
Several clever essays, led by Katherine Fullerton Gerould's in Harper's, have been printed lately on the nature of hokum. The world itself has made great progress in the last two or three years. It has absorbed at least into itself all those earlier expressions intended to convey the same idea: Twaddle, flim-flam, fustian, loch, gammon, hocus-pocus, tomfoolery, buncombe, bam. And undoubtedly others. Yet "hokum" means something a little different from any of these earlier expressions. Doubtless "bunk" comes near it. Essentially "hokum" means falsehood. It also means pretense. "Bunk" means pretense, but it may be the truth. Mrs. Gerould imports shades of meaning to both "hokum" and "bunk" which the words do not possess in ordinary speech, as for example when she says that "in life, it is bunk; in art, it is hokum." It is easy to see what she means, but her connotation is too imaginative for ordinary use. There was a time, no doubt, when people meant by "flim-flam" what they now mean by "hokum," but "flim-flam" comes from a foolish thimble-rigging deception, whereas "hokum" is broader in its significance.

THE "Snake Lovers" of China
Begging is a thoroughly organized profession in China and the beggars' guilds are powerful organizations. The beggar lives in indescribable squalor, but often he is destitute in name and appearance only. The guilds wield a powerful influence, especially in the interior provinces. By a form of blackmail they collect "flower dues" from such persons as they are able to abstract them from. They pick out a possible victim and if he refuses their demands he is pursued until he is compelled to submit or is broken by the efforts of the guild. The head of one of the guilds, in explaining the presence of a basket full of snakes in the courtyard of the guild headquarters, said: "Some of our members find these snakes useful in collecting their flower dues from greedy-hearted ones. To dwell upon the fierce love of money in men, and especially in women, weighs down the spirit. Often the tao-tan has to throw a snake around a woman's neck before she will drop her grudging gift. The act invariably arouses in those who behold it so great a degree of terror that they quickly avoid similar inconvenience."

Strawberries the size of duck eggs, onions weighing three and one-half pounds each, apples tipping the scales at eighteen ounces and leeks more than twelve inches long have been raised by a man of Bath, Eng., who, with his son, has won 7500 prizes for garden products.

Rag dealers of Northern Europe plan to combine and get a corner on the rag market in order to boost the prices.

AMERICAN INDIAN PRINTS

The American Indian—his tribal customs, his characteristics, his dress and other phases of his living have been the inspiration for the American Indian Prints. This new 1928 series of printed silks is now available at Bullock's.

Vivid, strangely fascinating in design. A collection of twelve different patterns carried out in many subtle and sophisticated color blendings. Each design represents a different tribe.

The legendary lore, the symbolism, the eerie mystery in the life of the first American have been feelingly transcribed to silk. All found in the symbols, the pictorial motifs featured in the designs. Reproduced in delightful color combinations on

DOPE FIENDS BEGIN YOUNG

People seldom become drug addicts after they attain the age of 30. If they do, it usually is the result of the legitimate use of narcotics during a serious illness, declares Ralph H. Oyler, Federal narcotic agent, in an article in Liberty.

"The young addict," continues the author, "usually acquires the habit through bad company. Take a high-strung, sensitive person out of his natural environment, and you have a likely victim. Bad company, plenty of dissipation, accepting a 'sure cure' for a headache after too much bootleg liquor, a powder to jase up flagging nerves after a protracted spree, or just one 'shot' to see what it is like and get a kick out of life—those are some of the ways by which young men and women are now acquiring the habit."

Billy: Do you think I'm a perfect idiot then?

Barbara: No; nobody is perfect.—London Answer.

FESTAL AIR IN STORES MARKED

Christmas Displays Outshine Dress of Other Years

Lavish Use of Silver Outries More Brilliant Colors

Final Word Believed Uttered in Holiday Decoration

BY OLIVE GRAY

Each season we have thought that the ultimate in store decoration had been attained; but each season more beauty is disclosed. Now, however, the holiday attire of our downtown stores presents something so chastely lovely, that we cannot but declare the final word has been uttered. The lavish use of silver, so effective, so conservative, so in keeping with the season when our thoughts turn to wintry scenes natural to Christmas time, is far more pleasing than any commingling of more brilliant colors. Especially arresting are the windows of the Broadway Department Store, where tall silvered pine trees form the background, carrying the thought to forest and mountainside. Nature's own expression of the festive time. Inside this store, this metallic effect again is used in valances of silvery

WRITING OF SONGS DECLARED GREAT FUN BY CROONER

Writing a song is great fun, thinks Gene Austin, "crooning tenor" of Victor records, who will sing new and old favorite song numbers for patrons of the Orpheum Theater today.

"First, there is the urge to write," he says. "Then there is the actual writing. And, no matter what I may be doing, I start immediately on the writing when the mood comes to me. Finally, comes the smoothing-over of the rough edges, with a word for two aided or omitted, or a note or two changed here and there.

"My wife is the best judge of my songs and I always go by her opinion. She represents the public to me. If she says thumbs down on a line, it will never get into a song of mine."

shen, in wreaths and in foliage; tall candles in metallic green and silver sconces against the pillars adding to the festive air.

Silver and green is the color scheme at Walker's, where the salient features are the immense wreaths of green and silver which dominate the aisles.

In the Paris Store, J.J. Haggerty's silver and crimson plumes are a pleasing feature.

At Rodell's the season's flower, the glad pansy in velvet, is profusely used, square jardinières of these being set against the pillars, throughout the store.

Bullock's as always, presents a decorative scheme, well thought out and

Among the song successes composed by Austin are "Charleston," "How Can You Be So Blue," "Do," "When My Sugar Walks Down the Street."

"Audiences," says Austin, "are about evenly divided as to a choice between blues numbers and ballads. Their applause as a rule rings even, though I have found that often at the matinee the sentimental ballads go better.

"I always liked to sing ballads and 'blues' and it wasn't long after I started singing them in public that I discovered they held a real appeal for folks. So even when I was doing orchestral work, I still specialized in ballad and 'blues' singing.

Francis X. Bushman will be the other headline attraction on the new Orpheum bill.

The striking feature here is that of the prancing reindeer, cupped in red and silver, the bodies of these fantastic Christmas beasts being of brightly polished silver—as if Santa had recently groomed his steeds. Modernistic effects in green, red and silver, add their quota of charm to the silvered foliage, in wreaths and trees and shrubs, throughout the many floors at Bullock's.

At the Ville de Paris—B. H. Dyan Company—gay crimson lanterns swing from an intricate of silvered Italian grill work, lend a festive air, on the entrance floor, while the floors above are set with sconced candles in metallic green and silver. Old Santa has assumed his holiday seat astride the clock at the corner of the building. Condit's emphasis is on desert growths which are so much in favor—the white desert holly, pines and branches of desert trees, silvered as if by sparkling snow, tall urns with silvery shrubs, wreaths in red and green and silver.

At Robinson's, chaste elegance is the keynote. Tall candle sticks resembling carved silver, support big candles of silver, each of these wreathed in pine wreaths with metallic tinted cones. A novel note is sounded in the quaint figurines in color, depicting Christmas carols, as they stand in glad array bracketed before the pillars throughout the store.

Barker Brothers' windows are arousing to the imagination. Against a background of silvery blue, silver stars stand forth, reminding of that first Christmas night, when the Three Wise Men ventured forth carrying gifts of frankincense and myrrh. The trees looming against this sky-like background, are impressionistic in outline, as one might imagine them when seen upon the horizon of a moon-lighted night. One especially interesting example of this modernistic art is a silver tree among whose branches silver candles are alight. Inside, the lobby is enlivened by two-story high Christmas trees.

At the May Company's store, immense lanterns, swinging from Italian grill work, light the scene with a crimson, filtered glow, while at the corners of many stands throughout the store, great green candles tower, their lighted "twicks" aglow. Each doorway giving upon the streets is topped by a big Christmas tree.

Blackstone's displays a color scheme in red, green and silver, in keeping with the chaste elegance of the merchandise there on exhibition. The women's stores are also acute in offering Christmas artistry. Desmond's windows display wreaths of silver pine, and trees of the same character, while the lobby with its vaulted mezzanine, is hung in tapers suggestive of holiday festivity. A starry gleam in sapphire velvet, here seems to en-ey the store.

Mullen & Blunt present a picture in their windows, reminding one of an English scene in the days of coaches—silver-framed easements being used to house displays of men's wares, tied with Christmas ribbons, and many of the garments in the Christmas colorings.

Silverwoods chose silver for the entire background and to frame the windows and the doorways, of their display front, wherein are exemplified the most authentic of the day's Christmas colorings.

Scarcely a store or shop in the downtown district, but that has taken on a festive, decorative air, interesting and inspiring.

MAN PASSES IN EAST

Known to many members of the motion-picture colony, Fred J. Beecroft, firm advertising manager, died Thursday night at his home in Little Neck, Long Island. Word of his passing was received yesterday by William McCormick, western representative of the Motion Picture News, with which Mr. Beecroft has been associated for the past eleven years. He was 50 years of age, and for twenty years was identified with theatrical publications. He will be buried today from New Rochelle. Death was caused by heart disease.

JOSEPHINE BAKER, TAKES PARIS

In the music halls of Paris one of the brightest stars, in spite of her dark skin, is Josephine Baker. Josephine is a negro girl born at St. Louis twenty-one years ago. She is now one of the most famous dancers in the world. At the famous Folies Bergere of Paris she is a "riot," a howling success, and she regularly fills the place to overflowing.

It is not classic dancing, Josephine Baker dances in her own way—the original Charleston before it was imitated and diluted by the whites. She comes on the stage like a whirlwind, dancing with every part of her body once, punctuating every note of the orchestra as if she were directing it. She writhes, twirls, swings her arms, makes faces, prances and kicks, and finally goes off the stage "on all fours" in such a comical manner that the audience always roars for her return.

While this dance dancer's energy seems inexhaustible she also appears to be level-headed, notwithstanding the spotlight that is blazing around her. After the theater she dances in a cabaret—her own. She also cooks for her cabaret clients, and has published recipes of her dishes. To develop her arms, she advised beauty seekers, nothing is better than wielding a dishcloth.—[Pittsburgher]

ROPE WOULD'NT STAND TEST

George Butler of Chicago was a rope-maker. In a way, he bought up discarded rope cut it into towing lengths, treated it with creosote and sold it to autolists. Butler was proud of his low-rope until a $1000 verdict was returned against him in a suit by an autoliste. It seems that the fellow had relied on Butler's low-rope to pull his car out of a ditch and the rope broke at the wrong time, allowing auto and autoliste to go over an embankment.

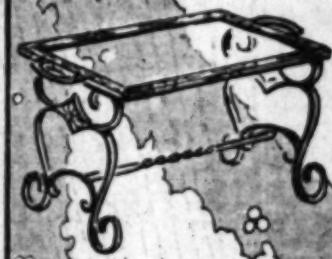

"They have lied about me," said Butler in a faraway note. Yes, he had decided to end it all. "I shall show them my ropes are the best in the world." So he adjusted one of his own ropes around his neck. The janitor found him the next morning with a broken neck—his neck was all right. The rope had parted six inches from the hook. Butler still lives.

READING CLUB WILL GIVE MUSICALE-TEA

A Christmas musicale-tea will be the social event for the month of December at the Nutcracker Opera Reading Club. This affair will be held at the home of Mrs. A. R. Gates and Mrs. Carl Earl, 2125 South Harvard Boulevard, Friday afternoon, from 2:30 to 5:30. Artists on the program are to be: Mrs. E. J. Bush, Rolia Alford, Sol Cohn, and the McPhee Quartet, accompanied by Mrs. MacDonald. Tickets for the tea may be secured from Mrs. J. C. Ferguson, 1814 17th St., or Mrs. J. C. Ferguson, WA 1777 or the Reading Club.

AM EXECUTIVES PROMISE TO HELP CONSERVE FORESTS

The "Tree" is a slogan that has been brought to the attention of the public through the efforts of the American Green Cross. The slogan is a call to action, a call to conserve the forests of our country. The American Green Cross is a national organization of public spirited citizens who are working for the conservation of our forests. The organization is composed of men and women of all ages and of all professions. They are working for the conservation of our forests in many ways. They are planting trees, they are fighting against the destruction of our forests, and they are educating the public about the importance of our forests. TRIO OF PLAYS SCHEDULED comparative comedies contrasting in dramatic art, Australia, Italy, France and America. Included in the cast will be Dot Baker, Betty Angell, Florence Ormonde and Catharine Colt. "Collaboration," the third play, is by Sada Cowan. The play is a fine example of construction with its economy, having but three characters in big situations, played by Roger Williams, Lucille Willard and Jack Mather. The plays will be produced under the direction of Anna C. Dowdall of the Ruth Helen Davis School of Acting. Specialty numbers will be introduced between the acts by Betty Angell; musical reading, by Dot Baker; and songs by Catharine Colt. This event marks a fine production that Miss Davis has given at the club since her return from Europe and the productions follow the policy of the drama department of the club in presenting American plays by American authors.

EX-KAISER TELLS WHY Germany lost the war because she lost faith in God and herself, declares Wilhelm II, ex-Kaiser of Germany, in an interview by George Sylvester Viereck in Liberty. Questioned as to his philosophy of life, the royal exile replied: "I am sixty-eight. Looking backward from the pinnacle of my years and my experience, I am glad to say that I have no philosophy except my religion. We can do nothing except by the grace of God," Wilhelm continued. "We must try our best. We must dig in our souls to unearth every talent buried within us; that when even-tide comes we may be satisfied with our work. For the rest, we must place our trust in the Lord. This is what life means to me."

The interviewer then asked why Germany, professing to believe in God, had lost the war. To which the former Kaiser answered: "Because we did not obey God in all things; because we hesitated to bear the worst; because we refused in the end to face all risks in preserving faith! The man of little faith is almost worse than the man of no faith at all. 'The German people performed miracles of endurance,' he continued, 'but, at the last, they failed. The supreme miracle can be accomplished only by faith. We should have fought to the very last, the very last round of ammunition.'"

Although "face-lifting" may keep a person youthful in looks, science has yet to discover any method of rejuvenating hands, which give away age even more thoroughly than faces.

Struggle to Reach Goal Disclosed

Carrie Jacobs-Bond from a Painting

CARRIE JACOBS-BOND, author of "The End of a Perfect Day," "I Love You Truly," the music for Frank Stanton's "Just a Wearyin' For You," and composer of hundreds of other soul-stirring melodies which have been literally "sung" around the world, has written the story of her life, most appropriately calling it "The Roads of Melody." It is a simple, modest account of a busy life, rich in human interest, colorful, poignant, and with unwavering cheerfulness—no woe and no despairing of her own song.

"The only thing that seems to me as all remarkable about my life is that I was nearly 35 years of age before I ever even thought of having a career," Mrs. Bond says, but her readers will find many other things in her life more remarkable than that. While in her autobiography she shows she was sincere in that statement, making no attempt to appear exceptional, every turn of her life indicates to all discerning persons the most remarkable fortitude, perseverance and never-failing courage which enabled her to win through in spite of everything.

APPEALS TO AVERAGE FOLK
Robert Emmet Macdaniels, in his brief foreword to "The Roads of Melody," refers to "the mode of the moment" bidding us to shun sentimentality. "Yet we average folk," he adds, "whether or no we deny it, are incurably sentimental . . . and more than once a song of Carrie Jacobs-Bond has set us free." So in the story of the composer's life, in the history of her more famous and less-loved melodies, in her descriptions of bitter failures and of epic triumphs, we average, sentimental folk are again set free from the "mode of the moment," and with her own the fields of history, tread the flower-strewn path of drama.

Showing a marked inclination toward music from her earliest youth, American schools for average minds

The basic idea in American education seems to be to lead the whole outdoors. One of Harvard's great teachers, Barrett Wendell, once suggested that the degree of bachelor of arts be conferred upon every American child at birth, and that special certificates be granted for any work that might be done later on.

We can argue about it any way we like, but the fact remains that our schools and even colleges are set up for the average rather than for the gifted. The theory is to put everyone on a common platform and raise them together.

But the pace cannot exceed the average; the poorer minds must be carried along, even if the brighter suffer. Whatever democratic advantages there may be in this system in breaking up caste and social distinctions, such a leveling influence and such identity of training cannot fail to produce evils of their own.

Such numbers involved that the product bears the inevitable mark of quantity production and of mediocrity. No many millions cannot be taught through high school and such great numbers through college without leaving the impress of a cut-and-dried steam roller quality.

The whole institution, high school and college, speaking broadly, is relatively easy to do, and is set up for the average mind. So many do it without possessing any pronounced or even real intellectual ability, and yet are puffed by the system as having the college label, that actual distinction evaporates. You cannot keep adding water to one soup bone without diluting the soup. (Albert W. Atwood in the Saturday Evening Post.)

CIVILIZATION'S ILLS
When some disgruntled genius of the jungle, disatisfied with the lack of soap, newspapers and underwear, got up the idea of civilization, he unwittingly let the "so-called human race" in for a host of unexpected troubles. He, no doubt, held out to his fellows a glittering prospect of wealth, comfort, joyous, rapid transit, limousines, Pullmans, medicines, hospitals, welfare workers, radio, airplanes, chewing gum and telephones; a wife, a college education, and three square meals a day for everybody; and the Salvation Army to take care of the unemployed.

It took him several thousand years to put the scheme over, there have been a good many hitches in the program, and, indeed, quite a sizable portion of the human race is not "sold" on the idea yet. (The Near Age of Man, by A. E. Wiggen.)

ANCIENT ARCHITECTURE
An architect's drawing, believed to be by far the oldest in the world, discovered in Mesopotamia, is described by Dr. J. Stuart, a Viennese engineer. This 4000-year-old equivalent to a blueprint was in a fragmentary condition, but three of the pieces fit accurately together, showing part of the ground plan of what must have been a very large house. The walls and doorways for seven rooms are indicated by accurately and clearly drawn lines, and the drawing gives the dimensions. The largest room was 40x60 feet, and the scale of the drawing is 1 to 500.

Film Fans Not Destructive as Critics, He Says

Are modern motion-picture fans "destructive critics"? Jean Harlow, who is now portraying the leading role in "The Sign of the Cross" for Paramount, having been loaned to that organization by Universal, being a staunch defender of present-day theater patrons, answers the foregoing question with an emphatic "no."

"There is a great deal of talk nowadays about the public being so hard to please, but I don't believe there has ever been a time when everyone connected with motion pictures has received more encouragement from those outside the industry than at present," says Harlow. "The well-known actor theme the contrast to the stage and the screen. 'On the legitimate stage a thespian knows how well he is succeeding with his art in so far as the public is concerned by the 'head' he gets during the curtain call. On the screen he would be completely lost. The fact that motion-picture fans nowadays are on the qui vive and engage in wide discussion of photoplays. Thus they supply a reaction akin to that of audiences in the so-called legitimate houses," Harlow explains.

Her First Role Found Handicap in Other Films

While it may be only a saying that first impressions are lasting, in Betty Bronson's case it is surely a reality, because of the particularly strong impression she created in her first starring vehicle.

Arising to stardom from comparative obscurity by her performance in "Peter Pan," Miss Bronson naturally feels a great deal of gratitude to Harlow's creation for its part in her success, but she feels that the same picture that brought her fame is now tending to handicap her career, chiefly because the public does not seem to want to see her again as a new character, but rather as the same person.

Clown First Selected for "Four Devils"

J. Farrell MacDonald, Fox Film character actor, is the first screen player selected by F. W. Murnau, the European director of "Sunrise," for his second American-made picture, "The Four Devils." MacDonald will play the role of an old clown, one of the most domestic and sympathetic parts he has had in his long screen career.

"The Four Devils" is a story with a circus background and deals with the lives of a troupe of aerial acrobats. Written by Herman Bang, the Danish author, it is a colorful, powerful story which unfolds drama with comedy in a modern setting.

Technicians under the direction of Mr. Murnau have already started building sets for "The Four Devils." The first under construction is a small circus to be used in a prologue. Actual shooting will start about the first week in December.

New Burlesque Offering Comes to the Burbank

Fair weather having been predicted for the coming few weeks, the Burbank Theater opens this afternoon, with a burlesque offering entitled "Let's Get Together."

The lines, the music and the plot around which the action is developed is based on a satirical story of the good fellow; who is one's best friend until trouble looms on the horizon.

The part of the "Good Time Charley" is taken by George Clark, who is usually seen and heard in French coming parts, and the specialties in the way of songs and dances and dialogues, are presented by the rest of the Burbank favorites including Lee "Bud" Harrison, Gene Darby, Mack Mahon, Bill Grinnell, Violet Hubbard, Fern Emmert, Sol Grauman, the thirty Burbank girls, and Lou Traveler and his orchestra.

Moreno Winds Up Work on "Whip Woman"

Antonio Moreno completed work this week in "The Whip Woman," in which he is featured with Estelle Taylor.

Latest rumors are to the effect that Moreno and Miss Taylor may again be featured in another Robert Kane production for First National. The story that the two players are to make is said to be a Spanish romance.

In "The Whip Woman" Moreno enacts the role of a young Hungarian nobleman who falls in love with a peasant girl. The theme, although not a new one, is said to be unique in its treatment, and provides Moreno with a great opportunity for characterization.

NEW SCREEN RECORD IS WON BY DIRECTOR

"Old San Francisco," the current attraction at the Criterion Theater, produced for Warner Brothers under the direction of Alan Crosland, is to be followed by another Crosland production, "The Jazz Singer," with Al Jolson in the leading role.

Author Tries His Hand at Film Acting

Capt. Felix Rosenberg, who wrote "East Side, West Side," which is now showing at the Tower Theater, has been making his mark in the course of a career, but never until his book was being made into a film at the Fox New York studio did he try his hand at acting.

During the production he was a frequent visitor on the Allan Dwan set, and showed great interest in the technical details of picture making.

"How would you like to do a bit?" asked Dwan one day, when a tutor was needed in the classroom of engineering, for a sequence in the picture.

"I'd like it," said the captain promptly. And so with the Kodak lights glancing down and the camera clicking, Capt. Felix Rosenberg made his debut in the motion-picture industry.

"The Warner Brothers' Vitaphone show this week at the Tower features Rose Hulse and Clarence Hulse, both of the Chicago Grand Opera Company, in duets from "The Trovatore." The Reveller's orchestra is also being featured.

The William Fox Film with Moritones is also to be presented at each performance at the Tower Theater. Thesequence use the same scenes with the aid of the latest talking device.

One-Man Stock Company May Be Revived

Douglas Fairbanks may recognize his historic "stock company." The quotations are used advisedly, for Doug's "stock company," although it had existed for three years, never comprised more than one player.

That player was Frank Campau—and the rumor of Frank's return to Doug's support in his next picture, of course, predicated a revival of his famous "one-man" stock company.

Doug placed Campau under contract shortly after the latter had made his screen debut, in the leading role of "Jordan is a Hard Road," directed by David Wark Griffith. However, it was his second screen effort, "The Light of the Moon," with Tom Mix, that registered most with Doug, as it evidenced Campau's value in western environments.

So Doug forthwith sent for Campau, and as he had in mind the formation of a stock company at that time, he offered him a stock contract as an added inducement to make the trip to Wyoming, where he was about to film "The Man from Painted Post."

Campau signed the contract and went to Wyoming, but he was the only one to be engaged as a stock player, as it happened.

A memorable three years of climatic association followed, in which he appeared in featured supporting roles in twelve productions starring Fairbanks.

On occasion Doug would "knock down" his "stock company" to produce, play and exhibit friends on the set. During this time, Campau Doug sprang a pet idea. "Meet in stock company, folks," he would say.

Norman Sprowl Players Offer New Vehicle

Norman Sprowl announces "Two Fellows and a Girl" as his next production at the Figueroa Playhouse, opening with the new show Monday night. This is the first time that the George M. Cohan play has ever been done in Los Angeles, and also the first time here that Lucille Powers, ingenue, and newest addition to the Norman Sprowl Players, has been seen in this city.

Stage Director Ferdinand Murnier sees success both for the play and the new actress. As for the play itself, it ran for twenty weeks in the Cohan Theater in Chicago, and finished the season in the Vanderbilt Theater in New York.

Character Traxway is playing the part of Lee Ellery played by Ruth Shipley in the original cast, while the parts of Jim Dale and Daria Wedderburn, played respectively by Allan Dinehart and Claborn Power in New York, will be done here by Richard Tucker and Lucille Powers.

J. Morris Foster will portray the role of Jack Moreland, rival for the hand of Lee Ellery to Jim Dale, while Ferdinand Murnier has charge of the part of Mr. Ellery and Fred Hargrave plays Johnson.

It is a comedy having to do with the selection made by a girl as to which boy she should marry, and deciding by the toss of a coin. In later married years she is not quite sure just whether she was right or not, and leans to the other boy, but the intervention of another girl straightens the matter out to satisfaction.

Films Troupe Learns Art of Circus Make-up

A school of movie make-up and circus make-up in which teachers teach each other, is being conducted in Fullman on a sliding rail Baldwin Park, Cal.

There, at the winter quarters of the Al O. Barnes Circus, the First National Pictures organization is producing a circus film called "The Sign of the Cross." Mary Astor and Lloyd Hughes, featured in the picture, with other film actors, are being housed in the Fullman with circus performers who are also in the picture.

Since practical circus performances figure in the picture, circus folk and movie folk alike must wear circus make-up, which does not come readily, and has a style and technique all its own. But the camera records these performances, hence the circus make-up must also be correct in photographic quality.

As a solution to the problem, the two groups of celebrities help each other with the separate problems of their make-up. Tests conducted by Director Marshall Niles proved that an effective compromise between the two make-up techniques had been reached, and henceforth all circus scenes will be filmed with the dual-purpose make-up.

"AMATEUR GENTLEMAN"

According to Malcolm St. Clair, who directed Paramount's production of "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes," an "amateur gentleman" is a man who falls in love with a girl with bleached

NEW OPERA REVIEWS
BY MISS GOETZ

Miss Goetz's pictured opera reviews have made an appeal in Los Angeles, Hollywood and San Francisco. There will be monthly opera reviews at the Los Angeles Public Library and at Hollywood Chamber of Commerce, beginning the 15th.

LOCAL SINGER WINS SUCCESS

The many Los Angeles friends of Miss Shaffner will be very pleased to learn of the success Miss Shaffner has had in New York and the East. At a recent concert given in Portland, Me., the Portland Herald writes of Miss Shaffner's "The Blue Bird" created a certain sensation by her wonderful voice, the perfection of her technique and her pleasing personality.

MUSIC NOTES

Seattle is rapidly taking its place among the cities of cultural development aided by the Seattle Symphony under Karl Krueger, who is well known here. Reports of the first orchestra concert are glowing in tributes to his genius.

Pupils of the Nature Music School are busily working on the Christmas recital and play to be given the middle of December in the new Ethel clubhouse. A short program, "The Spirit of Christmas," will open the program, followed by a representative piano recital and dance revue.

As a tribute to her ability as composer, Miss Edna Heard of Santa Monica, a graduate of the college of music, University of Southern California, and former voice pupil of Mrs. Annie Mottram Batten, secured the first prize of $100 for her original song competition entitled "My African Maid." This prize was awarded by the Circle Guild of Writers and Artists for excellence in art and literature.

Philip Tronita, concert pianist and pedagogue, is presenting a number of his students in a recital Friday night at the Hollywood Conservatory.

"They That Go Down to the Sea in Ships," a duet for contralto and baritone, by Roland Kugel, organist and choirmaster of St. John's Episcopal Church of Los Angeles, will be sung at the First Baptist Church, Los Angeles, this evening. The entire musical program of this service will be devoted to compositions of Dr. Diggle, including the anthems, "Blessed Be the Lord," "Hallelujahs," and organ compositions to be played by David L. Wright, organist of the church. The musical selections will be given by the chorus choir of eighty voices, Alexander Stewart, director, and soloists Florence Steffens Scott, soprano; Mildred Ware, contralto; J. Malcolmson Huddy, tenor, and Edward Adair, bass.

Guido Casellotti, voice teacher and opera coach of Los Angeles and Long Beach, will present three pupils in a concert which will be held in the Music Art Hall on Saturday afternoon. Carina Lee, coloratura soprano, will be heard in arias from La Traviata, Romeo and Juliet, and several English numbers, while Leah Pemberton, mezzo-soprano, will sing arias from Herodias and Tosca, together with an Italian classical, William Blust, baritone, will sing songs by Bizet, La Forge, MacDermid, Russell and Gilbert.

George Klam, violinist and teacher, who has been conducting studios in the Music Art Building since coming from Minneapolis, announces that one of his pupils, Mary Louise Woollett, has just been awarded a Juilliard scholarship in New York. Miss Woollett will continue to study with Mr. Klam, who has a wide reputation as a teacher. Two former pupils of Mr. Klam, E. Weinstein and A. Goldberg, have just joined the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra this season as first violinists.

TERPSICHORE

Diane Rubin, daughter of Jan Rubin, musical director of the Criterion Theatre, has started her dancing career under the direction of Theodore Kosloff.

Diane is 9 years of age and will be taught all the rudiments of ballet dancing. Her parents want her to be trained for the professional stage.

Another Theodore Kosloff ballet company besides the Carthy Circle and Ostrum's Chinese companies are now touring the West in the production to Olga Grey's latest picture, "The Old Dancer," which played at the Million Dollar for two weeks, and repeated that success in San Francisco.

It is Kosloff's policy to arrange extensive vacation several times a year for his professional ballet dancers. Last summer the girls enjoyed a two weeks outing at Catalina Island.

The Ernest E. Ryan School of Dancing, 1500 South Figueroa street, is announcing the forming of a strictly professional class both for children and adults in step and tap dancing. Since the opening of this department in the school, Mr. Ryan is agreeably surprised at the splendid response shown and in order to demonstrate Miss Evans' remarkable method of training dancers, the children's class which meets at 10 o'clock Saturday mornings will be open to visitors.

Adagio teams who received their training in the Marie Wallace Studio of Dancing are bringing fame to Earle Wallace in all parts of the world. He and Frank, the adagio team that created a sensation in Jack Loughlin's production to "What Price Glory," have closed an engagement at the Palais Royal in Sydney, Australia, and are now booked for extensive engagements in Paris and London.

Fawn Adler

Fawn Adler, dancer developed at the Ernest Belcher school, is the newest terpsichorean artist from this city to gain recognition in the East. Word comes from New York that the dancer has already scored hits in Philadelphia, Albany, Buffalo and Montreal, where she and her dancing partner are heading a large revue playing leading eastern hotels. The artist is a sister of Fay Adler, dancing star of "The Merry Malones" at the George M. Cohan Theatre, New York. Both dancers were trained exclusively by Belcher and are well known here for their work in Fanchon and Marco acts.

MANY CHANGES

With a sigh, "many is the time I wish I had continued with screen work instead of giving it up for the stage. Perhaps if I had (this with a sigh) I would have an estate in Beverly Hills and a large collection of foreign motor cars. As things stand—I have nothing but the semirigorous of an artistic urge... but I suppose I should be thankful for that."

Miss Markay's screen career dates back to the Thomas Rice days. She stepped straight from high school into leading roles opposite such actresses of the time as William S. Hart, the Farnum Brothers, all of the other stars connected with the Rice studio.

"I had some screen tests made just the other day," she said with a smile, "and it seems just like a new industry. Everything is highly improved. Lighting, I believe, has taken the greatest step forward in the old days lights were used for the practical purpose of artificial sunlight... only! Now they are used to obtain the most intricate effects. The modern electrician must be able to do something more than turn a switch on and off... he must be just as fine an artist in his line as the directors or designers are in theirs."

"The same, only if possible to a greater degree, holds true of the cameraman. I remember the time when everyone from the janitor up was eligible to turn the camera crank. Heaven help the stars if that held true today."

From all reports, Miss Markay's screen tests have been extremely successful, and it may not be so long before she will once again be numbered among the exponents of the silent drama.

Unfortunately, however, she will have to give up any chances for a screen role in the next few months as a contract calls her back to New York for the leading role in the January opening of "The Markay," an Edgar Selwyn production.

"Mr. Selwyn saw it played in Paris," she said, "but there it was staged as a serious drama. He has taken it and made it over into what is said to be a delightful comedy. I haven't read it yet but I understand it is quite light and lives up to everything. If not a little bit more than one associates with a French farce... so perhaps I'll be back sooner than I anticipate," she said with a very meaning smile.

FLATS FOR WOMEN
PROVE A SUCCESS

Over two years ago an organization known as the United Women's Homes Association, was founded in Great Britain in order to meet the needs of single or widowed women who found it difficult to obtain suitable accommodation. This was regarded as a public utility, society under the provisions of the industrial and provident societies act, and Barry Parker was appointed as consulting architect.

Affairs of the Week

by Juana Neal Levy

With the Christmas holidays, that season of the year which is always associated with giving, one's calendar is fast filling up with affairs of social intent, bazaar and Christmas sales holding the foreground of the week, serving two purposes, one of aiding some worthy philanthropy and the other that of supplying articles for Christmas presents, which these occasions becoming an almost unbreakable link, as one's list grows longer and longer.

Another donation is the magnificent box of the Copeland Company, of which Russell Alger is manager in the Crown City, and some fortunate persons will be awarded these prizes Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Earl V. Armstrong is in charge of the evening's affair, being the general chairman, and shortly afterward she and Mr. Armstrong are leaving for New York, where they are calling to pass the Christmas holidays with their respective young daughters, who is at school in Switzerland.

One of the most charming brides of the past month was Miss Elsie Wright, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert S. Wright of North Van Ness avenue, who Thanksgiving Eve became the bride of Frederick Ford, this ceremony taking place in St. Stephen's Church, Hollywood, with Rev. Philip A. Basker officiating.

The church was transformed into an autumn garden with the sweetest shades of chrysanthemums prevailing, while down the center aisle were tall cathedral candles with clusters of the blossoms tied with white, marking the pathway through which the bridal party passed to the altar.

The new gowns were topped with great clusters of chrysanthemums and ferns, tied with long streamers of tulle in matching shades, while in the outer aisle were large baskets wouldn't seem like Christmas without the snow, ice and jingling of sleigh bells.

To many of us, Christmas is the one day of the year when the little folk hold the center of the stage, for it is characteristic as being the "day for the children" and yet even with the Christmas trees and old stories of Santa Claus, Christmas has grown to be a day when everyone, even one's most casual acquaintance, is remembered by some simple gift, if it is simply a Christmas card. In fact, so wonderful have these cards become, that many of them are worthy of being framed and placed on the walls of the most beautifully furnished homes.

Friends and relatives come from near and far for the Christmas dinner, which is usually a family affair and is the day of the year when the smallest tot is given a seat of honor at the table, and adoring grandparents, parents, sisters, cousins and aunts vie to do them honor and make the Christ Day one to be remembered by each one of the family.

Big sister and brother come home from finishing school and college, and during their brief visit, every hour is filled with some delightful affair either at home or abroad.

With the Christmas spirit in mind, the Junior League of Pasadena is giving its annual frolic, in the nature of a cabaret dinner-dance, Tuesday evening at the Biltmore, the entire proceeds of the evening to be devoted to its pet philanthropy.

This charming organization of young debutantes and matrons, has planned an extraordinarily interesting program, the personnel of the entire cast being members of the league, and there have been several most attractive trophies donated,

The appearance of E. Robert Schmitts in recital at Philharmonic Auditorium Friday evening, will be the motive for many box and log parties, and will be followed by a brilliant reception at the Ritzmore to the music room, given by the L. A. Angeles Chapter of Pro-Musica.

Traditional Affair
Last evening Alpha Sorority of Occidental College entertained the members of the variety football squad whose season has just closed, at a formal dinner-dance at the Sunset Country Club. This affair given by the Alpha Sorority, is traditional in Occidental College. Figures of football men wearing black sweaters with an orange "O" were the favors. Miss Catherine Guthrie, president of the sorority and Miss Florida Craig, were the committee in charge. Patrons and patronesses included Coach and Mrs. Albert A. Benedict Bridge and Dance
With a bridge benefit and banquet in the afternoon Saturday at the Friday Morning Club, and a benefit dance with all of the collegiate trimmings in the evening, Theta Xi chapter of Delta Delta Delta at the University of Southern California hopes to realize a substantial sum toward the permanent fraternity home which they expect to purchase. Tickets may be obtained from Miss Ida Marston, who is in charge of the bridge for the alumnae of the chapter. A silver cup will be awarded in the dancing contest which is arousing much interest because of the prodigious campus dancers who will attend.

Whaley-Phelan
Beautiful in its simplicity was the wedding Thanksgiving Day of Miss Helma Aurora Whaley and Wilfred William Phelan, the ceremony being read by Rev. A. A. Holden, uncle of the bride, at the Garvanus Methodist Episcopal Church.

Following the ceremony breakfast was served by candle light at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. E. E. Daisell.

The bride was becomingly gowned in beige lace over crepe de chine with hat and shoes matching. She carried a shower bouquet of sweetheart roses and orchid sweetpeas. Miss Gladys Morrison, maid of honor, wore tan georgette with hat and shoes corresponding, and carried a shower bouquet of golden emblem roses, and Robert Stetson served as best man.

Moore Schmiede (who is traveling abroad) as corresponding secretary. The newest digression of the junior league, which by the way is conquering many new fields, is an anthology of poetry, comprised of poems by league members, which have already appeared in the Junior League Magazine, which by the way has a circulation among 17,000 members of the Junior League of America throughout the United States and has been featured on most of the New York news stands.

The Los Angeles Junior League is coming in for quite a bit of attention nationally through the pen efforts of several of its members, not the stuffy story usual thing that amateurs call writing but real essays and general opinion on general subjects, play and book reviews, having received honorable mention in several literary contests. Some of the local contributors include Miss Kathleen Wigmore, Mrs. Charles Thomas (Julia Hayward), Mrs. Harrison Lobdell, Mrs. Bradford Joyce and Mrs.

Walter Leimert. The magazine is the official organ of the National League and is published in New York. The Anthology of Poetry is an attractive, smart little volume of blue and orange cover, inside of which is to be found some fine examples of verse written by members of the league from all over the country. It is on sale at the Junior League Gift Shop, 3111 West Sixth street.

Wedding Announcements
Announcement is made by Phi Kappa Tau Fraternity at the University of Southern California of the marriage of one of its members, Albert William Chas. Jr., to Miss Kathleen Bristow, a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma Society from Oregon State College. The wedding took place Thanksgiving morning at the First Congregational Church of Glendale.

Another Trojan wedding is announced by Delta Epsilon Sorority at the University of Southern California. The marriage of Miss Miriam Hill to Henry Webb, an alumnus of California Institute of Technology, was solemnized Saturday evening, November 26. A few days prior to her wedding Miss Hill entertained members of her sorority with a "rouseau" tea.

The wedding of Miss Gwendolyn, a member of Kappa Delta Sorority, University of Southern California, to John McElrick of Santa Ana took place Saturday, November 26, at the Church of the Messiah.

Benefit Bridge and Tea
The Kappa Kappa Gamma Alumnae Association of Los Angeles is planning a very elaborate bridge party and dinner to be held at the Ambassador Saturday, the 10th inst. This annual affair, arranged for the endowment fund of this sorority, will this year add the local Kappa Xi chapter of Kappa Kappa Gamma at the University of California at Los Angeles, to build a sorority house at Westwood. The local chapter girls wish to have their new house completed and ready for occupancy by next fall. The fund raised at the bridge event will also be used in part as the Los Angeles alumnae chapter's contribution to the Kappa Kappa Gamma endowment fund.

Mrs. Louise Carlson will be chairman of the bridge event and Mrs. Malcolm Campbell, assistant chairman. The committee is composed of Mrs. Claudine Egerton, Mrs. Fred Albertson, Mrs. Charles Kaiser, Mrs. Eugene Sablin, Miss Jennie Withers, Miss Miriam Reed, Mrs. Harry Cupton and Miss Helen Fennell.

In addition to the bridge party, which begins at 3 p.m., there will be many booths provided over by members of different chapters of Kappa.

RECENT VISITOR FROM ALAMEDA

House Guest at Home in Palos Verdes

Miss Betty George

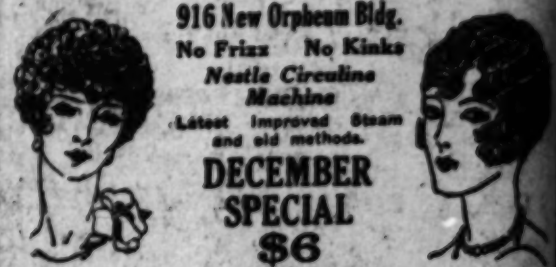

MISS BETTY GEORGE, daughter of the University of Southern California football game, Miss George and Alameda, has been a recent visitor in Los Angeles. During the week following the University of California game, she was the guest of Mrs. Donald Olinos of Palos Verdes.

Kappa Gamma, where candy, Christmas gifts and novelties will be sold. Sport southerners will tell fortunes and the afternoon affords other diversions besides bridge. Tickets will be on sale at the Ambassador the day of the event or taking may be obtained by reservation from Miss Jennie Withers, 1168 Marine avenue. The guests' public is invited to attend these annual Kappa Gamma Gamma benefit events. Last year there were 100 tables of bridge and some 800 guests attended.

For Returned Travelers
Mrs. Cecil Lyon gave a delightful dinner party in honor of Miss Doris Lyon and Miss Felicity Romanovsky upon her return from Europe, Greece, including the homecoming, were Miss Hedwiga Bacher, Miss Doreen, Mrs. Berline Johnson, Charles F. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. P. Bernstein, Myron Marcus, Mrs. Mary Miller, E. Knechtel and Mrs. A. Friedman.

Golden Wedding
One hundred and fifty friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Mosher, 1264 North Park avenue, Pomona, November 27, to celebrate the golden wedding anniversary of Mrs. Mosher's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lillian V. Mosher of Venice. The home was beautifully decorated with golden flowers, and many lovely gifts were given the happy couple by friends and neighbors who called to wish them many more anniversaries. Mr. and Mrs. Mosher were married at Whitehouse, Wis., but later moved to Pomona, where they lived for twenty years. Mr. Mosher is a Civil War veteran, and both he and Mrs. Mosher were members of the local relief corps. He is now 80 years of age, while Mrs. Mosher is 74. They have had six children, five of whom are still living. Mrs. John A. Mosher.

LOS ANGELES GIRL MARRIES VIRGINIAN

Mrs. Donald Schuster of Venice, Mrs. C. J. Cornwell of Anaheim, Glenn Zander of Los Angeles, and Milton Zander of Pomona, and there are ten grandchildren.

Guests at the reception included friends from Los Angeles, Orange, Ontario, Upland, Venice and Pomona.

In San Francisco

Mrs. and Mrs. E. E. Emerson and Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Nelson are among the Angelenos who have been domiciled recently at the Hotel Mark Hopkins in San Francisco.

Bride-elect Honored

Mrs. Albert Andrews, 288 1-3 South Alexandria Drive, entertained Wednesday, November 23, with a linen shower for Miss Corinne Crouch, 332 Virginia Avenue, Pasadena, whose marriage to Richard Ostrom of Portland, Or., takes place the 28th inst. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Sawyer in Berkeley.

Yellow and white, carried out in tea roses and carnations, formed the decoration scheme. During the afternoon bridge was played, the guests being twenty close friends of the bride-elect.

Thanksgiving Wedding

With only close friends and relatives present, the marriage of Miss Lee Sylvia Morris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. Morris of 933 Westchester Place, to Meyer Morris took place Thanksgiving evening in the Mayfair Hotel, with Dr. Herman Lissauer officiating.

The bride was beautifully gowned in white satin and lace trimmed with pearls, and carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. Her sister, Mrs. Morris Laskowitz, who assisted as matron of honor, wore a brilliant gown of coral tulle trimmed with rhinestones, and carried a shower of pink roses and orchid ribbon streamers.

Little Jeanne Morris was the flower girl, and Morris Laskowitz served Mr. Starke as best man.

Mr. and Mrs. Starke left immediately for an extended motor trip through the North, and will return to Los Angeles at the beginning of the new year.

Society-Fraternities

Many of the fraternities and societies of the University of California are now turning their attention to the raising of funds for the purchasing of houses and lots on the new university home at Westwood. As a result many benefit balls and bridges have made their appearance at the smart clubs and chapter houses.

Chi Omega Sorority gave a pretty dance at the new Edell Club last night, with more than seventy-five couples as guests. Miss Margaret Lambert and Miss Elizabeth King, members of the sorority, were in charge of the affair, one of the most successful that the Greek letter organization has given. Music was furnished by the Howard Lockley orchestra. The special feature of the program was the giving away of a prettily colored French doll.

The Beverly Hills Women's Club was the scene last night of the Delta Delta Delta benefit dance. Soft pastel shades were used in the decorations and colored lights further enhanced the beauty of the ballroom. The special attraction of the evening was the dancing contest.

Alpha Epsilon Phi has chosen the 11th inst. as the date of its benefit bridge in order to raise funds for the new chapter house. Among the surprise features will be door prizes and a specially prepared program which is to include clever dance and song skits.

LOS ANGELES GIRL MARRIES VIRGINIAN

[Melbourne Spurr studios] Mrs. Cabell Gwathmey

One of the most beautiful weddings of the season was that of Miss Emily Shores, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew J. Shores, and Cabell Gwathmey, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. Taylor Gwathmey of Norfolk, Va., which took place Wednesday evening, November 23, in St. John's Episcopal Church. Dr. Davidson read the ceremony before an altar banked with white chrysanthemums, lighted with myriads of tall candles.

Mrs. Gwathmey was graduated from the Westlake School for Girls and from the University of California at Los Angeles, while Mr. Gwathmey was graduated from the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis and from the University of Pennsylvania. After a motor trip through California, Mr. and Mrs. Gwathmey will be at home for a few weeks at 1824 South St. Andrews Place, before passing a year in Philadelphia.

Delta Delta Delta Sorority wishes to announce the recent engagement of Miss Laurine Medina to Dr. J. W. Morehouse. Dr. Morehouse is a Phi Sigma Gamma medical fraternity man, now attending the University of Southern California.

Alpha Delta Pi wishes to announce the marriage of Miss Marjorie Bowman to Robert Palmer.

Pledging and initiation have been commencing much interest among the Greek letter organizations when Alpha Delta Pi recently announced the pledging of Miss Mary Ann McConnell, Miss Vivian Anderson and Miss Violet Nelson. Epsilon Pi Alpha the Misses Lucille Hines, Eugenia Reigler, Alice Shank, Louise Stacey and Ruth Venekitt, and Zeta Psi Alpha initiated the Misses Mary Corbaley and Dorothy Yungbluth.

Felicitations

Mr. and Mrs. John Birnie, Jr. (Francis Ward) of 2465 North Gower street, Hollywood, are receiving congratulations over the arrival, October 31, last, of a son, who has been named Richard Steven Birnie.

Midnight Wedding

In the presence of a few close friends, Miss Joetta Faith Rogers and Frederick Cary Baldwin of the United States Navy were married recently at the home of Rev. J. M. Schade, 1206 South Kenmore avenue. The ceremony was performed at midnight.

After a brief wedding tour Mr. and Mrs. Baldwin will be at home to their friends at 1316 South Kenmore avenue.

Christmas Bazaar

St. Thomas's Episcopal Church of West Hollywood will hold its annual bazaar and Christmas sale Friday at the Roosevelt Hotel, 7022 Hollywood Boulevard. Mrs. Marshall Laird will have charge of the event and will be assisted by Mrs. Agnes E. McCrea, Mrs. Carl Walser, Mrs. E. E. Eastman, Mrs. George Kuttler, Mrs. T. W. Pepper and the women of St. Thomas's Church. Attractive bazaar are being erected for the event and it is expected a large number of society, theatrical and church people will attend. One of the most interesting features will be the exhibition of Colonial quilts. There also will be an exhibition and sale of home craft work, homemade candies and Christmas gifts.

Retrochal Announced

With a charmingly appointed tea given at her home on South Van Ness avenue Sunday afternoon, November 27, Miss Bea F. Osborn announced her Retrochal.

DECEMBER SALE

OF WINTER HATS OF DISTINCTION AT HALF PRICE

ANNOUNCING A FUR SALE EXTRAORDINARY

Seldom do we hold a Sale. But when we do it is an event of considerable importance to women. Several years ago we held a sale that created a sensation in the fur trade and is still remembered by the fortunate women who took advantage of the values offered. Now we have again slashed prices on every article in stock without reserve for a sale that starts tomorrow.

The object of this sale is to clear our stock. Soon Mr. Willard H. George leaves for the Arctic and the foremost fur markets to purchase the pelts necessary for next season's business. Our stock is not large but consists of choice creations in coats, wraps and scarfs designed and made in our own workrooms for a discriminating clientele.

This sale brings prices down to new price levels. Many items are marked at cost or below. This is an opportunity to buy a much wanted fur much below the regular price for a fur of quality. Coming as it does just before Christmas, many men will be interested in selecting a gift of fur.

How Hosts and Hostesses of Season Entertain their Guests

A. P. Churchill and W. S. McKellar, with Miss Kate Hunt and Miss Reed as substitutes. The program included a piano solo by Miss Margaret Bequette, Miss Dorcas Parnett and Violette Gill gave a piano duet, followed by a piano solo by Miss Bernice Gill. Miss Gertrude Flower, Tulare county librarian, was speaker of the afternoon, giving an interesting talk on children's books. Tea was served. Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Ralbach and daughters, Mrs. J. J. Moore with her son, and Miss Ralbach, all of Los Angeles, and Mrs. Rachel McLeod of Pomona, were house guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. McLeod over the Thanksgiving holidays.

Tulare
Immediate friends and relatives witnessed the very pretty wedding of Lucid J. Rutherford and Helen L. Martin in the Congregational Church on Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock. With Rev. Hubert Burr officiating, Mrs. Rutherford is the daughter of Mrs. W. C. Reinhardt of Tulare and for the past two years has been teaching in the county schools. Lucid Rutherford is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Rutherford of Porterville. Following the ceremony the young couple left for a motor trip to Los Angeles and other southern points. They will make their home in Tulare.

Glendale
The holiday season is proving a time for weddings. The first to occur was that of Miss Kathleen Bristow, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Bristow of Portland, Or., and Albert Sullivan Chase, Jr., which took place at 8 o'clock Thanksgiving morning at the Con-

Mrs. Samuel Boase

In the presence of members of the immediate family the wedding of Miss Helen Weiss, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip A. J. Weiss of Dayton, O., and Samuel Boase of Los Angeles, formerly of Dayton, took place October 31 in Glendale. The bride wore a gown of black velvet embroidered in rhinestones, with a small black velvet hat and a corsage of pink roses and sweet peas. Her only attendant was her sister, Miss Minnie Weiss, who wore a frock of blue georgette with hat to match, and a corsage of pink roses. Clarence Boase served Mr. Boase as best man.

After a brief wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Boase will return to make their home at 738 South Union avenue.

gers and the wedding march. Miss Bristow's gown of cream lace and velvet was richly embroidered with pearls. Her long lace veil was caught with orange blossoms and her bouquet was of bride roses with a shower of lilies of the valley. Miss Cecil Scott Chase, sister of the groom, was her maid of honor. She wore a frock of ecru chantilly lace over apple green satin and carried an arm bouquet of bronze chrysanthemums. Little Elizabeth Crispin, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Egerton Crispin of Los Angeles, and Betty Jean Clark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver O. Clark of Glendale, were the flower girls. They wore frocks of pale green and orchid georgette. Havelle Harrison was groomsmen and the ushers were Alexander H. and Ordean Chase, Lyman Harnad, Henry Rohr and Norman Doyle. After a short honeymoon Mr. and Mrs. Chase will be at home in Glendale until fall of 1928 when they will go East where Mr. Chase will study medicine at Northwestern University. Mr. Chase will graduate from University of Southern California in June. He is a member of Phi Kappa Tau fraternity there. Mrs. Chase is a graduate of St. Mary's Hall at Portland and a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority. Mrs. Albert Sullivan Chase, Sr., gave a dinner party for the men of the bride's party the evening before the marriage at her home on East Mountain street.

Of much interest is the marriage of Miss Betty Webb, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. C. A. Webb to Earl L. Ivy last Saturday evening. The marriage was solemnized by Rev. William Everett Roberts in the Little Church of the Flowers. The bride wore a sapphire transparent velvet gown with hat to match, and a corsage of roses and orchids. Mrs. Ivy has resided in Glendale for fourteen years and is a graduate of the Glendale High School. After a honeymoon to the Orient they will live in Los Angeles.

Miss Bonnie Link and Clifford Akers were married Saturday evening at the Little Church of the Flowers by Rev. D. J. Edmonds reading the service. The bride, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence R. Link of 1337 Raymond avenue, wore a gown of white satin with an overdress of tulle. Her tulle veil was held by a coronet of pearls and she carried a shower bouquet of bride roses and sweetpeas. She was given in marriage by her father, and her only attendant was Miss Katherine Hone who wore a frock of pink tulle and gold lace and a corsage bouquet of pink sweetpeas. Roland Herrold was best man. Miss Lucile Hine, violinist, accompanied at the piano by Miss Louise Hine, played a group of nuptial songs and wedding marches. A reception was held after the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents which was decorated with white and pink flowers. Mr. and Mrs. Akers will make their home at Winfield, Kan. Miss Dorothy Houston of 440 West Myrtle street was the hostess to the members of the S.K.K. Club last week at her home. Chinese and other oriental decorations had transformed her home and chop suey was served after the game of bridge. Club members present were Misses J. Hollis Reed and Louis Hennine, and Misses Marie Hearnshaw, Grace Dale, Evelyn Sample, Donna Sample, Charlotte Busby, Mildred Osmun, Catherine Guthrie, Emma Laura Cooper, Winifred Parker, Evelyn Hunt and Leona Hunt.

Whittier
To celebrate the birthday anniversary of Mrs. C. I. Dorn, her husband invited a number of guests to their home, 822 North Bright avenue, Tuesday evening. The time was pleasantly passed at five hundred and handsome prizes were given Mrs. Charles Milliken and Mr. James Miller for high scores and the consolation prize were bestowed on Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Coulthart. After the cards were cleared away a delicious collection was served. The guests aside from those already mentioned were Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Dorn, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Clayton, Mrs. Cora Albright, Miss Vera McDill, Miss Anna Johnson and Dr. Charles C. Mulliken.

Among recent marriages that have interested local society as well as guests from out of town was that of Miss Margaret La Vera Rayson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Rayson, and Mr. Ray Ford Bolton, son of Mrs. Mary Bolton, all of Whittier. The marriage was celebrated at the First Methodist Church and one of the most beautifully appointed ceremonies held in this popular church. The nuptial music consisted of the Bridal Chorus and Mendelssohn's Wedding March by Miss Lenora Davis of Los Angeles, and "Because" and "At Dawning" sung by Mr. Ralph Pettit of Whittier. Miss Mary Chambers was maid of honor and the four bridesmaids were the Misses Mildred Tyler, Esther Barmore, Irene Brundige and Grace Nelson, gowned in pastel shades. The ushers were the Messrs. Derrell Rayson, Elmer Mitchell, Percy Runger and John Gard. Robert Wright served as best man. Mr. John Oliver, pastor of the church, assisted by Dr. Ray Barker performed the marriage ceremony. Eighty guests attended the reception at the home of the bride's parents, following the church ceremony.

Since the announcement of her betrothal some time ago, friends of Miss Ada Peale have vied with each other in showering social attentions upon her. Miss Peale, who was formerly president of the Business and Professional Women's Club of Whittier, is to marry J. W. Ash at Crystal, Panama, early in December, and is leaving Whittier December 8. From Port Los Angeles she will sail on the Santa Barbara.

Santa Barbara
Mrs. N. W. Maltby, with her daughter, Miss Drucilla Maltby, of San Francisco, have been guests at El Mirasol, coming south to visit Miss Eleanor Maltby, who is at school here.

Miss Catherine Conley, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Richard Meers, at her home on Eucalyptus Lane, has returned to New York where she joined her mother, Mrs. Garrard Conley, of Tuxedo Park. Mrs. Walter Franklin Cobb of Montecito, who has passed the summer and autumn in the East, has returned and is at El Mirasol for the winter. Many small, informal luncheon parties were assembled on Tuesday at the Trinity Guild bazaar in the parish house. Among those who entertained were Mrs. Charles E. Deuel, Mrs. Henry F. Lincoln, Mrs. Charles S. Gilman, Mrs. Thomas Boone, Mrs. Frank E. Abbott, Mrs. Charles Hine, Mrs. M. B. Milman, Mrs. Walter Hunt, Mrs. Joseph A. Andrews, Mrs. Daniel C. Robinson, Mrs. Mary P. Clark, Mrs. Oliver Hart Bronson, Mrs. Frederick L. M. Masury, Miss Gertrude Wright-Knox, Miss Lydia Herter, Miss Ingeborg Prastorius, Miss Sophie Bayler, Miss Annie Balch, Miss Josephine Griffling and Miss Grace Lamson.

The Junior League benefit bridge-tee in Montecito Country Club on Wednesday was the social feature of the week. Mrs. Edgar Park, president of the league, and Mrs. Robert S. Hyde poured. The committee in charge of the bridge included Mrs. Charles Hervey Jackson, Jr., chairman; Mrs. Kathleen Page Whelan; Mrs. Robert S. Hyde and Mrs. Ralph D. Brooks. Among those who entertained were Mrs. A. R. Demory, Mrs. Hamilton Perkins, Mrs. William Norman Campbell, Mrs. Ambrose C. Cramer, Jr., Mrs. Alfred E. Dietrich and Mrs. Milton Wilson.

yesterday of a very enjoyable card party given by the Altar Society of the Holy Trinity Church. Forty women were seated at the card tables and bridge and five hundred were played. First prize in the five hundred game went to Mrs. R. A.
Franger and in the bridge game Mrs.
Eugene Blake was the winner.

Miss Grace Forney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Forney of La Verne, and Virgil Kindy of Burbank were married last Sunday at the home of the bride's parents, Rev. C.
C. Kindy, pastor of the Church of the Brethren of Pasadena, and father of the bridegroom, officiating.
Mrs. Mary Shultz of Fullerton was matron of honor and Lynn Sheller was best man. The bride was beautifully gowned in white silk and wore a long wedding veil, which was a present from her sister, Mrs. Harland Brooks, who is a missionary in India.
Above the veil was a wreath of orange blossoms.

Announcement has been made of the coming wedding of Miss Thelma Gibbs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. P.
Gibbs of Glendale, and Charles E. Kribaum of Santa Anita avenue at 6 p.m. next Wednesday at the Presbyterian Church here. The ceremony formerly was announced for the residence of the bride's parents. Miss Gibbs is a graduate of the local high school and a former resident of Burbank and has a host of friends here.

Covina

The annual Gentlemen's Night of the Covina Women's Club occurred on Monday evening and was largely attended by members and their husbands who heard a scholarly address on the "Psychology of Boredom" by Sir John Adams. A very excellent musical program was furnished by Miss Alberta Hanna who gave a group of nature songs and a group of Irish melodies. Harlow John Mills, also of Pasadena, rendered the very beautiful Chopin number, "Black Key Waltz" and his own composition,
"Fairy Sweet." During the special hour pumpkin pie and coffee were served.

The birthday of Mrs. T. E. Foster was happily observed with a surprise party Tuesday night when the following friends gathered unannounced at the Foster home on West Puente street: Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Allen of Hollywood; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sep, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Lang, Mr. and Mrs. I. Worth Everett, and Mr.
and Mrs. Hugh Arnel of Covina.

One hundred and eighteen gathered at the Covina Church on the breedren Tuesday night for an enjoyable and inspiring dinner meeting of the Covina Federated Men's Bible Classes. After the meal there was a splendid address on the joyousness of the Christian life by Dr. James Buell, pastor of the Community
Men's Class of Pomona. Several pleasing solos were given by Mrs.
Charlotte Haffet.

Baldwin Park

The regular meeting of the Baldwin Park Women's Club, which followed a 1 o'clock luncheon on Friday was especially worth while. At the luncheon table Dr. Evangeline Caven, well-known authority on child culture, was the speaker. The afternoon session continued the subject of child welfare and an excellent talk was given by Dr. Tarr of the staff of the General Hospital. A timely and practical health program was given this time by fifteen of the children of the Margaret Peath grammar school. The music of the afternoon consisted of piano solos by Miss Corrine Hayden of Anna.

Mrs. W. H. E. Bravender of this place was the hostess at a pleasant and prettily appointed bridge-luncheon, given Tuesday at the Oak Club.
Among the twelve friends entertained by Mrs. Bravender from Los Angeles.

San Diego Los Angeles Pasadena

What Society Has Been About; Many Plans for Future

Sierra Madre and Pasadena, were Mrs. L. A. Daily and Mrs. T. Schwabert of this place.

Mrs. W. A. Wheeler of West Los Angeles street entertained thirty friends at luncheon on Wednesday.

Thursday evening Mrs. O. B. Roberts of Moroc avenue was the hostess to fourteen members of the auxiliary of the American Legion. The evening was passed in planning for the first bazaar which was very successfully given by the newly organized auxiliary on Friday and Saturday. The bazaar closed with a large attendance dance Saturday night in the L.O.O.F. Hall. Mrs. Mary Elabough, president, headed the committee of arrangements.

Glendora

Holly and red carnations gave a bright suggestion of the Christmas season on Tuesday night when Mr. and Mrs. Minor H. White of Base Line Road entertained twenty friends at dinner and bridge. The high scores were held by Mrs. W. A. Jones and Mr. W. M. Griswold. To Mrs. E. W. Hamlin and W. M. Warren went the education. The guests of Mr. and Mrs. White were Messrs. and Mrs. Ben Millikan, E. V. Rice, W. M. Warren, Ralph Crook, R. O. Frasier, J. B. Elliott, J. F. Cline, P. C. Devendorf, W. A. Jones, W. M. Griswold of Covina, Bernard Allen of Charter Oak, Lucian Taylor of San Dimas, and A. W. Hamlin of Glendora.

Mrs. J. W. Maloney was the hostess at a very pleasant dinner and bridge enjoyed Monday night by the sixteen members of the Birthday Club. The holders of the high scores were Mrs. E. E. Riser and Mrs. E. F. Underhill.

Santa Monica

Mrs. J. T. Stewart entertained on Thursday at her home in Seventeenth street with a smartly appointed luncheon and afternoon of bridge for the members of the E-Flat Club.

A charming hostess among the younger matrons was Mrs. Arnold G. Davis who with Mr. Davis entertained last evening with a charmingly appointed dinner and evening of bridge for a congenial group of university friends. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Forrest D. Macomber, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Bush, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Berry Cook of Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. Myron G. Ellis, Mrs. Rose B. Parks and Carl Klein.

A recent affair of delightful appointments was the tea given by Mrs. Russ Cloner at her home in Eighteenth street in compliment to Mrs. Wesley Turner and Mrs. Wayne Young, former Santa Monicaans who are returning to make their home here. The guests were Mrs. Turner and Mrs. Young, the honored guests, and Mrs. Frederick A. A. F. Hampton, Lee Bigler, Leonard J. Murray, James Irvine, Owen Keown, Harry House and Emil Haezel.

One of the charming affairs given recently by Mrs. Forest Bliss at her home in Ocean avenue was a bridge tea at which orchid and red sweet peas combined to make attractive floral decorations for the prettily appointed tea table which was presided over by Mrs. Basil Fraser. The awards for bridge scores went to Mrs. Russell Chapin, F. W. Arncliffe, Byron Yeager, Burford Twyman and Lloyd Strickland.

Judge and Mrs. Fred H. Taft celebrated Thanksgiving Day with a beautifully appointed family dinner at their residence in Lincoln Boulevard. Covers were placed for the members of the family living in the Southland.

Ocean Park

A charmingly planned affair was a luncheon followed by an afternoon of bridge given on Thursday at the Edgewater Club by Mrs. Maud E. Keeler for the members of one of her clubs. The guests who enjoyed Mrs. Keeler's hospitality included Mrs. A. C. Mott, Frank C. Wolf, Charles H. Miller, Mary S. Clough, Homer D. Peak, D. C. Freeman and A. S. Gerard.

Mrs. A. C. Mott and Mrs. A. L. Begg, both of Ashland avenue, have been enjoying the winter season with a number of delightfully informal affairs given at the Edgewater Club for groups of their friends. Bridge and swimming have formed the diversions of these pleasant occasions.

Mrs. George H. Mustard entertained on Friday with a lovely affair at her home in Ashland. The room for the members of the New Idea Club which is made up of friends of long standing. Autumn flowers decorated the beautifully appointed luncheon table and a pleasant social afternoon followed the roll call to which those present responded with a new idea. Those hidden were the members of the club and included Mrs. Florence Lina, W. L. Phillips, Emma Duffe, Mary Kibbourn, W. L. Bullock and Rose Bagan.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Bert Croeland of Beverly avenue entertained on Thanksgiving Day at the Malibu Country Club with a beautifully appointed dinner. Among their guests were Miss Merrill McIntosh and Mrs. J. C. McIntosh.

Venice

A charmingly planned affair of recent date was given by Mrs. H. C. Rodden at her home in Crescent Place when the Thanksgiving motif was carried out in the decorations and appointments. Bridge was the diversion of a pleasant afternoon, awards for high scores being won by Mrs. Fred Fuller, Mrs. Roger Marshall and Mrs. Herbert Pink. The guests were Mrs. Daisy Whitaker, Fred Fuller, E. L. Meyer, Roger Marshall, W. M. Damron, Lewis Glassman and Herbert Pink.

NEWLYWEDS TOUR NORTHWEST AREA

One of the outstanding social affairs of the week was the bridge tea given on Tuesday at the Venice Women's City Club at which bridge and 500 were the diversions of the afternoon. Refreshments were served later in the afternoon. Mrs. Walter B. Canine and Mrs. Lewis Glassman were in charge of the card tables and a committee assisting them and Mrs. L. J. Palsie, chairman of the delightfully planned affair, included Mrs. Mary J. Atherton, N. A. Bartman, W. R. Ball, May Butler, T. A. Coombe, Miss Braunberger, Mattie Byers and Cora Crandall.

Thanksgiving was the occasion of a number of delightful affairs. Thirty members of the Howland family were united at a dinner party at the parish house of St. Mark's Methodist Church on Lincoln Boulevard. The members of the family present at this happy event included Mr. and Mrs. James Howland and their son, Jimmie, Mr. and Mrs. Paul McKaughn, Mrs. J. B. Howland and her daughter, Mrs. H. E. Howland, Mrs. Mary Barton, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Davis, Dr. E. E. Barton, John A. Howland, James A. Howland, J. W. Howland, J. W. Habberton, Mrs. H. E. Haffer, Ray Day and others.

Pomona College Scene of Wedding

(Murdillo for Western Press Service)
Mrs. William Kerr

The marriage of Miss Verona Rockwell of Pasadena to William Kerr of North Carolina and New York City was solemnized recently at the ceremony taking place in Bridge Hall of Pomona College, at Claremont, where Raymond Brooks of Pomona College officiating. As the guests were assembling there was a delightful musical program, followed by the bride chorus from "Lohengrin" and Miss Rockwell and Mr. Kerr united, entered together. After an informal reception and wedding breakfast at the home of the bride's father, the bride and groom left by motor for their wedding journey through Southern California and after their return will be at home at 1487 North Michigan avenue, Pasadena. Mrs. Kerr is a descendant of the Madisons of Virginia, was educated at Knox College and Stanford University, and has been a popular member of the faculty of the Pasadena High School. Mr. Kerr, after a career as lecturer in French at Columbia University and in American language and literature at University of Paris, has come to California to make his home.

Thursday was the silver wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Adam J. Bahner and they celebrated the occasion with a dinner party at their home, 23 Meridian avenue, to which were invited former Minnesota friends. White carnations, orange blossoms and maidenhair fern formed the table decorations.

New Vaudeville Acts Given in Conjunction With Gene Stratton Porter Story

Gene Stratton Porter's "The Harvester," which opens at the Pantages Theatre tomorrow, when transferred to the screen was filmed in the exact locale of the book—the Lamberbrook cabin estate in Indiana, according to the author's wish.

Leo Meahan, Mrs. Porter's son-in-law and director of the picture, traveled more than 2000 miles from the studio at the head of a production unit of forty people to Indiana City, Ind., to shoot the scenes.

Cecile Caldwell and Natalie Kingston have leading roles, while other members of the cast are Jay Hunt, Will Walling, Lola Todd, Edward Hearn and Fanny Midgley as well as Belsham, a dog.

A vaudeville bill will be shown in conjunction with the picture during the week.

VISIT STUDIO SET

Pola Negri, Paramount star, was a visitor on the "Abie's Irish Boy" set the other day, where Director Victor Fleming is conducting the filming of Anne Mitchell's triumph. There she met an old friend, Jean Harlow, who was with her in her latest picture, "The Secret Hour," now ready for release.

VERA REYNOLDS BACK

Vera Reynolds has returned from a short trip to Santa Barbara, where she went to rest preparatory to beginning her next starring vehicle for C. B. De Mille, "Waiting 'Till the Morning Comes," now ready for release.

Few away him from his purpose once he commands "camera," but it is said that in preparation conference he is most amenable to any suggestion of constructive origin.

A deep appreciation of tender romance is one of Fitzmaurice's assets. His screen lovers must, above all else, put feeling into their work. He has no patience with crude, stilted romances or Julia. His frankness oftentimes carries a sting, but seldom fails to bring about the result that the moister of the screen play desires.

No one who has seen "Rose of the Golden West" or an early showing of "The Love Mart" can gainsay that Fitzmaurice does not know what the movie audience likes, it is said.

To Fitzmaurice backgrounds for his dramatic action are most important. Screen lighting, the choice of furniture and draperies, and the creating of unique effects must be considered most carefully. A Fitzmaurice ballroom set must have gaiety, artistry and richness, must be of gorgeous simplicity and be a background of architectural grace and without overpadding and exaggeration. The director's settings for Max Baer's "On With the Dance" and the studio scene from "Rose of the Golden West" are examples.

A Fitzmaurice bedroom set has soft, rich cushions and beautiful drapes. A veritable dream castle for a lovely queen. Each set, Fitzmaurice insists, must be an ideal of loveliness for screen player and screen reviewer alike.

Perkins Stanlaw, noted portrait artist, calls Fitzmaurice "the most idealistic and painter" of the screen. His direction covers a wide field. He has made comedies, tense dramas, crook plays, gambling romances, war and society dramas, melodramas. He made "The Scarlet City" in Rome, "The Man from Rome" in Italy and England, and his war comedy, "Three Live Ghosts," in London.

Byron he filmed Willard Mack's great drama, "Kick In," he made "To Have and to Hold," a seventeenth century English costume play, "Dark Angel" and "Son of a Sheik," the last having Valentino play, "One Night of Love," "The Tender Hour" and the current "The Love Mart" and "Rose of the Golden West" are among his latest work.

In "The Love Mart," Fitzmaurice shows sympathy for early French almsphere with its romance of New Orleans a century ago. He gives little Dove a dramatic role, framing her beauty with richness and delicacy.

"People do not see how much a picture costs or how long it has been in production," Fitzmaurice avers. "The audience demands quality rather than quantity and if a director and his players give the screen a realistic, artistic, dramatic performance, that is what the public wants. Originality and idealism are the advance guards of motion-picture progress. Not all pictures will make innovations, but the director who sacrifices sincerity and romance for the sake of speed or supposed economy deserves no one but himself."

PLAYS SAME ROLE
Constance Kent is glad that he played the juvenile lead in the New York stage production of "The Power Girl," because this role brought him to Hollywood to play the same part in First National's portrayal of the play. He has been in Hollywood ever since, playing featured roles.

INHERITS HIS ABILITY
Jean Harlow, the Solomon Levy of Paramount's "Abie's Irish Boy," adapted from Anne Mitchell's far-famed stage play, inherits his acting ability, his father and mother, Henri and Claire Harlow, were noted players on the Danish stage.

BUSINESS WOMEN DRESS
AS HOUSEWIVES

Twenty years ago when a woman stepped the staid and commercial world and achieved any startling degree of success she invariably adopted a mannish wardrobe.

Suits with coats and vests tailored as men would wear them, stiff collars, starched shirt-waists, mannish hats and heavy-soled shoes with broad toes.

Today successful women in what used to be regarded as men's own sphere of business dress almost as their sisters who are contented with the lot of housewife.

"I never pay for a woman to discard her femininity," says Norma Shearer, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer star who is now playing the role of a traveling saleswoman in an as yet unnamed picture directed by Sam Wood.

"The modern business woman is now distinctly feminine, on the average. She may wear tailored suits and tailored hats while engaged in her profession, but she still regards her femininity as an asset.

Naturally one would want to go about the starting a dress outside of social occasions. She would in clothing such as a dress for street purposes, or a dress for the office.

Ralph Forbes, who plays the role of a traveling salesman in "The Love Mart," says that the business woman in the film play was a young woman, a woman who was a part of the business world.

Lillian Gish in "The Sign of the Cross" was a woman who was a part of the business world. She was a woman who was a part of the business world.

Younger, the cast of the film play was a woman who was a part of the business world. She was a woman who was a part of the business world.

Hoosier, William, who plays the role of a traveling salesman in "The Love Mart," says that the business woman in the film play was a young woman, a woman who was a part of the business world.

CINEMATIC
FARE

Heading the list of new photoplays for the week is "The Private Life of Helen of Troy," film version of the John Baskin story, which will be given its Los Angeles premiere on Thursday at the Million Dollar Theater.

Maria Corda, Hungarian actress, is in the title role with her husband, Alexander Korda, director. This is Maria Corda's first American picture.

Among other new offerings is "Get Your Man," starring Clara Bow and showing at the Metropolitan Theatre in conjunction with Fanchon and Marion's "Grinoline Idea."

At Loew's State is "The Love Mart," featuring Billie Dove and Gilbert Roland. It is a colorful romance of a girl sold on the auction block in old Louisiana.

"The Wreck of the Hesperus," adapted from the Henry Wadsworth Longfellow poem, is the new Boulvard attraction. It is portrayed by a noteworthy cast. On the stage is Gene Morgan in his usual collection of capers.

"We're All Gamblers" with Thomas
Meighan, is offered by the Broadway Palace.

Second-run and holdover attractions include "Sunrise," Carthy Circle; "The Gaucho," Criterion; "The Angel of Broadway," Forum; "Tell It to Sweeney," Rialto, and "East Side, West Side," Tower.

Boulevard
"The Wreck of the Hesperus," a De Mille production, now at the Boulevard, is a story of shipwreck and of a strange rescue, taken from the famous poem of that name written by Henry Wadsworth Longfellow. The screen version was written by Harry Carr and John Parow, Elmer Clifton directed. The cast includes Barbara Bedford, Frank Martion, Alan Hale, Sam DeGrasse, Ethel Wain and Josephine Norman. Gene Morgan and his band entertain on the stage.

Broadway Palace
"We're All Gamblers" is the title of the production now playing a one-week engagement at the Broadway Palace Theatre. It is a story of New York's East Side water front, and Thomas Meighan appears in the leading role.

James Crum directed the picture for Paramount, and in support of Mr. Meighan are Marjorie Miller,
Oullian Landis, Gertrude Claire, Philo
McClough and others.

Carthy Circle
"Sunrise," the Murnau production starring Janet Gaynor and George O'Brien, is now well into the first week of its showing at the Carthy Circle Theatre. The picture is reported as being an artistic triumph.
A notable cast supports the stars, and the Jack Laughlin production and score by Cecil Blum are said to add to the general attractiveness of the program.

Chinese
"The Gaucho," Douglas Fairbanks's epic of the South American plains, continues at the attraction at the Chinese Theatre. Lupe Velez and Eve Southern share honors in the feminine leads of the production.
Proceeding the picture Grauman presents one of his elaborate prologues,
"Argentine Nights."

Loew's State
Billie Dove is seen at Loew's State this week in "The Love Mart," George Fitzmaurice's production for First National, with Gilbert Roland and Noah Berry in the leading roles. "The Love Mart" is a colorful romance of a beautiful girl who is sold on the auction block, with her lover bidding for her.

This is farewell week at Loew's State for that synopator, Abe Lyman and his Brunswick Recording Orchestra. He will depart soon for Chicago to fill an eastern engagement.

Criterion
"Old San Francisco," with Dolores Costello in the leading role, is in the second week of its engagement at the Criterion Theatre. The picture is accompanied by a Warner Brothers Vitaphone score.

The drama deals with the early days of the California seaport.

Forum
"The Angel of Broadway," starring Leatrice Joy, opens today as the new attraction at the Forum Theatre. The production was produced under the direction of Lois Weber, and deals with the story of a chorus girl who suffers at religion. Victor Varconi appears opposite the star.

The Forum stage presentation is offered as diversion.

Metropolitan Clara Bow stars in "Get Your Man," a Paramount picture now at the Metropolitan. It is the story of an American flapper who wins a French duke. In the cast are Charles Rogers, Josephine Dunn, Joan Garland, Harvey Clarke and Frances Raymond. The picture was adapted by Rope Loring from a French stage success and was directed by Dorothy Arzner. On the stage Rube Wolf is seen in Fanchon and Marion's "Grinoline Idea."

Million Dollar
"The Private Life of Helen of Troy," a Paramount picture now at the Million Dollar Theatre last Thursday.

The cast includes Maria Corda,
Ricardo Cortez, Lewis Stone, Alice
White and others. It was directed by the Hungarian director, Alexander Korda.

Blaise
"Tell It to Sweeney," Paramount's latest comedy which introduces the new comedy team, Chester Conklin and George Bancroft, is now playing at the Blaise.

"Tell It to Sweeney" is by Percy
Heath, Monte Brice and Kerry
Clark, and was directed by Gregory
La Cava. Chester Conklin and George Bancroft are supported by a cast which includes Jack Liden, Doris Hill, Franklin Bond and William H.
Tucker.

Tower
"East Side, West Side," a Fox production featuring Virginia Valli,
George O'Brien and J. Farrell Mc-Donald, will open next Wednesday at the Tower Theatre in conjunction with an entirely new Vitaphone and Maurine program.

The picture is the story of a man's career in New York. It was directed by Allan Dwan from the story by Felix Blumenthal.

MIGHT HAVE BEEN LAWYER
The earliest ambition of Paul Hall, screen juvenile, whose work in recent Hollywood films is gaining him much favorable consideration in the studio, was to have been a lawyer.

But Paul went on the stage before the completion of his law course and motion pictures followed—invariably.

NEW YORK, Nov. 31.—"The Gaucho" opened Monday night at the Liberty Theatre and scored a genuine hit. The response of the audience was enthusiastic and the reviews are uniformly laudatory. A run of at least six months is predicted.

Although the picture is, of course, far more action than its predecessor, Fairbanks' treatment of it is thought to be so skillful that it will not only hold the audience but will make for Broadway success, and this view is substantiated by the fact that the picture has been given every detail of the production, not including the cast, by the Liberty Theatre, and it is thought to be so skillful Ancient Glories Cast in the Shadows for Education and the Students and Artists of America

BY HAZEL MORSE JONES
The advancement of musical education has taken a long stride forward in this country with the three magnificent endowments now being utilized in the East. The development of the arts seems to be on the upward curve in this country, the problem of how to do with them when they are abundant is yet to be solved.

The first great endowment for music was that of $18,000.00 by Mr. Nathaniel Knab of Knab fame which is spent in the Knab Trust, New York City. Its beneficiaries, N. Y. It has brought to this country as Howard Hanson, Eugene Borovitzky and Vladimir Rosing to the Knab Trust, and outside of splendid opportunities for study, it has been used for being a workshop for the Knab composers where their work actually be heard and has secured the first genuine American musical company.

The Juillard Foundation of $18,000.00 has been used for the furtherance of music in America. It is at present used for education entirely. Dr. Joseph Danowich, Ernest Ritschman, John Soderline are now directing the Knab Trust and its influence is being felt.

Famous Los Angeles Singer Comes Back to His Home

Benno Moiseiwitsch, pianist, is to be soloist with the Los Angeles Philharmonic Orchestra, George Schuevog, conductor, Thursday evening and Friday afternoon at the Philharmonic Auditorium.

Benno Moiseiwitsch, pianist, is to be soloist with the Los Angeles Philharmonic Orchestra, George Schuevog, conductor, Thursday evening and Friday afternoon at the Philharmonic Auditorium. Moiseiwitsch began piano lessons when he was 8 years of age; at the age of 10 he was quite a musical phenomenon at school and regarded as the most gifted student at the Warsaw Conservatory. But young Benno was a regular boy and grew up with as much interest in games and playing hockey as in music. Mr. Moiseiwitsch will be remembered as having appeared with the Philharmonic some years ago.

For his appearance with the orchestra, Mr. Moiseiwitsch will play Rachmaninoff—Concerto for Piano, No. 2, in C minor, op. 18.

Other numbers programmed are Prokofiev's Symphony in D major, op. 25, which will be given first hearing in Los Angeles, and Symphony No. 5 in F minor, op. 44, by Tchaikovsky.

VATICAN CHORUS ON TOUR

J. A. Brennan of San Francisco, well known nationally in theatrical and musical circles, announces that the Vatican Chorus, an aggregation of sixty male voices selected from the choir of St. Peter's in the Vatican, the choir of St. John Lateran, the choir of the Vatican Museums, and the choir of the Vatican Apostolic Palace, will visit the Pacific Coast this season.

The May MacDonald Hope concert (May MacDonald Hope, pianist, Xavier Cugat, violinist, and Misha Goggin, cellist) will be held in the music room of the Biltmore Hotel Wednesday evening. This concert will open with the Schubert Trio in B-flat major, commemorating the one hundredth anniversary of the death of Franz Schubert. This is perhaps one of the most popular of his chamber music works, expressing, as it does, the poetry and various moods of sympathy, the beautiful modulation, characteristic of this composer. Mrs. Hope presents Misha Goggin, eminent Russian cellist, as soloist, playing the Variations Symphoniques by Beethoven. Mrs. Hope at the piano. Xavier Cugat will appear at the second concert playing concertos.

A number of friends of Mrs. Hope have expressed a desire to hear a repetition of the Caesar Franck Trio. This composition has been associated with Mrs. Hope in the past years as she was the first to produce it on the Pacific Coast. It is therefore a happy choice for the opening concert of her farewell series.

Students of Miss Ryan's School of Dancing are in demand for club entertainments during the holidays. A special group of professional students were seen at the Pasadena and the Association of Highland Park last Friday evening.

Best Way to Loosen Stubborn Cough

This home-made remedy is a wonder for which results. Easily and cheaply made.

Here is a home-made syrup which millions of people have found to be the most dependable means of breaking up stubborn coughs. It is cheap and simple, but very prompt in action. Under its healing, soothing influence, chest soreness goes, phlegm loosens, breathing becomes easier, tickling in throat stops and you get a good night's restful sleep. The usual throat and chest colds are conquered by it in 24 hours or less. Nothing better for bronchitis, soreness, throat, hoarse, bronchial asthma or winter coughs.

To make this splendid cough syrup, pour 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup and shake thoroughly. If you prefer, use clarified honey, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, you get a full pint—a family supply—of much better cough syrup than you could buy ready-made for three times the money. Keeps perfectly and children love it.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract and palatable guarana, known the world over for its prompt healing effect upon the membranes. To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2 1/2 ounces of Pinex" with directions. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Warren, Ind.

Buffalo Bill, Scout of Scouts—Part XXX.
A Surprise Attack.

by J. CARROLL MANSFIELD

REACHING CLEAR CREEK, THE POSSIBLE LED BY "WILD BILL" HICKOCK SAW PONIES GRAZING ON THE OPPOSITE BANK, A SIGN THAT THE CAMP OF THE INDIANS WAS SOMEWHERE IN THE VICINITY.

SCOUTS THROWN AHEAD LOCATED THE HOSTILE CAMP AND THE WHOLE PARTY MOVED FORWARD TO THE ATTACK. HICKOCK'S PLAN WAS TO WAIT FOR NIGHT, APPROACH THE CAMP BY STEALTH, THEN TO CHARGE THROUGH IT, SHOOTING AND YELLING, AND STAMPEDE THE HORSES.

THE REDSKINS OUTNUMBERED THE INTREPID PLAINSMEN THREE TO ONE, BUT THE UNEXPECTED ATTACK FROM OUT OF THE DARKNESS TERRIFIED THE HOSTILES, AND THEY FLED IN ALL DIRECTIONS.

AFTER THE INDIANS HAD BEEN DRIVEN OFF WITH HEAVY LOSS, THE VICTORS ROUNDED UP A HUNDRED HORSES THAT HAD BEEN STOLEN FROM THE COMPANY. FOR SOME TIME AFTER THIS CLASH, THE STAGE LINE AND THE "PONY EXPRESS" ENJOYED A PERIOD OF PEACE ON THE TRAIL.

ACTOR EXPECTS PSYCHOLOGY TO CHANGE ENTIRE WORLD

Psychology is characterized as the greatest science of the age by Emil Jannings, European actor now working in Hollywood under the banner of Paramount.

"The study of mankind is man," said a sage of the last century. Jannings goes farther and says that the study of mankind holds the future salvation of the race.

"Psychology will take charge of the world and will change history—there's not a shadow of doubt of that," declares the actor.

Engaged in playing the star role in "The Last Command," directed by Josef von Sternberg, Jannings points to the drama of that story as an instance where history might have been changed if the rulers of Russia had understood the science of psychology.

"If the czar's advisers had studied the signs—there would have been no revolution in Russia," declares Jannings. "The time is coming when we shall have such an accurate check upon individuals in nations that mass movements will be accurately understood and gauged long before they materialize. Whether that will be a good or a bad thing, I cannot say. Doubtless it will work both ways.

"Here, in your American schools, the science is already used in the training of children. Even in the kindergarten, the teachers are trained to observe the tendency of the young mind. From their observations, many an interesting forecast is made. The science is in its infancy—but wait! The time is coming when the thing will be understood as well that every criminal instinct will be checked before it has time to grow and when every talent and useful bent will be encouraged and aided from earliest childhood."

ROGERS IS CLARA'S LEAD

that Herbert Brenon wanted him for "Beau Geste" and that James Cruze was equally certain that he couldn't make "Old Ironsides" without him. Both directors—and Buddy, even more so—were doomed to disappointment. The young actor was called to New York to appear at an important press luncheon. When he came back to Hollywood the two pictures already had been cast.

Good things, however, were in store for him. One was a lead in "Wings," the spectacular aviation film which Angelenos will see soon. Another was the hero role opposite no less a star than Mary Pickford in "My Best Girl." A third was the current "Get Your Man," and last but not least came "Abie's Irish Rose."

Because he himself is likable and winning and because, too, the movie gods have smiled upon him with favor, Buddy has formed few dislikes. He speaks well of everyone, embarks upon each new role as a glorious adventure and quite naturally avoids introspection. His acquaintance with the wavy side of life—and this too seems limited to the voyage he took with ten young chaps across the Atlantic.

He was finishing his freshman year at college when the attention came up. It ended with the delivery of some 800 miles—thirty or forty carcases had been dropped overboard on the way—at the port of Tarragona in Spain. The perfection of this accomplishment was marred to some slight degree by the realization that the ship had never been intended for the port of Tarragona in the first place, but the ship had climbed on a sandbar, as ships will, and the rigging side had carried it off that and into the harbor, willy-nilly.

The undisciplined young sailors made themselves into a jazz orchestra with Muddy, their leader, doubling as trombonist and snare drummer—not however, at the same time. After touring Europe the boys came to New York, disbanded, and went to their respective homes.

But Kansas was not the same to Buddy any more, and in 1925 he left it for the Paramount School. Now he belongs to the stage.

spiritedly and their male attendants look like a lot of gay youngsters out for a lark. In other words the company is fresh and lively, interested in the show and as far as possible from the weary type of condescending musical-comedy person that usually lands in Los Angeles after a long tour over the States.

MAKING IT PLAIN
An alienist, walking through the wards of an insane asylum, came across a man who sat in a brown study on a bench.

"How do you do, sir?" said the alienist. "What is your name, may I ask?"

"My name?" replied the man, frowning fiercely. "Why, Mussolini, of course."

"Indeed?" returned the alienist. "At the last time I was here you were Premier Baldwin."

"Yes, yes, of course," said the other quickly, "but that was by my first wife."—[Boston Transcript.]

"The Spotlight" at the Paramount has won excellent reviews. The fact that Paramount filmed the story or before with Elsie Ferguson, David Powell and Marc MacDermott in the roles played by Esther Ralston, Neil Hamilton and Nicholas Soussanin in the present version, occasioned comment at all. Frank Tuttle's direction is highly rated with forgiveness of the lapse from plausibility in Esther Ralston's visit to a public park to feed the swans while attired in a costume that would have drawn a crowd anywhere, and in Central Park would have perhaps caused her arrest for disturbing the public peace.

However, Miss Ralston as a star has been warmly acclaimed for her beauty and excellent, though restrained characterization, while Neil Hamilton is picked out as the fortunate possessor of every qualification that a leading man should have. Nicholas Soussanin in the most interesting role of the three, although he has acquired with his qualification, an uncommon distinction. The picture, chosen to celebrate the Paramount's first birthday, is based upon as a fortunate choice for any exhibitor.

ANOTHER MYSTERY
"The Wizard" at the RKO is reminiscent of "The Gorilla" though lacking the latter's high hilarity. Following close on the heels of the latter, it has perhaps not earned the rating it might otherwise deserve, but it has received favorable reviews.

The same cannot be said of "The Wizard of the Hesperus" which save for its marine scenes is thought to be rather tiresome through no fault of the direction or acting but rather because the story is considered unsuitable to Broadway where Longfellow does not enjoy the appeal of Mill Gross. Fortunately Broadway does not dictate the taste of the millions who make motion pictures profitable to Hollywood.

NEW DOG STAR
"The Thirteenth Hour" at the Capitol is looked upon as giving Napoleon, a new dog star, a fitting introduction. It is distinctly his picture and the others in the cast have carried little weight with it.

Laura La Plante has been praised for her brilliant pantomiming in "Bik Sticks" at the Colony, and Madeleine Bellamy for her delicate touch in "Very Confidential," a picture unworthy of her at the Hippodrome where last night's screening was the last she has been eliminated.

ENGLISH GENTLEMAN

embarrassment when two very practical, unimpressed young men proposed to arrange her marriage in the most revealing manner, that didn't prevent her throwing up her head with a coquettish air when the cameraman said "hold it." "I don't believe my eyes when I see the other young man turn indifferently away and play a jig-saw puzzle! How there were several such scenes during the making of this picture. P. A.'s on the First National lot haven't a vamp to press-agent, Colleen Moore, Billie Dove, Mary Astor, all "sweet," "nice," proper girls. They explained their sad lack to Maria and informed her she was to be the goat. Maria shrugged her lovely shoulders and obeyed—but in our interview she assured me she was a nice, sweet and very proper girl, too, so there. But if the publicity department wanted a wicked vamp to exploit, voila!

Just to prove how nice she really is, Maria talked mostly working hours at least one war story. This seems amazing to most of us, when we consider how tired Great Britain should be of war in any of its phases.

"The answer is an all too simple one. It traces back to America's numerous war pictures. There was 'The Big Parade,' 'What Price Glory,' all big successes in England and all making small fortunes for their managers.

OVERFLOW OF STORIES
"Brighton Beach" the British production have sought to do likewise, and the result is a quickening overflow of all types of war stories."

Miss Beaumont, however, mentioned several British pictures that she considered outstanding among those shown during her stay in London. "The Rink," an Alfred Hitchcock production, and "The Battle of Britain" and the "Faulklands." The latter, a war story, was supervised by the British government and some actual war scenes were used very effectively, according to the actress.

"Mumma," Pauline Frederick's first British starring vehicle, was also released during her visit. "There is such a difference in the motion-picture industry here and in England," Miss Beaumont stated. "Cricklewood, the largest of the British studios, is perhaps the size of two of the stages on the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer lot. I visited the studio at noon. All was quiet with scarcely any evidence of activity. I could not resist comparing it with one of our studios at noon. Everything seems more quietly done over there. However, there is no working against time, no schedules to fill and everyone takes his time.

"It seemed very funny after working in American pictures," she said with a smile, "and I am so glad to be back in Hollywood, there is no place in the world just like it."

Miss Beaumont has appeared in numerous outstanding character roles in American pictures and will soon be seen in an important role in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's "The Crowd." She started work last week on a new production, "Comrades."

THOUGHT SEEMS LIKE MAKE-UP

a year ago to spend his time leisurely visiting the capitals of Europe in the interests of music.

"So many people have commented upon my make-up for the peasant woman," said Miss Ralston. "As a matter of fact, I did not use any at all. It is the thought back of the face—the thought shining through—that makes it appear as though I were make-up."

"I believe implicitly in one's ability to dramatize his thoughts through facial expression without artificial aids. Charles Farrell, for instance, did not put on make-up for his portrayal of Chico in 'Seventh Heaven.' George O'Brien was practically no make-up in 'Bunrue' and I very, very seldom put on any, no matter what sort of a role I am dramatizing."

Miss Ralston has been on the screen nearly three years. In that time she has appeared in ten roles. Her latest is with Tim McCoy in "The Law of the Range," in which she appears as McCoy's mother, first at the age of 24 years and twenty years later.

Riding on Top of Trains No Snap, He Says

It may be fun to steal rides on top of freight trains, but it's dangerous and will put white hairs in any man's head.

That advice comes from Chester Conklin, Paramount comedian, who once took a flyer atop one of those sixty-mile-an-hour express trains running between Omaha and Nashville. He admits that he was out of a job and entirely without funds, so he had to get to Nashville in some manner. He hopped aboard a moving freight and laid down on the roof of one of the cars. The train careened and bumped, nearly throwing him off several times. He hung on for dear life with one hand, as sparks from the engine caught in his hair and clothes, threatening him with extermination. But he made the run and vowed never to do it again.

The adventure was brought to mind when Conklin resumed his railroad during the filming of "Tell It to Sweeney," which is now showing at the Rialto. The Paramount comedy which introduces him with a new comedy team-mate, George Bancroft.

The Sunday School Lesson

FOR DECEMBER 11, 1927

AN ANCIENT TUNNEL'S MYSTERY AND TESTIMONY TO SCRIPTURE

Counselors' Rules—Isaiah xxviii, 5-11; 14-20; xxiii, 33, 38.
The International Sunday-school lesson for December 11 is, "Isaiah"

BY WILLIAM T. ELLIS

A square slab of limestone in the Constantinian Museum makes a good starting point for this lesson. On it is the oldest Hebrew inscription extant. It was actually cut during the dread days when "The Assyrian came down like a wolf on the fold.

His cohorts all gleaming with silver and gold."

Here is a contemporary document dealing with the events of the present lesson; and it is one of the most precious treasures of archaeology, which every visitor to Constantinian should examine, as I have repeatedly done.

For this stone is called "The Siloam Inscription," and it records how the two parties of workmen who were frantically digging Hezekiah's tunnel met underneath the rocks, thus completing the conduit that was to save the city's water supply from capture by Sennacherib. (II Kings 18:17-18.) So jubilant were the workmen over the successful completion of their task that they inscribed the story of their fortunate meeting into the side of the tunnel. The closing lines, translated, are:

"And on the day of the piercing through, the diggers struck pick against pick, one over against the other, and there flowed the water from the source of the pool, twelve hundred cubits; and one hundred cubits was the height of the rock over the heads of the diggers."

A Mystery of Ancient Engineering
Back of this stone, inscribed 2700 years ago, lies a story that increases our sense of the fact-and-logic reality of this lesson, and our respect for the skill of the servants of King Hezekiah. It all arose from the fact that the old Jerusalem, like the present city, had only one living spring of water within its borders, and that really was outside of the old wall, as it is outside of the new. It is now called the Fountain of the Virgin, and it springs from the base of the rock that rises up from the Valley of Kidron, at the southeastern corner of the city.

If the Assyrians besieged Jerusalem, and captured the only water supply, of course the fate of Hezekiah and his people was sealed. As the news of the approach of Sennacherib, Hezekiah ordered concealment of the fountain and the swift building of a tunnel, from the spring to what is now called the Pool of Siloam on the southwest of the city. The distance was 1800 feet, through solid limestone rock. The conduit had to be graded so that the water would flow, and it had to be excavated 150 feet beneath the surface of the rock.

That would be a feat for engineers today, starting from both ends of the tunnel. But here enters an unexplained mystery. The shaft was not driven in a straight line. For some unknown reason—possibly to avoid the tomb of the kings—the tunnel, which is six feet high, was excavated in the form of a letter "S". Nevertheless, the two parties of workmen met in the middle, as the Siloam inscription records. Small wonder that they cut the story of their feat on the wall of the excavation. And to this day the water is flowing through Hezekiah's tunnel, from the Fountain of the Virgin to the Pool of Siloam. Any visitor to Jerusalem who does not mind wet feet may himself go through the tunnel, to learn a lesson in sacred history.

What the Spade Has Proved

concerning the Palestine campaign of Sennacherib. That great invasion which laid waste the land, and was baffled only at the walls of Jerusalem by the resourcefulness and faith of Hezekiah, and by a mysterious interposition of Providence, is related in several Assyrian cuneiform cylinders, preserved in the British Museum.

We thus have Sennacherib's own version of the story—though, like all the ancient monarchs who left boastful records of their reign, he kept silence concerning his defeat. Not until 1886 did archaeology discover confirmation, in the cuneiform tablets, of the Bible's record of the assassination of Sennacherib by his own son. Still more wonderful witness to the truth of the Bible story may be expected, for archaeology was never so active and skillful in Bible lands as today.

As we read these Old Testament records of the affairs of Judah and Israel they seem remote and unreal. Freshen and teachers often present them only for the moral and spiritual lessons which they contain. Yet more than we need humbles, we need facts, boys and girls, men and women, should be made to understand that Bible history is real history; indeed, the best authenticated ancient history that has come down to us. Bible characters were real human beings. Bible places were real places, to which anybody who cares to take the trouble may go today.

A Praying Man Amidst Foes
When the proud Assyrian conqueror attacked Jerusalem, he boastfully defied Jehovah as well as the Jews. The relationship between the two was closer than the arrogant pagan knew. As the message of the Lord which Isaiah returned to the invader expressed it, "Whom hast thou defied and blasphemed? And against whom hast thou exalted thy voice and lifted up thine eyes on high? Even against the Holy One of Israel." As Sennacherib was to learn, it is an awesome thing to fight against God.

Hezekiah was a shrewd statesman, and a skillful warrior, and a genuine reformer; but he was also a praying man of sincere religious faith, who had his trouble before the Lord. And his chief counselor was the Prophet Isaiah, who possessed that spiritual discernment which is the highest form of wisdom. Hezekiah is the statesman who has a true man of God for his counselor.

No timid trimmer was Isaiah, no fear-monger and abject suppliant upon the great. Faith is unafraid. Not and scornful was the taunting reply that this prophet of God returned to the conqueror of the world, even as at the hour encamped outside of the walls of Jerusalem: "Because of thy raging against me, therefore shall I put my hook in thy nose, and my bridle in thy lips, and I will turn thee back by the way by which thou camest."

Startling, sensational, mysterious, overwhelming was the fate of Assyria encamped against Jerusalem—their detestable ranking in the dust with the crowing of the Red Sea. "And the angel of Jehovah went forth, and smote in the camp of the Assyrians a hundred and fourscore and five thousand; and when men arose early in the morning, behold, these were all dead bodies." As Sennacherib's familiar lines tell it:

"The angel of death spread his wings on the blast,
And breathed on the face of the foe as he passed;
And the eyes of the sleepers were closed, and their hearts but once heaved, and forever were still."

FRATERNAL AFFAIRS

STATE SOCIETIES

Dr. George H. MacNeill, president of the New England States Society, is calling all from the six States to rally next Tuesday evening at the Veterans' Hall. Dr. MacNeill has arranged his program along New England lines with vocal solos by Charles S. Lamb, Miss Jessie York will read and Mrs. C. H. Parsons will tell of Thanksgiving Day customs. Community singing of patriotic songs and roll call of the States will be other features. Following the entertainment there will be music for any who care to dance.

The new president of the Texasans want to have all members to meet him next Friday evening at the Payson Hall at 1137 South Hope street. The monthly social with program and dancing will be staged. Col. Frank H. True has planned a program for the Redgers tomorrow evening at the Veterans' Hall. He will welcome resident and visiting Wisconsinites. After the program there will be dancing.

Another happy evening for Jay-hawkers will be conducted Thursday at the Veterans' Hall. Following the entertainment there will be dancing.

Col. F. M. Rublee, president of the Federation of State Societies, is announcing Orta Monette as the speaker for the lunch meeting of the State Society officers and friends. The meeting is on the top floor of the Broadway Department Store in the Garden Cafe tomorrow at noon. There is no charge except the lunch.

Col. A. G. Fonseca is calling the Canadians, resident and visiting, to the big reunion every Wednesday evening at the Hollywood Roof Ballroom, 1549 Vine street. Dancing will be featured.

LOYAL ORDER OF MOOSE

Last Wednesday night Golden State Lodge conducted a meeting with a large attendance. The Christmas concert and program, reported arrangements for a celebration to be given on the 26th inst., when all children will be invited. Santa Claus will remember every child present. The next initiation of candidates will be on the 14th inst. and at that time there will be a lunch served.

The Canadian Tourist Society is entirely met last Friday. Maj. G. H. Schoof, one of the organization's prominent members, arrived from Canada, with Mrs. Schoof, and were given a hearty welcome. The major is a noted provincial mounted police officer. He is to speak at the society's

Final Shots of Rogell Feature Being Filmed

Albert Rogell has put the multiple-reel, "The Shepherd of the Hills," in a machine and has hid himself, with editorial assistants, to Palm Springs, where he will go over the final polishing up of his greatest screen work, the Harold Bell Wright novel. Charles R. Rogers has put his okay on the master print and First National already has set a release date for the special.

Rogell has been working steadily for six years without a real vacation. He had planned to enjoy a fortnight at Palm Springs to enjoy the desert air and its glorious sunsets—but now he will combine rest with the practical pleasure of giving his pet picture its final going-over. Molly O'Day plays the featured role with Alec Francis, John Bole, Mathew Sales and Marian Douglas in prominent roles.

A BOY OF THE OLD FRENCH WEST

By Alice Turner Curtis

A tale of New France in the days of La Salle and Marquette. It tells of the adventures of a boy named Philip, a boy from the settlements, a priest and a woodsman, who go first in a canoe on Lake Superior to a great council of French and Indians and then to a village of the Hurons. Getting into

PHILOSOPHY AND HUMANISM

THE LEGACY OF ISRAEL. Planned by the late Israel Abrams and Edited by Edward Bevan and Charles Singer. Introduction by the Master of Balliol, Oxford University Press, American Branch, New York.

This is a companion volume to those recently published books, "The Legacy of Greece" and "The Legacy of Rome." It deals with the contribution to the sum of human thought from Judaism and from the Jewish view of the world. There are, in all, thirteen essays, the best of which are indicated, written by an equal number of authors.

The first of these articles is sponsored by Sir George Adam Smith and is devoted to the exposition of Hebrew genius as it is exhibited in the Talmudic literature. The second, the song of Deborah and ends with the Book of Job.

A principle of selection is always evident. It is clearly apparent that the Hebrews brought with them from the desert a heroic spirit, a love of rule and order and a religious enthusiasm which would seem to indicate descent from a long line of heroic and righteous ancestry. They also believe that they were favored with the instruction and guidance of a tutelary deity, who had "chosen" them to exemplify a higher ethical standard than had hitherto prevailed.

Perhaps the most important point brought out in the various essays is that this people did not regard their selection or "election" as merely arbitrary or inspired by favoritism, but as the result of their constant effort to live up to the highest they knew. "No other nation of the world," says Smith, "has so explicitly declared man's own responsibility for his religious inspiration and for his service to right living, nor has bequeathed to us so many examples of this."

The article on "Hellenistic Judaism" by Edwin Bevan is surprisingly interesting where all are interesting. The work is beautiful and abundantly illustrated, is thoroughly indexed and has a complete glossary.

TOWARDS THE OPEN. A preface to Scientific Humanism. By Henry Chester. Tracy. Introduction by Julian Huxley. A. P. Dutton & Co., New York.

"The Open" means to this author an emergence from the jungle of semibarbarism, through which we are now hacking and hewing our darkened way, into the daylight certainties of a true civilization.

Henry Chester Tracy is by profession a biologist whose chosen branch of science informs him what the human organism does and what it signifies. Personal investigation has convinced him that only those individual organisms are "significant" which can contribute to the illumination of a world in which there are persons as well as events. Scientific Humanism, he believes, is the promotion of human welfare by the application to the conduct of affairs of such scientific knowledge as we possess.

Thus, the biologist feels himself called upon to consider the problem of training the young in such a manner as to produce from the mass as many "significant persons" as possible.

Democracy, which is at once a philosophy and a religion, is that every sane individual is potentially significant and becomes practically so by the life-long search for knowledge and also habitually endeavors to "obey his nobler impulses."

But this naive conception of the whole duty of man falls far short of the author's requirements. To him only that person is significant who, by his own efforts, has made a contribution to the world.

MAN OF ACTION
by Phillips Russell

"Even better than Benjamin Franklin
—a great biography."

Publishers New York

LITERARY GOSSIP

It is a very human English poet who is presented in George Cowling's "Chaucer," one of E. P. Dutton's publications. Mr. Cowling describes him as looking "passive, worldly-wise and rather aloof; but one can easily see in fancy the grave eyes light up with a witty twinkle and the rather heavy and drooping mouth curl into a smile. He is shown and this is perhaps the most interesting thread running through the whole of this scholarly study as possessed of a curious power of living simultaneously in the two worlds—the world of the flesh and the world of the spirit."

The late Sir Walter Raleigh was one of the many noted English scholars with whom Walter Edwin Peck worked during the period when he was gathering material for his monumental two-volume study, "Shelley: His Life and Work," just published by Houghton Mifflin Company. On one occasion Sir Walter wrote to Mr. Peck as follows, expressing himself on the subject of rhetoric: "Mind you don't write any professional English, the garbage of words that conceals lack of thought. The development of the poet's individuality constitutes a subject of profound interest and that sort of thing. Write for Oxford cammen—in that way you will say more in less space. In most of the American university books I can't see the fish for the weeds." That Prof. Peck profited by this excellent advice is the clear, readable, straightforward style in which his long-awaited biography of Shelley is written. "Shelley" will be reviewed on this page this month.

Burns Keatts, professional theatergoer, has the group of "best plays" for the 1927-28 edition of his annual. The volume not only gives a panoramic view of the season in New York, Chicago and California, but contains also a very illuminating discussion of the Little Theater, and some entertaining biographical data concerning prominent players. The selection of plays for this year includes "Broadway," "The Constant Wife," "The Road to Rome," "The Play's the Thing," "The Silver Cord," "The Grudge Song," "Daisy Mayma," "In Abraham's Bosom."

KING EDWARD VII
A Biography by Sir Sidney Lee

THIS is volume two of Sir Sidney Lee's interesting study of King Edward VII, the first volume of which was published last year. Here the period covered is King Edward's reign from 1901 to 1910, when his influence in world affairs was greatest. Written at the special request of King George V, the whole work contains important material to which the author was given access.

Of the first volume The Atlantic Monthly said: "A great subject greatly handled, one of the most valuable and illuminating of the many admirable biographies... since Macaulay's 'Gladstone'." The second also merits that praise.

THE FROWZY IN A

by PAUL JOHNSON

Book of American Literature, edited by Van Wyck Brooks, Alfred A. Knopf, New York.

Paul Johnson, New York.

According to a preliminary note this book is a yearbook conducted by a group of writers in the interests of a new American literature. That it was so conducted is not surprising, for I read the thing, and the book is another of the many that show the way in art and letters.

It is a very cleverly done. A number of well-known writers of the new American literature have put their heads together and produced a gallant effort. The result is much the same as a yearbook of the prep school, but it is a yearbook of the new American literature.

As a book it is the best of the kind, but it is not a book of the kind. It is a book of the kind, but it is not a book of the kind.

BIG BOOKS FOR LITTLE PEOPLE

Stories and Poems, Riddles and Useful Information Are Happily Compressed Within the Covers of These Anthologies for Boys and Girls.

JOHN MARTIN'S BIG BOOK FOR LITTLE PEOPLE. D. Appleton & Co., New York. This is number eleven of the John Martin Big Books, which are treasured by all children. The book is so small that it can be carried in a pocket, and it is printed in two colors on tough paper, with illustrations on every page. Its contents include songs, fables, puzzles, games, jingles, fairy tales, nature and history stories and directions for making and doing all sorts of things. It is suited for boys and girls from six to sixteen.

NUMBER FIVE JOY STREET. D. Appleton & Co., New York. This is, as the title page states, a model of prose and verse for boys and girls, one that many a child has learned to look forward to with a genuine thrill.

SOME OF THE CONTRIBUTORS TO THIS number are Walter de la Mare, Compton Mackenzie, Rose Fyleman, Lord Dunsany, Roy McElmurn, Eleanor Farjeon, Algernon Blackwood, Elinor Bell and Valery Carrick.

The illustrations in color and black and white are a feature.

THE CHILDREN'S PLAY BOOK. Edited by Stephen Spender. D. Appleton & Co., New York. A potpourri of stories, mostly old and well proven, with poems, riddles and other material designed to help the child enjoy as well as improve each shining hour.

THE BOY SCOUTS YEAR BOOK. Edited by Franklin K. Mathews. D. Appleton & Co., New York. If good boys need a book, neither does a good juvenile annual such as "The Boy Scouts Year Book" need a rival.

It is, perhaps, sufficient to say that the 1927 volume is devoted to sports, to games and to camping. The editor has selected the best articles and stories on these topics, written by the authors who know how to please boys and has arranged them in an attractive and generally illustrated volume, with the jolliest slip cover you ever saw.

Drawn by James Montgomery for "Drake's Quest."

DRAKE ON THE SPANISH MAIN

Had Sir Francis Drake died while he was still a young man, he would have been remembered today not as England's greatest and best-loved sea hero, but as one of the most adventurous and daring buccanniers of the sixteenth century.

This is a new light thrown on the life of the great English admiral by Captain Rogers, author of "The Magnificent Drake" and "Col. Bob Ingersoll" in his first book for boys, "Drake's Quest," which was published November 4 by Doubleday, Page & Co.

Before he wrote his new book Mr. Rogers poured over many records and histories of the Elizabethan period relating to the robust and busy career of Drake. From the vast amount of material he wrote a vivid and authentic story of the stirring events in the life of "El Drake." After his months of study, Mr. Rogers sent his manuscript to the publisher with the statement that it was "purely factual" and that all of the incidents and dates were unimpeachable.

"Drake's Quest" begins not with the infancy of the West India, but with his first independent command when as a lad of 22 he followed his great kinsman, John Hawkins, across the Atlantic to the West Indies.

This is the beginning of his quest—a quest for gold and more gold for the great Queen Bess. He listens to words of caution from his bluff kinsman, "Kill me no Spaniards now, as there be reason, slaughter me no papists. Look to it, boy, and that narrow."

From this time on while he terrorizes the Spanish Main, circumnavigates the globe, shatters the invincible Armada, reaps the favors of royalty and the adulation of the English people, until his last voyage, when, conquered by disease, he is buried off Nombre de Dios, the scene of his first great victory, the career of "El Drake" is one of the most dramatic in history.
